He was fishing in a branch of the Saugeen river, near Dundalk, when he got the mink on his hook. He endeavored to take the animal alive, and in the operation of trying to get it off the hook, was badly bitten. Hanover—Durham won from Hespeler
In Hespeler last Saturday, the Hanover—Durham Junior lacrosse team defeated Hespeler 9 goals to 6 in the first semi-final game, and are almost certain to capture their home game in Hanover Thursday afternoon and with it the round. Quite a number from town purpose attending the game. Ab. Kress played goal, E. Schutz and Royden Burnett defence the whole game while Irving Elvidge, Martin Lauder, Bill Vollett and "Red" Rowe played on the home, being sometimes subbed, so Durham had a big share of the victory. Schutz, Elvidge and Rowe are said to have been the stars of the game. Hespeler is reported to be protesting the game, claiming Boettger is over age.

Durham Welcomes Visiting Bowlers
Lawn bowlers have taken Durham by storm today. It is their day in town and the third annual tournament of the Durham Club is in full swing. About 30 visiting rinks are expected to participate in the competition and added to the 10 rinks of local players, there are easily 150 keen-eyed bowlers trundling the ovals beside the skating rink.

Bowlers are first of all sportsmen, and their game is a sporting game. The majority of players are business men and bowling is their play and exercise. Prizes and trophies are hung up for competition, but the material things are a small consideration in comparison to their love of the sport. There is a vim, sincerity and earnestness in their play, witnessed in few other kinds of sports. Durham extends a hearty welcome to her visitors and hopes they may have a most successful meeting.

The Hahn trophy is the first trophy up for competition. Then comes the Association event and for all rinks losing their first two games, a special prize is open for competition. The draw was made about nine o'clock and bowling was under way by 9.30. Individual prizes are also given winning rinks. With the new lawn added 12 greens are in play simultaneously and if there is any overflow, they will be accommodated on Mr Calder's lawn. Considering the newness of the added green the sward is in excellent shape.

Died in Toronto
MRS. A. C. SCARR

As a result of sunstroke and advancing years, Mrs. A. C. Scarr of Toronto, mother of Mrs. E. A. Hay of Durham, passed away on Wednesday, in her 86th year. Mrs. Scarr has resided in Durham on several occasions with her daughter here, her last being for a few months last fall, and thus became known to many here, who valued her friendship highly, outside of her family circle.

Her husband died seven years ago, and five daughters remain to mourn her loss: Mrs. Medill and Mrs. Henrickson of Colorado; Mrs. Fisher and Mrs. McRae of Toronto; Mrs. Hay, of Durham. A brother died only a week ago, and another brother, Mr. Frank Mitchell, Insp. of Schools for Lanark Co. is the only relative of her generation surviving. The deceased lady was an earnest member of the Presbyterian church and interment will take place Friday afternoon at Hariston cemetery.

A Trip to the War Zone and to Bonnie Scotland

By Cameron R. McIntosh

The people of Dornoch and vicinity and a few from Durham and other points had a treat on Friday evening last when Mr. Cameron McIntosh gave a synopsis of his trip to Europe with the Press Party in Dornoch Presbyterian church. Pastor Sillars presided and after the presentation of some interesting stereopticon views of Scottish buildings, scenery, etc., and vocal selections by the Misses Sillars, and Peter Ramage and violin selections by E. Leuck and son, the lecturer of the evening was fittingly introduced.

Mr. McIntosh was on his native heath, felt more at home in that church than in any other spot in Canada, and he gave a reminiscent view of early experiences in the place of his birth. He was among people "who knew him all through" and the knowledge of this gave him pleasure and courage.

Such a tour as the Weekly Newspaper men had was calculated to draw the Empire closer and was a justification of the government for spending money to aid in a Daily Newspaper tour. Greece and Rome had different ideals, but they passed off the map, the ideals of the British Empire tended to make it enduring.

He spoke of the difficulty of making Canada united separated as it was by 800 miles of rock and sloughs. He stressed the idea that all should stand for union that the future might see a greater Canada.

He paid compliments to Montreal, the capital of Canadian industry and Canada's great seaport. Past historic Quebec through the immense Gulf of St. Lawrence into the ocean and he pictured the beauty of rolling ocean waves in a storm. Passed the Seilly Islands and landing first at Cherbourg in France.

From there to Southampton, near which was the scene of King Canute's lesson to his courtiers, when the sea rolled in on his mightiness. From here they went to Antwerp and witnessed the busy harbor floating ships from every country in the world. He made reference to the great work little Belgium had done in the war, a lesson for Canada, with resources far exceeding Belgium. On to Malines, Rheims, with its grand Cathedral and in passing paid tribute to Cardinal Marler and bracketed him with King Albert as the inspirers of their people.

They visited of course, the field of Waterloo with its great memorial mound, an epoch making event, though insignificant when compared with the late war. A trip to Liege gave a chance to extol their heroic defence early in the war, where 550 Belgians died, but held the enemy back. On to Lille and he told how wonderfully the traces of the war were being covered up. They felt the lack of time to see all the battlefields, but one they must see was Vimy Ridge, at which they spent most time. This with St. Julien, Courcellette and Passchendaele was forever associated with the heroism of Canadian boys.

The cemeteries made them feel they were on sacred ground and brought vividly to their mind the oft-quoted saying that it was "up to us to see that they did not die in vain." The Government purpose to erect memorials on five battle grounds where Canadians distinguished themselves.

Arras and Paris were passed in review, then on to London, whose population of 7,500,000 made traffic control a great problem. The two-decked buses and other devices to regulate traffic was set forth and of course the glories and the stories of the Tower, Westminster Abbey, St. Pauls, etc., were vividly sketched.

Then to Wembley Exhibition, where the Canadian section was admitted on all hands to be the best of the overseas efforts. It was going to be of benefit to Canada by showing her possibilities.

Then they were taken to see the navy. "There was what saved Britain" he asserted and made the winning of the war possible. A more peaceful sight was the Shakespeare home and surroundings, to Torquay, where they boarded a battleship, to Liverpool, to Edinburgh, then separating himself from the party, went on to Dornoch where his ancestors came from. Who but can understand his statement, that he would have considered his trip a failure if he had not visited this spot? Hundreds of acres of the best forests are now cut down. He gave a description of Dornoch, this month holding their 700th anniversary. He attended a church there, dwelt on the beautiful heather hills and told a pathetic story of the expulsion of the Crofters over 100 years ago. Descendants of Crofters are to get back some of their old homes. Some are now living on the spot from which their grandfather was evicted. "From these rugged shores came the men who made Canada."

He roused the Scottish spirit by memories of Wallace and Bruce, gloried that the Highlands were never conquered and came south again to the Burns country paying the poet a warm tribute for his service to humanity.

All through the lecture there were "asides" to inculcate patriotism, to rouse youth to higher thoughts, and in closing he expanded on this feature. He paid tribute to the men who built the British Empire and loyally he said, Canada had been foremost. "We built this country as a contribution to the Empire. Canada is giving ideas to Australia, New Zealand, S. Africa, Ireland: the League of Nations is built on a Canadian pattern: we have gone forward, we dare not turn back."

Warm tribute was paid the lecturer by the audience and "God Save the King" was loyally sung.

Double Postponement
Rain and unsuitable weather conditions have resulted in the indefinite postponement of the Anglican church garden party. It was first billed for Friday night last at the home of Mr. A. Crutchley, north of town, but Jupiter Pluvius left his calling card that evening, and the event was then advertised for Monday. A heavy shower, late in the afternoon on Monday and cool weather again, caused disappointment. Considerable loss has been entailed in securing supplies and eatables.

Durham Man Almost Lost Life in the Atlantic
Walkerton Passenger tells of Close Call of Thos. Henderson

Visiting among old friends and relatives in Bonnie Scotland, Mr. Thos. Henderson, baker, and two children, are enjoying every moment of their sojourn abroad. As it is 18 years since Mr. Henderson left his native land, he is naturally enthused and delighted at re-visiting the scenes of boyhood days. A letter Mrs. Henderson received this week tells of seeing his mother and brothers in Dundee, visiting his elder brother at Montrose and also staying at Mrs. Henderson's old home town, Arbroath. Mr. Henderson is planning to visit Elgin, Nairn and Inverness and other northern points before returning late in September.

The voyage across the Atlantic was an extremely rough passage and according to Mr. Frank Weaver, organist, of Walkerton, and a fellow passenger, Mr. Henderson was within an ace of losing his life by being swept off the deck. Mr. Weaver's story is that the boat, when midway in the ocean, got into a nasty spot known as "Devil's Hollow" and for many hours was buffeted about in the deep. A huge wave which washed over the deck, caught Henderson and swept him off his feet and was carrying him into the sea when he grabbed hold of a rail and hung on until rescued. Seeing that they nearly had a tragedy on their hands, the ship's management ordered all passengers off the deck for two days while the sea was running high.

Conservative Picnic at Eugenia
On Thursday afternoon next, Aug. 21st, Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, leader of the Opposition at Ottawa, will address the people of Georgian Bay district at Eugenia Falls Park. There was much controversial legislation last session at Ottawa, and it is anticipated Mr. Meighen will discuss many subjects of interest. Hon. Geo. S. Henry and others are also billed to speak. Band music, community singing and a base ball game will round out the program. This is a basket lunch picnic with no additional charge. Hot water, tea and milk will be available without cost.

Varney Garden Party Was Successful Event
There was a splendid crowd and a good time for all at Varney Garden Party last Thursday night, held on the grounds of G. M. Leeson. The grounds were well lighted by Delco electric system. The program was in the hands of the pastor, Rev. L. E. West, and while not lengthy, was bright. Among the numbers given were selections by Varney choir, solos by Miss Gussie McAllister, solos by Misses Katie Kerr and Winnie Blyth and a duet by Misses Florence and Jeanette Kerr, addressed by the chairman and violin instrumental by Miss Ada Brown. Over $72 was taken in at the gate.

55 Mills is Durham's Tax Rate for 1924

After an hour and a half serious deliberation Monday night, Durham Council, with all members present, decided to levy a 55 mill tax rate for 1924, which is 13 more than last year, and 9 above the previous high water mark in Durham. Durham is, however a low assessed town, and 55 mills here is equal to 40 or 45 in many other towns.

Reeve Calder, Chairman of the Finance Com., had with the assistance of other members of the Council, carefully estimated the probable expenses for the balance of 1924 and for 1925 and pruned them as low as possible.

Deducting an estimate of the probable receipts, the town was at present over $12,000 short of what should now be available, and to wipe out our present current indebtedness, and carry on next year, a larger rate would be necessary. Last year the rate was struck several mills too low, and for some three or four years it has been barely high enough to cover all liabilities.

The Council rightly decided that it was now up to the town to face the situation, and shoulder as high a rate as possible to improve our financial condition. Accordingly 55 mills was agreed upon, being made up as follows:

County Rate ..... 6 7-10 mills
Sidewalk ..... 4-10 mills
Public Library ..... 1 5-10 mills
Town by-laws ..... 5 7-10 mills
Town guaranteed by-laws (Jackson and Clark Metals) ..... 4 ..... mills
Public School ..... 14 5-10 mills
High School ..... 8 3-10 mills
General Town Rate ..... 13 9-10 mills

55 mills
Part of the increased rate is owing to higher High Sch. estimates, which has increased the rate from 4-10 to 8-3-10 mills, over 3 mills. The big climb was made in the general town rate which last year was 5-6-10 mills and is now over 8 mills higher.

Re Jackson Building
The lease of this factory and equipment to J. H. Harding at $25 per month was again under discussion. We were in error last week in stating no rent had been paid, as $23 in accounts for work done had been applied by the town towards this rent. Coun. McDonald, Chairman of the Property Com., reported having interviewed the lessee, who had used it for manufacturing only two months after the Council got possession. He was willing to settle for $25 for these months and pay $5 a month storage since that time, which said Coun. McDonald, is about all Council could expect, since the most important machine had been sold last fall, and the motor had also been removed. With his last account passed, Mr. Harding has now over $130 applied towards rent. If above rate is agreed upon, regarding which the Council was divided, rent is now largely paid, but the Property Com. was left to make a settlement.

Another Engine Firm
Mr. Carmichael, representing the Lorne Engine Co., Tilsonburg, addressed the Council regarding their chemical engine, which he would sell on very favorable terms to place in this district. Specifications of exactly what is required will be submitted to his and other firms, and the best tender will be accepted.

Boyce-Fiddis Nuptials
A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. Russel Fiddis, Chesley, on Wednesday, Aug. 6th, at 12 o'clock, Rev. Major Graham officiating, when Miss Eva Victoria, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Fiddis, became the bride of William Edgar Boyce, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Boyce of Mulock. Miss Bertha Fiddis played Lohengrin's Wedding March. The bride, who was given away by her brother, Mr. Alfred Fiddis, looked charming in a gown of white silk crepe with tulle veil, arranged under a bandeau of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of bridal roses and wore the gift of the groom, a rope of pearls.

During the signing of the register, Miss Elsie Boyce sang "O Perfect Love." A wedding luncheon was then served after which the happy couple left for points east, the bride traveling in a navy blue suit with sand hat and choker. On their return they will reside on the groom's farm at Mulock.

The Fall Term in Mount Forest Business College opens on Tuesday, September 2nd.
