We were pleased to have a fraternal call Saturday, Aug. 7th, from Eddy of the Walkerton Telescope and his father, Mr. W. Eddy, editor of the St. Mary's Journal. With Mrs. Eddy and children they were taking an outing over to Eugenia Falls. Next year Lorne steps into the Presidency of the Canadian Press Association, that has membership of over 500, and we are confident he will do honor to himself and the position.

Harvester Pleased with our Band
Durham Band played a return concert in Hanover on the Show Grounds there last Friday evening, and the citizens present were very favorably impressed with the quality of music rendered by the Durham organization. Harvester has always had a good band, and some expressed the opinion that Durham was now equally proficient. There was a good crowd present, but more were over Wednesday night, when they expected the band was coming through some misunderstanding, as it was the weekly concert night here.

Review is Welcome Visitor
In renewing his subscription to Review, Dr. J. A. Conroy, of Manapalio, Ind., an old friend of our boys, comments: "Your ever welcome weekly keeps the old haunts and names fresh in my memory. I may add that I join my good friend Dr. McNeill of Chicago in warmly extending hearty congratulations to our esteemed friend, John McDonald, who so ably and so faithfully edits the Pricerville and South column. May he long continue to wield his nimble and newy quill. The Hoosier Canadian Club is still on the job in this city. We thank Dr. Conroy for good wishes."

Wicks is Arrested
After deserting the girl Schrieber in Arthur, after he had procured the $2000 she had stolen from her foster-father in Normanby, the crook found his way to Niagara Falls, Ont. Here he was surrounded himself with luxuries, bought a car for $1050.00 and was buying traveller's cheques, planning for a good time. The long arm of the law however, caught him here, he was arrested with $1000 of the money on him, and will likely stand trial later at Owen Sound. The Sun Times says he had two new club bags, all sorts of toilet accessories, face creams, perfumes, etc. two new suits of clothes and cameras in his room. The way of the transgressor is hard in the end.

Successful in Library Work
Miss Rosalie A. Brooker, a former resident of Durham, and graduate of the High School here, through faithful study and love of the work, has won an enviable place in Library circles in Cleveland, Ohio. Always of a literary nature, she has acquired a vast knowledge of bookdom and now as well, gives "talks" three times a week to prospective library assistants. In a letter, not intended for publication, we call the following, and know the writer will forgive us for so doing, for it is only another case where Durham in interested in hearing of the success of her ex-residents: "I had charge of the Entertainment Club of our Library Players, a staff organization that meant engaging several big affairs during the winter. Also I started giving book talks twice a month at my branch, reviewing and quoting from some outstanding book or a group of books each time, which is fascinating work but it eats into time rapidly."

We congratulate Miss Elizabeth Murdoch who taught near Wingham, on the successful of her one Entrance when she took up duties at pupil. When she was in Jr. IV. She projected him to Sr. IV after Easter and the fact that he passed after only 2 1/2 months in the class is a tribute to her ability and thoroughness as teacher. She received a testimonial from the lad's parents. She leaves for Normal School in September.

Durham Ladies' Bowling Team
The Durham Ladies' Bowling Club bid fair to out rival that of the men's organization in that sport, and it is only a matter of a few weeks before they will be challenging the men on the local green to test them out. The ladies' membership now numbers about 20 and each Monday, Wednesday and Friday afternoons, are to be seen groups of ladies on the sward putting balls where they should not. As sometimes happen, rather try or do not spoil the enthusiasm and social side of the game for on Wednesday last, a pleasant social hour was held after play when light refreshments were served all. The ladies' committee have planned to arrange a ladies' tournament later in the season comprised of local teams, and another season may see them branch out to try conclusions with other towns. For the local tournament Mr. J. H. Harding has kindly donated a silver cup to the ladies and this will give further zest to the play.

STAMP TAX CHANGES OPERATIVE AUGUST 1

The first of the changes in the stamp taxes made by the recent budget, becomes operative on August 1. One dollar will be the maximum on checks, bills of exchange, and receipts for money paid to a person by a bank, chargeable against a deposit to his credit, express money orders, travellers' cheques and post office orders. After October 1st postage stamps may not be used in payment of stamp taxes for revenue purposes. Excise stamps only may be used. The receipt tax makes taxable receipts for $10 or upwards on post cards, form letters and ordinary letters, and this is effective on August 1st. Another amendment provides that a receipt liable to a tax, shall not, except in criminal proceedings, be given in evidence, or be available for any purpose unless it is duly stamped. The new sales tax will become effective on January 1st.

I. O. O. F. Decoration Service

Sunday last a crowd estimated at nearly 400 spectators assembled at Durham cemetery to witness or take part in the Odeffollows' commemorative ceremony of honoring the memory of deceased brethren, of whom there are ten, a surprisingly low number, seeing the lodge has been going since before 1876.

The ten are with year of death: John Moodie 1876; John McLean 1881; Harry Kress 1878; Jas. McFarlane 1887; Ben Warner 1905; Dan Campbell 1906; Geo. Wilson 1909; Wm. Fairman 1917; Arthur K. Smith 1918; John H. Rose 1921.

A printed program of the day's exercises was handed around to the visitors, when the brethren of the local lodge to the number of 40 or 50, along with a few brethren from Mt. Forest and Walkerton, had assembled under the canopy of the eastern gate, all in the regalia of the order. Noble Grand Peter Ramage had charge of the announcements, the first number being the singing of the well-known psalm "The Lord is my Shepherd." This was followed by Rev. W. H. Smith, in a comprehensive and admirable prayer, in which thanks were given for the friendships of earth and heaven.

Following this the Noble Grand and a number of the brethren, principally Past Grands of the lodge, took up the ten baskets and in procession proceeded to the eight graves in that cemetery (and later to Trinity Church cemetery where two of the deceased are buried), hanging the baskets of pretty flowers on the iron supports over the graves.

This over, the service under the pines was resumed, the hymn "O God our help in ages past" being sung with feeling. Rev. Mr. Smith then read Scripture, Romans, chap. 12, finely appropriate to the occasion the brethren were engaged in.

This was followed by a chief feature of the day, the address by the new Methodist pastor, Rev. E. P. Ferguson, M. A. We regret we cannot give it verbatim for it would make excellent reading. He opened with commendation of their actions that day, reminding them that "others will do the same service for you." We are appreciating the services of the departed, their work is done and it was our duty to serve our generation, individually as well as collectively. He stressed the value of individualistic service; we must protect ourselves as well as ourselves. The world was once the cradle of a pistol in Austria in 1914 brought on the world war. Service was the first division of his address, but he reminded them that sacrifice was also necessary. "These two administered in Love, was the duty incumbent on all."

The interdependence of the human family was strikingly illustrated by the figure of a plant, root stem, branches, leaves, flower, fruit, from necessary to make a perfect whole. The whole address left a splendid impression.

"Abide with me," Lyte's fine hymn, was sung, following which the "Odeffollows' Address" was given by Mr. E. D. McClellan. No better choice could have been made to give this. It was eloquent in expression and finely delivered. He reminded them that though surrounded with tokens of mortality, the sentiment of address, however did not allow even death to cut off the memory of the deceased. Death comes to all and "Life so short and death so sure," it behooved every one to walk circumspectly and extend the helping hand at every opportunity.

The Doxology and benediction by Rev. Mr. Peters closed a chaste and pleasing service eminently fitted to the day and the place. Quite a number of the visitors present brought flowers to place on the graves, in line with the larger decoration.

Varney Garden Party

No better night than Tuesday could have been desired for the Ladies' Aid Garden Party at Varney. It was fine and warm and G. M. Leeson's spacious driveway, where it was held, was brilliantly illuminated by Smith's electric lighting plant, and alive with humanity. Cars closely parked, lined both sides of the lane and refreshment tables, booths and bazaars were stationed near the home. Opening the night's amusement was a baseball game between Varney and Durham. Less than three innings had been played when it was stopped with Varney leading, but in even innings—at end of 2nd—Durham was ahead in runs. The pastor, Rev. Mr. West made a capital chairman, also giving an excellent address. He had a fund of stories to draw from. Other fine addresses were made by Rev. J. E. Peters of Durham Methodist Church, and Rev. H. Hill of Illinois, who is visiting near Varney. The latter also excelled in two well rendered recitations. A scarf drill by Varney girls was a pretty evolution. The musical side of the program was equally good. There was two fine quartets by the Bell family—Misses Jessie and Mary. Thos. and George; a duet by the two girls, duets by Misses Esther McComb and Beulah Stonehouse, solos by Mr. W. Benson of Durham and Miss Winnie Blyth, mouth organ selections by Clifford Taylor, and the opening number was a chorus by Varney choir.

The young people remained some time after the program was concluded and indulged in games and singing. The proceeds at rate were $76; with booth receipts as well, the Ladies' Aid should have a handsome balance clear.

Sad Death of Daughter of Former Dromore Pastor

Rev. and Mrs. D. L. Campbell of Brantford and for many years, the devoted pastor of Amos Church, Dromore, and Knox Ch., Normanby, have the warm sympathy of their many old friends and parishioners in this district, in the great loss they have sustained in the death of their eldest daughter Winnie, which took place at Oliphant Beach, near Warton, on Saturday evening, July 28th.

Heart trouble is believed to have been the cause of death. The two girls, Winnie and Florence, with their parents, were bathing in the waters of Lonely and Snake House Islands, when suddenly a cry of help was heard from Florence, who had stepped into deep water in the channel. Her father and mother and Winnie managed to extricate her and after her parents had calmed her, they looked round for Winnie, only to see her standing in the water in a helpless condition. She passed away before help could be summoned. It is thought the great shock of seeing her sister in imminent danger of drowning brought a fatal attack of heart trouble.

A funeral service was conducted at the Campbell cottage at 7 o'clock Sunday night previous to forwarding the body in the early morning train to Brantford, where interment was made in Parkington cemetery there. Besides her parents and sister Florence, she is survived by one brother Murray, a student at the Dental College, Toronto, and another sister Jean. Rev. Mr. Campbell has been pastor of Fairton Street Presbyterian Ch. for several years and the deceased daughter has been a teacher in Ryerson street school in that city for the past four years. They have made their home at Oliphant during the summer months for the past 15 years.

The late Mrs. A. Ireland

The funeral of the late Mrs. Andrew Ireland took place at Wroxeter on Sunday, July 29th, from the home of Mr. John Adams, a nephew of Mr. Ireland. The Rev. Ferguson officiated and a great many sympathizing friends and former neighbors followed the remains to the cemetery.

Mrs. Ireland, whose death from burns, was sorrowfully recorded last week, was born in Aberdeen, Scotland. At the age of six she crossed the Atlantic with her parents, Thos. and Margaret Heaslip Smith. They settled on a bush farm in Morris Township in Huron County, and there she was married to Andrew Ireland, a son of married in the home of her life long characteristic. She helped to clear the land, logging with oxen, and doing with all her might what her hand found to do. Through girlhood and almost through her widowhood she was a devoted mother of her strength to field and garden and the farm animals were fortunate that came under her care.

Forty seven years ago she was married to Andrew Ireland and went to live in Mowick Township till they came to Bentick Tp. three years ago, where she was joined by Mr. Thos. Smith of Wroxeter, came to Durham to the company the remains on the journey to Wroxeter cemetery, the afflicted husband, daughters and son-in-law going by motor. Among those who knew her, one hears constantly of kindly deeds to needy and sick people. "Mrs. Ireland was a good friend to me," one hears again and again. Seldom did she leave her home except to visit those in trouble, and to those she went and worked with willing hands where help was needed. Enduring the cruel pain of her burns, she tried to make light of it for her husband's sake, and found comfort in repeating "The Lord is my Shepherd." It is to be hoped that many friends will be found ready to offer kindness to the husband, bereaved in his old age, and troubled in the loss of the home to which his blindness had become familiar.

We welcome the new comers and hope our old neighbors will find a location near by.

The Late Wm. Carradice

William Carradice passed away quietly at the home of his sister, Mrs. Donald Campbell, on Friday, July 27. A service was conducted at the home by Rev's Cameron and Smith on Sunday evening and on Monday morning the remains were taken by train to Milton for interment.

Except for the past few years spent in Durham, the deceased lived all his life on the farm in Nassagawaya. His grandparents, David and Jane Elliot Carradice, natives of Roxboroughshire landed at Toronto, when Toronto consisted of one house. With them they brought their family of nine children among them their son David, a young man of twenty two who became a man on the lake boats while three of his brothers were captives.

David Carradice later settled on a farm on what is now known as the Carradice Mountain, a farm of 200 acres of "forest primeval", pine, cedar and maple. Here he cut the first tree and in the clearing his wife Margaret, of Chatham, planted the seeds of an apple and so started the first apple orchard of the district. Of their family of eleven, the subject of this sketch remained with his parents on the homestead till after their death and until 1919, when he came to live with his sister, who is now the only surviving member of the family.

In the autumn of 1920 he was seized by a stroke of paralysis from which he has since been comparatively helpless. During his long illness he was tenderly cared for by his sister and her daughter, Mrs. Mills, both of whom accompanied the remains on the journey to their resting place in the burial ground of their forefathers.

Of gentle, pleasant disposition, Mr. Carradice bore patiently the weakness and affliction of his last years and as in life he had been peaceable and kind, his death came like sleep and he rests in peace.

The Renovated Cemetery

To a large number of the hundreds who attended the Oddfellows' Decoration Services on Sunday last, the renovated cemetery must have come as a delightful surprise. The old mounds are gone, so are the weeds and thistles, there is almost a total absence of leaning stones and altogether there is a pleasing beauty about it which gratifies everyone who takes an interest in the "city of the dead." Besides it is not yet at its best and another year when a few best spots have a grassy cast, its beauty will be further enhanced.

The credit for this great improvement is largely due Mr. A. A. Cattan, who had the vision splendid of what a cemetery should look like. We are sure all those who contributed cash or gratis labor will feel rewarded. Another worker to whom credit is justly given is W. S. Hunter, who has done much to aid in securing funds for the undertaking. No doubt there are others entitled to credit, and we hope the efforts of all the workers will be backed up by a generous community.

Two other names come to mind as we think of this cemetery, of men now deceased, who took a leading part in its foundation and progress; these are Dr. Jas. Gan and Mr. J. P. Telford. The former was a leader in securing the ground and establishing it, and we believe his son William was the first to be buried in it, about the year 1888. To the latter is largely due the fountain and rockery, pipes and other shade trees and the bringing of water from the town springs. Messrs C. L. Grant and J. J. Smith were other men who took thought of and did work for the cemetery and who no doubt are pleased to see the present progress.
