STORIES OF WELL KNOWN PEOPLE

A Patriarchal Archbishop.

His Grace the Most Reverend Samuel Pritchard Matheson, D.D., D.C.L. Lord Archbishop of Rupert's Land. and Metropolitan, Primate of Canada, Primate of All Canada, to give his full title to the executive head of the Church of England in Canada, is a man who, by his great administrative ability, his profound learning, his remarkable personality, and his many years of faithful ministry, has won the confidence of every party within his communion, and the respect of all outside with whom he has come into con-

In the discharge of his duties, the archbishop has come into many interesting situations, about which some of the best stories are told by his groce himself. An Arrested Arrest. Mr. J. H. Thomas, whose recent illhealth gave cause for anxiety, which, happily, has now been removed, is a most popular man, and even when he has appeared to be siding against the community, as a strike leader, he has never lacked genuine friends. The other day he recalled an amusing incident which happened during the railway strike of 1918.

After the settlement, a Cabinet Minister said to him:

"Do you know that a serious discussion took place as to whether you should be arrested or not?" J. H. T. smiled, and asked another Minister, a few days later, why he had

More interest in the study of musical instruments by boys and girls-the introduction of music into the schools-the inauguration of music memory contests-the adoption of music into modern industrial life as a means of speeding up production and creating a better spirit amongst the employees-the growth of choirs, orchestras, bands and other musical organizations-these are but a few of the symptoms of a wider interest displayed in music generally by mankind. Here in Canada, the growth has more than kept pace with that set by other countries. Indeed Canada is now regarded as one of the most musical countries in the world. Her choral organizations have won renown in various other countries; her conservatories are most up-to-date; she has blazed a new trail along the lines of community singing-and now she is showing what music can do to stimulate interest in national fairs, exhibi-

For the past few years the Canadian National Exhibition has set aside one day known as Music Day. Since this step was taken, attendance figures have been soaring higher and higher. Other Fair boards who are looking for new and potent features for their exhibitions, are following Toronto's example.

Surely no greater tribute to the power of music could be cited than the interest which music is stimulating at these various Fairs, which yearly draw together men and women of every class, of every creed, of every nationality. Natural enough, too. For music, after all, is the only international language known, isn't it?
