UNION OR DISUNION

There must have been many on Sunday morning last who wished there had been someone on hand to take up the cudgels for Union at the conclusion of Rev. H. R. Horne's address. From his point of view we may admit it was fairly presented, but we will take the liberty of presenting a few points, which might well be taken exception to. For instance when he gracefully assured his Methodist brethren of his good will and that his opposition to Union did not spring from dislike to them, the assurance would have come with greater force if he had condemned many scurrilous things said by fellow anti-unionists about that church, of which he could not fail to know, one even going so far as to refer to it as an "apostate church" and using other opprobrious epithets totally undeserved.

Again his interpretation of the clause in the Saviour's prayer "that they all may be one." (John 17:23) will not be generally accepted and if we will give consideration to the last clause of the verse he will see that more is meant than simply oneness of spirit. He was praying for unity "that the world may believe that thou hast sent me." One of the damaging facts in the Protestant world is the multiplying of divisions that exist, and if these divisions could be eliminated, there can be no doubt that the "world" would much more readily believe "that thou hast sent me." The divisions referred to have often been sneered at by the "world" in civilized countries and have been a hampering restraint in Mission work in foreign fields as many missionaries can testify.

His great aversion seems to be the General Assembly, the highest court of the Presbyterian church, which he seems to regard as a coercive body, acting with a kind of evil intent to deprive us of some "rights our fathers fought for," in any case that it had no power to destroy the church! This body as is well known, is composed of representative ministers and laymen. Its personnel changes every year and it surely cannot be that the various yearly groups of ministers and elders have conspired to fasten on the church this union idea! To think so is absurd. The Assembly is thoroughly representative of the church and we believe it will be found when the voting is over that the result will show an approximation to the Assembly vote of over 4 to 1. The Assembly is composed of our spiritual leaders and to flout them as many are doing prompts us to ask in the words of scripture "if the foundations be destroyed, what can the righteous do?" There is nothing in the basis, nor in the words or actions of prominent Union men to justify the prediction that the United Church will be automatic. If anything, we believe it will be more democratic than is now the case.

The "Call" Explained In regard to the "Call" He admits that any pastoral charge may extend a call, but that the Settlement Com. has the right of appointment. Not many Presbyterians would object to some change in the manner of "calling" a minister as at present it exists. Not seldom there is humiliation about it—especially for the minister. Now it surely may be assumed that the Settlement Com. would have sense enough to be guided by the call, exactly as the Presbytery does now. No Settlement Com. would court trouble by making an appointment not agreeable to the congregation.

In closing it is well to remember that a vote against Union is an injury to our Durham church and tends to hinder her from sharing in the successes that are bound to follow the grandest Union that has ever taken place in church circles.

Church Union

As it Appears to Rev. H. R. Horne

The Presbyterian Church Sunday morning last was well-filled to listen to Rev. H. R. Horne, a retired minister of Toronto, expound the anti-union side of the great question now stirring Presbyterian churches, viz: shall each individual congregation follow its church into the Union to be constituted on June 10th next; or shall such congregation vote not to follow the Presbyterian church into the Union decided on last June by a vote of 426 ministers and elders for and 96 ministers and elders against.

Rev. Mr. Horne is a good speaker and fluently presented his case. He opened by expressing his pleasure at presenting the biggest question that had ever before the church for solution. He gave assurance that he had nothing but the highest regard for his Methodist brethren, and that no antipathy to them moved him to oppose union with them.

With courage he selected a text from John 17: 21 "That they all may be one as Thou Father art in me" from which he found proof, he said, that "it was not the will of God that there should be one organized church in the world." Christ's famous prayer, "He that is not against us is for us." He briefly outlined the various stages that had led up to this last "stage of strife." It was a great idea he admitted, but not practical. He pointed out that in the early stages the Union was talked of and supported only if it had the practically unanimous consent of the whole church. At first it was urged that economy in men and money would follow Union, now there were different views and the principle of compulsion was substituted. He had nothing to say of the "Enabling Bill," which he considered the first mistake as taking power from the people, and assuming that when the "Assembly speaks the church speaks" and this he did not believe. The church, he asserted, was created before the Assembly and thought the idea that the Assembly was representative of the church, would lead us to find that "the rights our fathers fought for was gone forever."

So embittered was he over this phase that he said "the Assembly has no power to destroy the church." The first church was a "company of one mind and there were added to the church daily such as should be saved." Early officials were simply a committee of the church, the church still remained "the company of them that believe." Bank mergers he used as an illustration, pointing out that they could not be completed before consulting with the stockholders, implying that the church or the Assembly had not consulted the people.

He quoted figures of previous votes, and then proceeded to deal with questions of property, which he claims were "high-handedly" being taken possession of. The Ontario Legislature would not give them—the Unionists—the power they wanted, and all property was held under the Provincial Act. Even the sanction they got from the Dominion Parliament was different from the one they asked for.

Summing up he said they began with economy and ended with the coercive stage. The latter was sent out by the Unionists, was he alleged, a fine example of what literature ought not to be. He blamed as one of the worst features of the Basis, the taking of certain words and giving them new meanings.

The General Council he found to be an autocratic body, and criticized its constitution though he admitted he had made but "a hurried reading" of it. An example of the people's power was shown in the recent O. T. A. vote. There were two types of churches: the autocratic, governed by a single head or group, and the democratic kind where all power is in the hands of the people, the implication being that the coming United Church would belong to the former kind.

LIBERALS MEET IN TORONTO

The great Liberal gathering in Toronto a few days ago was a notable event. No fewer than eight Cabinet ministers took the platform with Premier McKenzie King, and the speeches made, especially that of La Pointe and the Premier roused the great audience to fever heat. Signs abound of an awakening in Liberal ranks, that will at next election, not much more than a year off, give the Government an increased majority. Some are optimistic enough to think that even "Tory" Toronto will return some Liberals next time! Sir Wilfrid Laurier used to remark that they gave him their cheers and the other follow their votes.

TEN OF FOURTEEN BRUCE MINISTERS UNIONISTS

When Church Union comes into effect on June 10, 1925, ten of fourteen ministers in the Presbyterian Church intend going into the United Church, and they have declared their intention thus: "We, the undersigned ministers of the Presbytery of Bruce, do hereby signify our intention of keeping our connection with the historic Presbyterian church of Canada. We wish to go forward with her in this spiritual enterprise, and to share in her ministry; and as leaders in our several congregations, we believe it right and helpful that we should make known our intentions now." The declaration has been signed by the nine following ministers and supported by one who for personal reasons, has not signed as yet: W. H. Burgess, H. D. McCuaig, S. G. Steele, G. J. MacKay, A. Graham, D. H. Gallagher, W. M. Lee, W. E. Wallace, C. C. Strachan.

MULOCK

Mr. Duncan McKinnon received a sad telegram last week that his brother, Mr. Donald McKinnon had died in St. Paul's hospital, Vancouver, after an illness of three weeks at the age of 42 years. His death removes a member of one of the most highly respected families of Bentinck Tp.

He served with distinction overseas and survived the hardships of military life but his health was undermined and as a result of his trying experiences, he passed away as stated above. The sympathy of the community goes out to the relatives of this brave soldier who was not afraid to answer the call of his country. There are left to mourn his loss four brothers and three sisters, Allan, John and Angus of the West, Duncan and Mrs. Jas. McDougall of Bentinck, on the old homestead, and Mrs. Andrew Milne of Brant Tp. and Mrs. Maggie Johnson of Chilliwick, B. C. His brave deeds shall ever be remembered for he suffered that we might live in peace and safety. Soldier rest, thy warfare o'er. Dream of fighting fields no more: And while you sleep a peaceful sleep Your memory we shall always keep.

Mrs. Malcolm McLean (nee Sarah McDonald) and little daughter, Edna Florence, of Gull Lake, Sask., are visiting the former's mother, Mrs. H. McDonald and brothers and sister here. Her many friends are pleased to welcome her home. We are pleased to report that little Franklin Mack is recovering nicely from an attack of scarlet fever. The annual meeting of Bentinck Baptist church was held Friday afternoon. The affairs of the church showed themselves to be in a satisfactory condition. After the business part of the program was finished, a pleasant time was spent socially. His many friends in this community will regret to hear that Mr. Anthony Past is in delicate health and has found it necessary to enter Christ St. Hospital, Toronto. It is hoped that he will respond to the treatment he will receive there and come back sustained to health.

EDGE HILL

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Brown of Egremont spent the first of the week with Mr. and Mrs. J. McNally. Misses Marjorie Pickering and Bessie Smith of Durham, spent the week with their friend, Miss Marjorie Ritchie.

A Debate was held in the school house on Friday night. The subject was that "The steam engine has done more for the country than the printing press." Misses Marjorie Ritchie and Glennie Firth upheld the affirmative side and Misses Reta Glenross and Margaret Anderson the negative side. The judges who were Miss A. McKechnie, Joe Davidson and Cecil Moffat, decided in favor of the affirmative. After this a lengthy program was put on by the married women and proved very entertaining. The next debate will be held at the school on Jan. 23rd, when Ceylon will debate against Edge Hill.

IN MEMORIAM

McANULTY—In loving memory of dear mother, Sarah Ellen McAnulty, who died Jan. 13, 1923. No one knows the heartache mother. Only those who have lost can tell. But the ones who miss you most. Are the ones who loved you well. Sadly missed by husband and family.

HAMPDEN

Last Friday night all roads led to Ebenezer School where the annual banquet of the Allan Park U.F.O. was held. The moon shone its brightest, the weather was perfect and a good so a large crowd turned out. Supper was served from six o'clock before all was done justice to. After supper all repaired to the schoolroom where a varied and lengthy program was disposed of. Mr. John Whiteford was chairman and he kept the audience in a happy mood. Mr. John Aitkens was also in his usual happy way and gave several of his taking and Scotch songs. The Rocky orchestra was present and delighted all by a couple of pieces. Mr. Fritz Smith of Allan Park gave a recitation, "Looking for a wife," which was heartily enjoyed. Several dialogues were recited, followed by songs and choruses, the evening wore things do. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to the ladies of Ebenezer for the part they presided over. Miss Jessie Derby of Niagara is at present staying at the 'old home' and tasting of our winter's depth of snow and zero weather.

Misses Agnes and Evelyn McLean took advantage of the sunny day and visited Egremont friends Friday last. Misses Harriet and Jean and Maester Douglas Anderson of London are with their grandmother here and attending school. Mr. and Mrs. Aler McLean and daughters spent an enjoyable evening Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Willis, Sr., Allan Park. We are boasting of the number of radio fans we have in our community. Mr. Michael Burns had his installed a white set and is sharing up with his neighbors. Mr. E. Geddes had the poles and wire all ready for his radio set when it arrives from Pittsburgh.

Our annual church meeting is to be held Thursday evening of this week. Tea is to be served after the business part is over.

NORTH BENTINCK

It is with deepest regret that we mention this week the death of Mr. John McDonald, Sr. of this burg. Deceased has been in poor health since last spring but was always able to be about until Monday last when he took seriously ill and on Wednesday was taken to Durham hospital, undergoing an operation for inward trouble. All that medical aid and tender care could do was done but he passed away Friday morning. The deceased was in his 70th year and was a kind and obliging neighbor. He leaves as chief mourners the sorrowing widow, also two sons, John and William and one daughter, Mae, all of whom are at home. Interment took place to Durham cemetery Monday. The community extend their deepest sympathy to the family in their sad bereavement.

ABERDEEN

The death of Mr. John McDonald took place in Durham Red Cross hospital Friday morning, Jan. 9th. Deceased was in his 70th year and had lived most of his life on the home farm at Aberdeen. Deceased has been ailing for some time but the end came rather suddenly, as he was able to be out on Monday. On Monday night however, he became worse and was taken to the hospital Wednesday where he underwent an operation. Mrs. McDonald and son John went with him and stayed by till the end Friday morning. They with his daughter May and son William, all at home, are chief mourners. The funeral took place Monday to Durham cemetery and was largely attended. The service was conducted by his pastor, Rev. Mr. Sillars, of Dornoch. We wish to extend our sympathy to Mrs. McDonald and family.

DORNOCH

We hope 'Dowes', the weather man's predictions will come true this time as we need a little change off from the stormy weather we have had continuously the past few days. It has given us great hopes at least that fine weather must be near at hand. The Women's Institute will be held at the home of Miss M. McIntosh, on the 14th inst. when we would like to see as many as possible get out and make the meeting more interesting than it has been. We hope there will be printed programs for the coming year. The Dow Mission Band was held in the basement of the church last Saturday when quite a number were present. We hope the New Year will increase our memberships as there are quite a number of children who never attend. Will the parents kindly see that they attend as this is the first step for children to take in training their lives for mission work. Mrs. John Heft entertained a number of her friends on Saturday evening.

The U. F. O. Club held their annual banquet in the school Friday evening. The night was fine, the roads good, so a large crowd turned out. Supper was served from six o'clock before all was done justice to. After supper all repaired to the schoolroom where a varied and lengthy program was disposed of. Mr. John Whiteford was chairman and he kept the audience in a happy mood. Mr. John Aitkens was also in his usual happy way and gave several of his taking and Scotch songs. The snow is still piling up, scarcely a day passing that more is not added to the already bountiful supply. Mrs. D. Wilkie's two daughters, Mrs. A. Jordan and children and Miss Cassie, are both enjoying the balmy breezes of Florida at present. The U.F.W.O. met at the cosy home of Mrs. Thos. Milligan last Friday. There was a splendid attendance. One new member joined at this meeting. The meeting was opened in the usual way by the President and the usual routine of business transacted. Mrs. Jas Ewen gave a humorous recitation which was enjoyed by those present. The main feature of the meeting was Mrs. R. Lawson's report as delegate to the Convention in Toronto which had many helpful suggestions for the Club. A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Lawson at the close of the meeting, after which lunch was served. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. D. McArthur.
