OVER 11/2 MILLIONS

Directors and patrons of the Canadian National Exhibition are rejoic ing at their success of 1924. They aimed at a million and a half of at tendance and actually secured 19,000 Saturday night. Most visitors think years, but are not so ready to say Grand Stand. "Marching On" was distinctly a military spectacle and though one of the legends displayed the flashlight was "Defence, not Defiance," the pictures and the performance showed all the glories of war in enticing form without of course

With Toronto Show out of the way. London and a few others wound up. everybody now waits for Durham Fall Exhibition. The dates are Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 30th and Oct. 1st. Intending exhibitors should, if they have not already done so, secure a Prize Lise from Sec'y Geo. Binnie, and in the entry form provided begin to fill in the classes they intend to appear in. It would save the Secretary an immense amount of bother it entries could be made early. However he is not grumbling. Plan for entries and plenty of them. Everyone will hope that the weather man will smile on us this year and with the careful and extensive preparations made by the Directors, 1924 Show should be a record breaker-if good weather prevails. Little or nothing can be accomplished without some trouble and we hope the large farming community of which Durham is the centre will go to a little trouble and loyally support their own show by making entries and attending with their families on Oct.

THE VILLAGE BLACKSMITH

(1924 Model)

The village blacksmith stands;

He hasn't shod a horse for years,

He wears a gold watch on his wris

There's not a thing the smithy wear

Week in, week out, from morn till

With brakes that are not working right

He's agent for the Jinx machine

For fear he'd soil his hands.

His links are made of amethyst,

That doesn't please the eye.

And several other brands,

Under an ad, for gasoline

A pearl pin in his tie.

The finest he could buy,

He sees the autos come

And axles on the bum.

He makes a tidy sum.

He has a staff of skillful men

Who toil from six a. m. till ten

The smithy never does a stroke-

He thinks that work's a bore.

The children coming home from school

And laugh to see some city fool

When called to pay some whopping

The smith has soaked him for.

His mind quite free from cares.

Because his men are hard at work

And if the weather's fine and warm

The smith says grateful prayers.

Onward through life he goes,

So long as his income grows.

Augments his sweet repose.

Each night the thought of someone

He goes on Sunday to the kirk

With punctures and repairs.

Oiling-refilling-repairing,

And never once despairing

That number twenty-four,

And sometimes even more,

Look in at the open door,

Set up an awful roar
