PRICEVILLE & GLENELG

It is said that a prophet has no honor in his own country and among his own people. In a like manner a correspondent's writings may be the same, while to those far away it may be as good news from a foreign country. It is a hard matter to please everybody when often a person cannot please himself. In this world it is only prosperity with some individuals while it is adversity with others. Some may have all their harvest in and threshed, while others may have it all in the fields awaiting the turn of the tide for good weather to have the fields deprived of their contents by being placed under shelter. By patience and perseverance and trusting in the Giver of all Good, everybody may be rewarded by having good weather to finish harvesting.

We were reading Hector McKinnon's letters in the Globe giving a glowing account of the crops in general in Western Canada. Hector can be relied on as giving the correct information as near as possible. And Priceville can feel proud of having such an able writer to the Globe. The readers always appreciate of dealing with all matters relating to the welfare of the farming community and other matters coming under his duties as a faithful correspondent.

Saturday night was cold and chilly. We didn't get up early enough to see any frost but it might be there all the same.

Sunday is supposed to be a day of rest, not as idlers sitting at ease in a rocking chair, but by obeying the command to go and hear the message delivered by the faithful servants in the different places of worship all over the universe. To many it is a day of pleasure, going in their fast conveyance to visit some place of curiosity or distant friends. Many years ago the harvest weather was late and disagreeable but on Sundays it was generally fine, tempting the harvester to hitch up and draw in the grain which was in good order. One man down the country worked hard all day on Sunday, himself and hired man, and finished about dark. While sitting at ease a flash of lightning came and struck the barn, setting it on fire, and burning building and contents, while the workers narrowly escaped. This shows that the Author of all things had His way of dealing with those disobeying His command. Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it holy," etc.

But the Sabbath is dishonored in many unnecessary ways besides hauling in grain. We heard a good churchman tell long ago he could not go to church on Sunday because he did not get shaved on Saturday. Churchmen are not so particular nowadays as they were long ago about shaving on Sunday. The vote on Prohibition is nearing and it is getting time to consider how to vote—whether we want whiskey in abundance free to all to partake of, or be content by drinking of the cool drink of Adam's ale. What will be the result if Prohibition is defeated and a superabundance of strong drink as in days of yore, is returned? How are those that get it under the present Prohibition Act going to fare when they get it fearless of being taxed some hundreds of dollars for this offence? A—Then let well enough alone and vote for dry weather to take up potatoes and roots of all kinds. No necessity of voting with the 'wets' on the 23rd October for in general the cry with the farmer is to have it dry as the land.

We saw some one writing on how to treat those dull of hearing. He says not to speak too loud or too fast, or putting as it were a few words together by saying "howareyou", all in one string, but rather say it by saying "how are you." The former method is aggravating to the persons talking and listening. It is no trouble to talk to some people who talk slowly and plain either on phone or in person.

Monday morning, 8th Sept., 1924. The firmament is not very promising looking as it is all covered with clouds. Everybody had his grain to haul in busy forenoon stowing it away in their barns.

We were looking at the corn patch to see the effects of Saturday night's frost. While the corn was scorched badly the potatoes are not affected.

69 years ago to-day Sebastopol was taken but to look back it doesn't look so far away. Glenelg was all stumps then, no reapers, no binders, no horse rakes, very few wagons, no buggies or wooden sleighs, no potato bugs, no autos, no steam thrashing outfits and what not—everybody young and handy.

We congratulate S. S. No. 10, Glenelg Top Cliffe, by having the prospects in a few years of having the school register enlarged, as we see two youngsters arrived lately, males at that, in good time to assist finishing the harvest. To Mr and Mrs Alex Stonehouse, D. Road, Glenelg, a son: to Mrs Smith, nee Miss McEachern, S. Line, Glenelg, also a son. We wish these mothers and sons much happiness in future years.

Some will remember a Frenchman in Priceville over 60 years ago, named Cyrell Vaudner. He was married three times and the three wives died. Some person was condoling with him on his loss "Yes," he said, "I can get 'em as fast as I can kill 'em." There are many in this world who may be as unfortunate as this old Frenchman whom we remember well as being an honest good fellow, though jokingly made such expressions. We hope he didn't get the fourth one or such person might be numbered with the women who had the seven brothers and all died before her, and she died also. So did this good old Frenchman.

SWINTON PARK

There are two subjects uppermost at present—the weather which is very disappointing and the crops which are very fair. If only the clouds would blow away and the sun would shine. Some are done cutting others barely started and a great deal of green grain yet in the country which promises well if suitable weather for maturing and harvesting comes along.

This Monday was the day of Proton Township school fair, held at Ventry school. A great many children were disappointed on account of the wet afternoon. However our teacher, Miss McHugh, and a few of the children were there and captured a share of the prizes. Misses Isabel and Beatrice McMillan were successful in several classes. Congratulations girls, and we hope for a better day next year. Considering the weather, the exhibits were numerous and good, also a fair turn out of people. The show was held in the school basement, and though somewhat crowded was nevertheless enjoyed.

On Tuesday last the Richardson's of this place attended the funeral of Mr Hugh Phillips, aged 82 years. He was a brother of Mrs Richardson, Sr. and uncle of W. A. and J. H. Richardson, also of Mrs Jane Knox of Ceylon. These, along with Mrs Runciman of Proton, another sister of deceased, motored to Lucknow for the funeral, returning the same evening. We extend sympathy to all, especially the aged sisters in their bereavement.

Rev. Mr. Sutherland each Sunday, gives a talk to the girls and boys. During the past four Sundays he has used a key: the first was called the "Good Morning Key", telling all to get up early and in good humor, with a happy "Good Morning" for every one, thus making a right start for the day and to follow it up through life. The second was the "If you please" key and fittingly illustrated and explained the proper way to ask favors of parents, brothers and sisters, playmates and any others whom they might meet. The third key was the "Thank you" key, showing gratitude for all good things bestowed. The fourth key was "I beg your pardon" or "excuse me" key, being ready and willing to acknowledge all errors and wrong doing and to ask forgiveness of those whom we have injured. Mr. Sutherland did not stop with the use of the keys alone in this world, but gave full directions for their use in a higher sphere. Next Sunday he will use another key which will be the best of the series and the boys and girls are this week wondering what that key will be. Not only the children are wondering, but the older ones as well.

With McKenzie King in Wiarion

A happy little incident occurred on the evening of the day Premier McKenzie King was in Wiarion. After dinner he strolled over to the Baptist Parsonage to meet Rev. and Mrs McAlpine there. The Baptist minister is a nephew of the late Hon. Alexander McKenzie, a former Liberal Prime Minister of Canada, and while in that town took occasion to meet the relative of one of his illustrious predecessors. Mr McAlpine has in his possession some of his late uncle's furniture, bric-a-brac and books, and these Mr King was quite interested in examining. Mr McKenzie never had any family and in the course of time his effects have passed into the possession of his relatives, and of course are highly prized on account of their historical interest. Before leaving, Mr McAlpine presented the Premier with two beautifully bound volumes of "The History of Canada" containing the autograph of Alexander McKenzie, Ottawa, therein. These Mr. King accepted with pleasure and carried them off to Ottawa with him, where they will add to the interest of his own library. The little incident added to the happiness of the visit to Wiarion, as well as affording some pleasure to Mr and Mrs McAlpine.

IN DAYS OF YORE

15 YEARS AGO

From Review file of Sept. 9, 1909

On Tuesday last, Sept. 7th, a pretty ceremony took place in the Presbyterian church, when Mr John Burgess of Glenelg and Miss Susanna, only daughter of Mr and Mrs Allan McKinnon, were made man and wife. Rev. Dr Farquharson was the clergyman. The groom was supported by Mr. T. Elwin of Toronto while Miss Leah McComb did a similar service for the bride.

On Monday, the 6th inst., Mr Frank Clemas of London, led to the altar Miss Nellie Watt of Durham. The groom spent about two years in the Chronicle where acquaintance ripened into love.

Principal Allan has a large class of students here for Model School training, there being over 50, and from many sections of the province.

The noted case of the Crown against Angus McKelvey, a well known citizen of New Liskeard, charged with the bribery of John Piche to induce him to leave the country and not give evidence in the suit brought by the Attorney General of Ontario against the Hudson Bay and Temiskaming Mining Company, affecting the title of that Company, was heard to-day by Judge Leask and resulted in Mr McKelvey being found not guilty.

Mr Jos. A. Snell, brother of Mr. John Snell of Durham, has been appointed to the Principalship of Prince Albert High School at a salary of $1900 per year.

25 YEARS AGO

From Review file of Sept. 7, 1899

At a congregational meeting of the Presbyterian body on the 4th inst., Rev Wm Farquharson, Claude, received a call to the work here. Four other candidates were in the field and on the first ballot, Mr. F. almost tied all the others. On the second ballot he had a large majority of the votes cast and by a standing vote his election was made unanimous. The congregation will likely feel warranted in making the call $1000 there being no manse to offer.

Miss Hattie Moffat, daughter of Mr and Mrs Thos. Moffat, is a recent graduate of the Ontario School of Pedagogy at Hamilton, and has accepted the position of Principal of Palmerston Public School.

Mr Lauder Munro and Miss Mabel Sappenfield were married in Omaha, Neb., August 9th. The groom, who is a son of Mr J. A. Munro of town, is city salesman for the Omaha Compressed Yeast Co. there.

Mr Archie Galbraith left here yesterday for Bonner's Ferry, Idaho, U. S., where he purposes following dentistry. For nearly three years Archie has been engaged teaching in S. S. No 10, Bentinck where he made many friends. On Wednesday night in the Presbyterian church, Durham, he was given a farewell evening when a presentation of a purse of money and a Presbyterian Book of Praise was made.

Mr N. J. McArthur, winner of the O. Sound Colleague medal in sports, and also winner of the Oratory contest at Toronto University in 1894, and general all-round athlete and orator of the State Normal School in Minnesota, is at present in town renewing old acquaintances around the scenes of early boyhood.

Last Saturday it was freely given out on the streets that J. J. Smith was to be our next postmaster. Married, at the residence of the bride's father, on Aug. 30, 1899, by the Rev F. Ryan, B. D., Mr William Crawford Sharp of Durham, to Miss Clara Hannah Jane Dunsmoor of the Township of Bentinck.

Died, in Durham, Sept. 1st, Archibald McKenzie, for many years Postmaster of the Town of Durham.

Died, in Bentinck, on Sept. 1st, by drowning, Walter Webber, aged 15 years.

A rich American has agreed to contribute $1000 yearly to the upkeep of "Uncle" Jack Miner's bird sanctuary at Kingsville, Ont.
