With the Press Party to the Maritime Provinces

In Fair Prince Edward Island

On the morning of Friday, June 22nd, we were in "The Garden of the Gulf"—Prince Edward Island, and of which no Province in Canada is better...

Visiting Fox Farms

Cases were in readiness to take the Press party from Borden to Summerside, and as might mention here that no one could welcome more warmly the people of Prince Edward Island. Even along the country roads through which we passed, bunting and flags were displayed and the towns and villages were a riot of color...

Summerside

By noon we were due in Summerside, the home of the Past President of the Association, Mr. A. R. Brennan, Editor of the Summerside Journal...

After a drive through the town, were taken to the Britannia Club Rooms where luncheon was served. On entering we were greeted by Sandy McGregor, the famous Scotch comedian...

A happy note was struck at this luncheon when a verse composed by Mr. Hugh Savage of the Cowichan Leader, Vancouver Island, was sung...

It's O.T.R. long steel trail has brought us Unto fair Prince Edward's Isle Where the Percherons are perching...

Charlottetown

After luncheon we entrained on the Narrow Gauge Railway for Charlottetown. Here cars were again in waiting to take us to the Parliament Buildings to receive our Provincial and Civic welcome...

During the speaking a young black fox was let loose on one of the long tables and caused much amusement to the onlookers—but not to the fox, for he didn't know where to turn.

Also at this luncheon a new note was struck when J. LeRoy Holman, proprietor of the Dominion of Canada store on the Island, introduced the idea to the Press of having a national Memorial Flag for Canada and which he would like to see adopted as a memorial to the fallen Canadian soldier...

Charlottetown

The Buildings are full of interest for it was here the most important Conference was held leading to the Confederation of the Provinces and the formation of the Dominion of Canada. In the room where the Conference was held, is placed a tablet to the memory of the Confederation fathers who built "better than they knew" a Canada that has stayed intact under the framing of their 1867 policy...

Our stay in Charlottetown was shortened by the fact that we were piloted out to Mr. J. W. Bombou's home, an old Durham boy, and referred to in a previous issue. But it was sufficient to impress us that it is a city of beautiful boulevards, trees and shrubbery. It is well laid out and the streets are of a generous width, with an abundance of shade trees...

At our banquet assured in a large Soldiers' Convalescent Home in that city, we were again offered our welcome and altogether our visit to the city left nothing but pleasant impressions of its people and their kindly hospitality. A Highland Pipe Band was in attendance and saw to it that we had plenty of the real thing in music. Ontario has no monopoly of pipe music.

Charmed as we were with the Island, our time table was as firm as the laws of the Medes and Persians, and could not be changed. The same Narrow Gauge Railway took us back to Borden where the transfer of our train was again made by ferry back to Cape Tormentine, New Brunswick, and thus back to the main land again. It is nine miles across the Northumberland Straits from the nearest points in N. Brunswick and Prince Edward Island.

Two trips were necessary to take the entire train back to Tormentine. The majority of the passengers remained up to inspect the ship and it was a surprise to find we were on a huge craft that was fitted with all the luxury of an ocean liner. Genial Capt. Reed entertained his guests personally and gave them free access to all parts of the ship.

A special Confederation issue of the Summerside Journal was presented to each and every member of the party and is a credit to the Publishers. It is replete with past and present history of the Island, which is now 50 years a member of the Canadian family of Confederated Provinces. An editorial in this issue sums up the characteristics of the Island so well, that we much prefer putting it in their words:

"Prince Edward Island has neither extreme wealth or extreme poverty. There is good living here for every man who will work, and while in some respects it does not offer some of the advantages of the larger provinces, neither does it have the disadvantages. It is just a place that is richly blessed by Nature: a place where all men are equals and superficial pride is forgotten: a place that offers contentment and peace to those who seek these blessings."

In one more issue we will conclude our series of talks on our Maritime trip, which took us along the eastern and northern shore of New Brunswick into old Quebec. This will be given next week.
