Give a dog a bad name and it sticks to him. February has had a bad name for many a year. But this has been an exceptionally fine month which also helps out Mr Bowesin his predictions.

Today Mr and Mrs Jas Young and family are moving away from this locality. Just 5 years ago they came here from Peel Co. in the vicinity of Brampton, and are again moving back to nearly the same place. They will be sadly missed here where they have made friends, being of a kind and helpful disposition. The sons and daughters, coming here boys and girls, are going away young men and women. The neighborhood turned out en masse last Friday evening and

PRICEVILLE & GLENELG

Sunday is a long day at home to person who is in the habit of spending it attending church service. The sweet notes of the church bell make them feel lonesome, for it reminds them of their once habitual manner of obeying the sweet tones as reminding all at a distance of some miles, to be getting ready at the hour of nine o'clock. We see the middle aged mothers and fathers adorning themselves in their best apparel and taking the conveyance the Creator prepared for them from the day of their birth. We see them now going hand and foot, keeping step with one another. One may be a few feet ahead of the other, but both arrive at the house of prayer in good time to take their seat in one of the old fashioned pews of that far away date. The spiritual adviser has put in an appearance and is cheered by seeing the auld kirk well filled with eager listeners. When the good servant commences, perhaps it is in the old language the Gaelic, that takes the lead and as the preacher announces the old Psalm "Bha do bhri orna thra thubark lad gu tigh. The theid sin suans, etc., or "I joyed when to the House of God, go up they said to me. No organ, no book of praise, the leader sung to the tune of old "Martyrdom" and whether it was sung correctly by note or not, it made no difference to the many aged musicians present as their voices echoed to the walls of the old church.

The preacher gave out his text in the old language "uluach th fein o isreal gus colnheal thoirid du dhia" or "Prepare to meet thy God O Israel." The preacher pointed out the necessary preparation to be made by the person going on the long journey and laying stress on the necessity of making preparation for the long journey that the traveller never returns from.

We deviate now and give something of the manner in which the winter months were spent by the young folks of 50 or 60 years ago. Many will remember the late Adam Cranston, who was a good musician, chiefly in the "sol fa" notation. He kept singing classes in 4 different places during the winter season at S.S. No. 1, Glenelg; S.S. No. 10, Glenelg and twice at Priceville. Whether we were males or females it didn't matter for all attended and sometimes defying the snow drifts for to get to classes it was some times necessary to wade through depths of snow.

Many of these brave sons and daughters of the old pioneers who cheerfully attended these special classes, have passed away many years ago and their sweet voices heard in the musical class in different places here, is an indication that they are now members of the sweet choir where no music teacher is required. The good old Mr Cranston passed away only a few years ago, aged 88 years.

We may make mention of some of those extra good singers and good voices. They were Miss Dorothy McIntyre, daughter of the late Rev. Robt. McIntyre and Miss Jessie Black of Bunnessan and Miss Elizabeth Binnie (Mrs. McGirr). The first two have passed away many years ago but the then Miss Binnie is yet hale and hearty and can keep up the good old voice as good as she could at that far away time 50 years ago.

Now we have dancing and playing cards and it would be a good subject to debate upon, which was more harmful. We don't mean to say the latter is much harm either. We heard a young lady who indulged in both, say that when she was dancing her mind was absorbed on performing her part as well as possible, but when playing cards she tried her best to beat the other fellow.

A number of both sexes assembled at the home of Mr Geo. Allan, con 4, NDR, Glenelg, one night last week and music could be heard by the passers by, and good time kept by those tramping the floor to the sweet strains of the violins.

Messrs Gordon Geddes and Hector McDonald drove to Knox, Normandy, Presbyterian church Sunday, to hear

Rev. Mr Burnett. Mr Burnett has received a call but has not as yet accepted.

We notice in this morning's Globe 23rd Feb. of the death of the late Miss Brander, youngest daughter of the late Mr Brander of Priceville. Many of Mr Brander's old customers, when merchant in Priceville, will remember her as a pleasant young girl in the store.

Miss Margaret McDougall, daughter of Mr and Mrs D.J. McDougall, D. Road, Glenelg, has entered the Durham Hospital practising for a nurse. Miss McDougall's many well wishers wish her much success.

The rain and thaw on Sunday and Monday has put the roads in bad shape again and will put a stop to those saw logging, at least for some time, as March generally holds its reputation for a lot of snow. Among those putting in the most logs were the McArthur's of the 4th con., N.D. R. Glenelg, realizing their nice sum of $72. Forty years ago $10 would have been a large amount for the same amount.

The funeral of the late Wm Timmins of the 6th con, Glenelg, took place this Monday afternoon, 23rd Feb., and was largely attended. Rev. Mr Peters, his pastor, conducting the service at house and church. The Timmins family were among the first settlers on the 6th con. Two brothers and a sister are at the old home and receives the condolence of all who know them, in their bereavement.

HOPEVILLE

Mr Chas. Wale spent all of last week in Toronto combining business with a visit to his sister in the city.

Mr Geo. Sturrock has been very sick the past week but we hope he will have a speedy recovery.

Mrs Geo. W. Parslow entertained a sleigh load of her daughter Ivy's school friends from Dundalk on Thursday evening.

Mr and Mrs J. Hockridge and children, Cedarville, were visitors the first of the week at the home of his brother, Mr E. Hockridge.

Mrs Chas. Wale gave a birthday party recently for her daughter Bessie, when all the young people on the line had a jolly time.

Mr Taylor, whose parents are at present in India, engaged in missionary work, is expected to occupy the pulpit at Esplan Sunday morning next.

Three sales in the immediate neighborhood last week which drew large crowds and good prices. Mr. Jas Young's sale was held Tuesday and Mr Young and family are leaving this week for their former neighborhood, near Brampton. Every one regrets losing them as during their stay they proved themselves to be kind and obliging neighbors. A large crowd gathered at their home Friday evening to express their good wishes and presented them with a purse of money as a small token of esteem.

Mrs Jos Clarke's sale was held on Thursday. Mrs Clarke intends remaining in her old home, having rented the farm to her brothers, Ed and Wm Scott.

Mr J. Beckner's sale on Friday was well attended. Mr Beckner and family are leaving shortly to make their future home in Stratford and all their old friends and neighbors are sorry to see them go.

Golden Wedding of Former Proton Couple

The Golden Wedding of Mr and Mrs Walter Broughton, highly respected citizens of Collingwood Tp., took place at their home, "Broadview Farm," Ravenna, Sunday, Feb. 8th, 1925, when a dozen or so members of the family were present in the afternoon and partook of the sumptuous wedding dinner.

Mr and Mrs Broughton's large and well known family consists of five sons and three daughters, viz: Thos. James, St Paul, Minn.; Walter, Proton; Eliza Jane, deceased; Mrs. Jacob Parslow, Coronation, Alta.; Mrs. Chas. A. Kennedy and Arthur at home; also 15 grand children.

The 'Review Herald', Thornbury, goes on to say that Mr Broughton, who is 73 years of age, was born in Portsea, England, coming to Proton Tp. with his parents, the late Mr and Mrs T. G. Broughton, at the early age of nine years. Mrs Broughton, whose maiden name was Elizabeth Copeland, was born near Belleville, 71 years ago, and came to Proton Township in 1872. She was the eldest daughter of the late Mr and Mrs Wm. Copeland and her marriage took place at the home of David Totten, Boothville, Ont. The late Rev. Charles Cameron of Priceville officiated, the groomsmen being Mr Geo. Snell, Shrigley, Ont. and the bridesmaid, the late Mrs Geo. Goheen, (nee Miss Mary McLean of Proton.)

The happy couple settled in the Township of Proton on lot 16, con 18, which was at that time almost solid bush. Here they resided and prospered for thirty four years, moving to the farm where they now reside in March 1909.

On the evening of their departure from the old homestead their many friends and neighbors assembled at their home to wish them God speed and continued prosperity in their new home and presented them with a handsome secretary.

On this enjoyable anniversary, Mr and Mrs Broughton received many valuable gifts, including fitting gifts of gold. Mr and Mrs Broughton are a couple of sterling character. Kind and loving parents, with high ideals, not as followers, but as consistent leaders. They have been very successful in agriculture and are still enjoying the best of health and happiness."

IN DAYS OF YORE

25 YEARS AGO

From Review file of Feb. 22, 1900

Mr Geo. Ledingham, brother of Mrs John Clark, Jr., Aberdeen, has informed his friends here, that he has joined Strathcona's horse and is off for South Africa. He volunteered from British Columbia where he has been for some years.

Mr Jas A. Russell, son of Mr John Russell, south of town, was in Durham last week. He is now in the saddlery and harness business in Fort William and evidently prospering, having two men in his employ.

Rocky Saugeen corr.: Mr John Ewen and Miss Maggie Wade were united in holy bonds of matrimony at the bride's home Wednesday last.

The remains of Mrs Jas. McLarty was buried at Rocky Saugeen last Saturday. She formerly lived in Ben-tinck, but for a few years back has been a resident of Owen Sound.

Boothville corr.: Messrs Hill and Marshall have invested in a new boiler, together with a new grain chopper. They are the men to make machinery hum. Jas R. Wilson has brought home 5 head of fine cattle. Jim is foreman of the Lawrence timber gang and is doing well at it, this being his third year at timbering and is a first class moulder.

Died, at Gore Bay, Jan. 9th, after a brief illness, Mrs Matthew L. Davis, aged 27 years. She leaves a husband and two children to mourn her loss.

Edge Hill put on a successful school concert which attracted large crowds, many finding it impossible to get in. Mr C. Moffat ably fulfilled chairman's duties. Miss K. McFadyen accompanied on the organ and speeches were made by Messrs Jno. A. Graham, R. T. Edwards and Dr. Freel. The piece of the evening however, was the comedy in two acts, "Bryan O'Lynn," the chief parts being taken by John H. McFadyen, John Moffat and son Chas. Thos. Colson, Chas. Tilley, Guy Williams, John and Wm J. Firth. The acting showed a skill which might worthily be presented before more pretentious audiences. Proceeds $10.

When news was wired ahead that Kinberly was relieved, this little patch of the Empire held its head up straighter than usual. Mayor Laidlaw looked at the place on the Town Hall where pole and flag should be but are not, and hid off to the school. The school bell rang out for joy, soon after followed by Trinity Church bell and the school staff and pupils formed into procession and singing patriotic songs as they went.

"THE VIKING HEART."

By Laura Goodman Salverson's

This is one of the best of our Canadian works of fiction and although it is the author's first book, it may be safely said she has made a place for herself in Canadian Literature. The book can scarcely be called a novel as there is no plot of any kind, but in spite of the fact that there is no villain, and the heroine is quite an ordinary person, the book abounds in interest throughout.

The story is one of the Icelandic people in the Red River district—the people from which the author is descended. It centres around Borga, who left Iceland when a little girl, because of the ruin of their farm by a volcano. On arrival in Canada, she was separated from her parents in order to obtain work, and as a result of an epidemic of small-pox, was soon the only member of her family left. She married one of her own race and settled among her own people.

The remainder of the book deals with the struggles of this family, their hardships, successes and ambitions. Their true Viking spirit, and their pride in the country of their adoption is clearly shown in the Great War, which also serves as one more bond of union with the Canadian people.

This is a book which should be read by every true Canadian. It throws light upon an excellent class of Canadians, of which too little is known by most of us, particularly us who live east of Winnipeg.

DOWN 27 PILLS AND CARRIES ON

A South Ward lady in Walkerton, who was seriously ill, received from a local doctor, says the Bruce Times, 25 pills, which was the exact number that Doc. figured it would take to successfully combat the malady and put her on her feet. Although small, the pills were represented as powerful balls, and the patient was warned to absorb them at long intervals apart. After successfully negotiating one, she placed the other 27 on the table and left the room, only to return and find the cat perched on the table cover and assiduously devouring the last of the pills. Realizing the number that it had assimilated she anticipated that it would need all its nine lives to successfully combat the convulsions she expected it would go into. Hastily informing the household, all sat tight and anxiously watched the feline. Beyond licking its lips and sniffing about for more, there was nothing to indicate that puss was a walking pill box. In fact the purring rascal gave such indications of enjoying the feed that nothing hereafter that looks like a pill will be safe in his way. Imagination may be a whole lot, but the incident has so shaken the faith of the lady in the efficacy of those pills that we wouldn't be surprised to learn she had demanded a line of treatment from her physician that her cat couldn't swallow the whole course without showing as it were, some disturbing effects from the feed.
