One Does Wonder
"When you see how much some people can stow away at a fowl supper," says the observant one, "you realize that a smart hand at arithmetic the person would be who could figure out how to make a profit out of them at the ordinary price charged at such affairs."

Assisted in Chatsworth Program
A number of the Presbyterian congregation from Durham and vicinity, were in Chatsworth Wednesday night last, attending a social supper in connection with the Continuing Presbyterian church there. Mrs. Moore McFadden in solo work and Miss Kathleen Firth reciting, were two of the appreciated numbers.

New Tenants in Upper Town
Mr. Doyle Braithwaite has sold his farm (former Byers' home south of town) to Mr. Herb. Murdock, and is moving to town. Mrs. Wm. Firth's residence in Upper Town, vacated by Mr. R. Isaac, Mr. Whistler of Owen Sound, who has been working in the Furniture Factory the past few months, has moved his family from there lately to one of the Latimer houses.

Meaford Mirror Again Taken Over
Mr. Thos. H. Whalley, Editor and Proprietor of the Meaford Mirror for the past few months, will sever his connection with that paper on the 15th inst., and will move elsewhere. The business is again being taken over by Mr. Stanley Thurston, the former editor and proprietor, who for some time has been doing journalistic work in Toronto.

Lady Bowlers Entertain
The lady bowlers of town arranged for a successful progressive euchre in the Town Hall Thursday night last. Twenty seven tables were given over to the pastime and the evening was much enjoyed by all present. Lunch was served at close of play by the lady bowlers and splendid service was given. The honor of the highest score went to Mrs. Norman McIntyre, Sr., who received a dainty piece of china and to W. S. Hunter, who received a deck of cards. The attendance was not as large as that of last year's party, due in great measure to a superabundance of events at the present time. There will be $60 clear as a result of the evening's enjoyment.

United Thanksgiving Service
The call for a United Thanksgiving Service on Monday forenoon last, was responded to by a respectable audience in the Queen St. Church. However it seems reflection on the community that in this town with five protestant bodies surrounded by a protestant population, that not only one church would hold them but by no means filled at that. Rev. Mr. Peters presided, Rev. Mr. Taylor read scripture, Rev. Mr. Wheatland led in prayer and Rev. W. H. Smith gave a fine address appropriate to the day. The choir also rendered an anthem and the whole service was chaste and enjoyable. The collection of the day goes to comforts to the disabled soldiers of Christie St. Hospital, Toronto.

DRURY FOR THE LOCAL HOUSE?
An interesting item says that Hon. E. C. Drury may run in Centre Grey for the position made vacant by Dugald Carmichael's resignation to run in North Grey. The same item says he may be opposed by L. G. Campbell, Miss Macphail's opponent. Mr. Drury may be yearning for public life again, and certainly many would like to see him in the Legislature once more.

REV. W. H. HARTLEY TRANSFERRED TO FORD
After over six year's service as rector of St. Paul's church, Shelburne, and St. John's church, Primrose, Rev. Rural Dean W. H. Hartley, formerly of Durham, will be transferred to Ford, Ont. before the end of this month, to assume charge of the new Anglican church built there a couple of years ago. Rev. Mr. Hartley has been popular with the people of all the churches during his residence here and his removal will therefore be regretted by not only his own congregations but the whole community. Incidentally, Mr. Hartley will be the fourth of the seven members of Shelburne Public Library Board to move from town this year.—Economist.

Wheat and Potatoes Wanted
At Vollett's store. Highest prices paid. Day phone 70, night phone 59. Safety Razor Blades sharpened. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded. Single edge 2c, double edge 4c. A. S. Hunter & Co., Hardware, Durham.

A car of Maple Leaf Flour to arrive next week. Special price offered for the flour. Now is the time to buy when flour is low. Call or phone your order. Phone 114. J. W. Ewen and Son.

Red Cross Bazaar reaped Well
The Red Cross Society were up against it in the day they had for their bazaar Saturday last. However there were a lot not daunted by weather conditions and the Society took in $210.00.

Maple Leaf Quartette Good
Those in attendance at the concert in the Town Hall on Tuesday night, under the auspices of the Presbyterian church, were not disappointed for the famous Maple Leaf Quartette of Galt were the artists, and each and every number proved of genuine delight to the gathering. Their singing as a quartette appeared to be flawless each member having a strict sense of individual responsibility in creating that effect. One of the group posed as a second Harry Lauder to the delight of all present and another contributed a couple of habitant poems by Dr. Drummond, which made splendid variety. A request number was that of "The Church in the Wildwood" and after hearing its rendition, can easily understand its popularity with the audience. Mr. Robinson of the Good Roads Dept., made a sympathetic accompanist. The Hall was well filled and the Bd. of Managers will reap financially after expenses.

INDUCTION SERVICE OF REV. B. D. ARMSTRONG
The Presbytery of Saugeen will meet in the Baptist Church, Durham, Tuesday, Nov. 17th, at 2.30 p.m., for the purpose of inducting Rev. B. D. Armstrong, B. A., B. D., into pastoral charges of Durham and Rocky Saugeen Presbyterian congregations. Rev. R. B. Ledingham, Harriston, will deliver the induction sermon, Rev. Lawrence, Moorefield, will address the people and minister regarding their respective duties. Rev. Mr. Turner, Arthur, Moderator, will be in charge of proceedings.

Farewell Tea to Dr and Mrs Jamieson
The ladies of the Red Cross Society held a "good-bye" tea on Tuesday in the Armories for Dr. and Mrs. D. Jamieson, who on Monday next leave for Toronto to take up residence for the winter months at 12 Roxborough St. W. Several visitors were present and an enjoyable time was spent over the tea.

At an appropriate time, Rev. W. H. Smith arose and expressed the sorrow of those present, as well as those not present, at their departure but knew Mrs. Jamieson's spirit would hover over them in exhorting and inspiring them for further work. The Hospital was a tribute to the unflagging zeal of workers that faithfully came each Tuesday for its benefit. There was some charm about these meetings, Mr. Smith felt, for he had yet to find a member who shovied this meeting aside for any other.

Rev. J. E. Peters also spoke along the same lines, congratulating the ladies on their great work accomplished, and was loud in praise of the matron, Miss Fettes, who worthily filled all the qualifications of her position. Dr. Jamieson was also called upon and on behalf of his wife, thanked them for the kind words uttered, and while his duties called them away, his heart was in Durham, where he expected and wished his days to end. He also had praise for the matron and staff, and knew that they were well backed up in the local Red Cross Society. Mrs. Jamieson also found her feet and added her personal word of thanks to all for the kind words said. Miss Fettes, matron, was next called upon and stated it was her first present and Dr. Jamieson advised her to keep at it. She found the Red Cross Auxiliary completely behind her in her needs and desires at the Hospital, and "Do it now" appeared to be their motto. The Bd. of Managers also proved to be sympathetic to her desires and while not perhaps with the same alacrity, eventually came across with something better than her suggestions.

Mrs. P. Gannon, the retiring Sec'y, read her report, which showed a year of unusual activity and the Treasurer's books also proved to be right side up, despite heavy expenses in addition to Hospital. A vote of thanks was extended to the retiring treasurer, Miss Laura McKenzie, on her many years of faithful service to Society. The gathering at this juncture formed a circle, singing "Auld Lang Syne" followed by "For they are jolly good fellows" with the departing couple in the centre.

Passing of Well known N. Egremont Resident

MRS. W. L. DIXON

After several years of failing health due to heart affection, borne with Christian patience and constant cheerfulness, there passed peacefully away from the scenes of this life on Thursday, Nov. 5th, Jane Binnie, widow of the late W. L. Dixon, in her 73rd year. Born in Roxboroughshire, Scotland in 1852, being the eldest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Binnie, she came with her parents to Canada when a child of 8 years and shared in the pioneer work of Glenelg Township. Through all the years she never lost her love for the heather hills, often telling her grandchildren incidents of Scotland.

About 47 years ago she was married to the late William L. Dixon, N. Egremont, who predeceased her June 2, 1921. She leaves to deeply mourn her passing, eight children: George, Beloit, Wis.; Mrs. R. Renwick, Jr., Drumore; Chas., Tramping Lake, Sask.; Mrs. Jno. Sinclair, Hopeville; Mrs. Geo. McKay, Emo; Mrs. Byron Weir, Ft. Frances; Mrs. Wm. Weir, Jr., Glenelg; and Joseph, on the old homestead; three brothers and two sisters survive—Geo. Binnie, Glenelg; Thos. Binnie, Trail, B. C.; Rev. Jas. McGirr, Durham and Mrs. John Bell, Glenelg, who will feel the separation keenly. Two sisters, Mrs. D. Edge, Mrs. John Weir and one brother, Alex. Binnie, predeceased her.

Born of earnest Christian parentage, the late Mrs. W. L. Dixon early accepted Christ and while in health gave gladly of her talents in praise and prayer, teaching for years in the Sabbath School in the little church where she resided so long she was much loved and respected for her sterling character. The funeral took place on Monday of this week when a large concourse of friends and neighbors turned out to pay the last tribute of respect to one who was universally respected.

Rev. S. G. McCormack conducted the services at the house and Ebenezer cemetery, taking for his text, "Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord" and spoke many comforting words to the sorrowing ones. The hymn "O God of Bethel, by whose hand," sung 65 years ago by her father and family, on leaving the shores of Scotland, was sung, and "The Lord's My Shepherd." Rev. W. H. Smith led in prayer. Mr. W. G. Watson, Priceville, was funeral director. The pall bearers were John McGirr, Jas. Weir, Will Ritchie, Jno. Stevenson, Dr. Bell and Henry Tucker. Among the floral offerings was that of a beautiful pillow from the family.

Friends from a distance were deceased's brother, Rev. Jas. Binnie, Parry Sound and two nieces, Mrs. Thos. Sproule and Mrs. Margaret Alexander of Listowel; a nephew, Mr. Thos. Teasdale, Toronto. "Until the day break and the shadows flee away."

Sewing Classes Popular at Library

Junior and Senior Classes of Girls Receiving Instruction each Week.

Each Saturday afternoon in Durham Public Library, are classes of "teen age and under town girls coming for instruction in the art of sewing, mending, etc., as a sub-branch of Women's Institute development work. This is only one of many phases, for organized sport, as well as civics in a broad sense, are taught all with the view of the graduation of an all-round girl.

This is the second year for the Sr. class and one more year is essential ere completing their work to secure a diploma. That the movement has taken good root, is evidenced by the large class of Jr. girls who have commenced this fall. The Sr. girls are under the supervision of Mrs. J. H. Harding and Mrs. Burgess, while Mrs. C. Pickering and Mrs. A. Livingstone guide the needles of the Jr. girls. Every other Saturday Mrs. J. A. Graham and Miss E. Scott give instruction in civics and arrange for contests that have a tendency to train the mind. Altogether it is a busy hive of industry on any Saturday one should chance along and the Durham of ten years hence should produce many competent young ladies. The Sr. girls taking the course are:

Josie Falconer, Ila Allan, Alice Nicholson, Mary Moffat, Norma Allan, Caroline Mitchell, Dorothy Douglas, Dorothy Pickering, V. McLean, Evelyn Baird, Isabel Jamieson, Elizabeth Harding, Abbie McLean, Anna Ritchie. Jr. Girls: Mary Levi, Jean McLean, Marjorie Noble, Alma Kress, Ina McDonald, Thelma Bell, Isabel Henderson, Leah Griff, Marion Moore, Hazel Moore, Louise Jamieson, May Braithwaite, Janet Watson, Elsie Falkingham, Audrey Bell, Jean Rowe, Elsie Hunter, Mary Pickering, Mary and Olive McCausland, Dorothy McFarlane, Lulu Mills, Agnes and Annie Walker, Ada Holmes, Clara

Town Hall Scene of a Merry Throng

1. O. D. E. Stage a Successful Masquerade Dance Monday Night.

Bright the lights shone on "fair women and brave men" as they circled or swung in polka or schottische in the Town Hall on Monday night, when Canadian Greys' O. D. E. put on a masquerade dance. It was conceded to be one of the most pleasant affairs of the season, and the music ever seen at a masquerade dance in Durham and showed marked originality in their get up. They ranged all the way from that of the simple school girl type to the Louis XIV costume in powdered wig and knee breeches.

There were prizes given for the best costume for lady and gents' fancy comic and ladies' and gents' fancy. The comics went out to Mr. and Mrs. R. Putnam of Mt. Forest, (Vadde Caldwell) who were a striking pair of Zulus. The Gents' fancy costume went to Mr. Leonard Vollett, who was disguised as a court gentleman, while the ladies' fancy went to Mrs. E. L. Knight, who posed in a mandarin costume. The judges were Mrs. Klen of Kitchener, Mrs. Geo. Burnett and Mr. J. N. Murdock.

Some of the outstanding costumes were worn by Mrs. D. B. Jamieson, 'Black and White'; Miss Cresswell, 'Crysanthemum'; Miss Effie Hunter, 'America'; Mrs. (Dr.) Turnbull, of Flesherton, 'Schoolgirl'; Miss Eula Burnett, Russian peasant; Miss Redmond, 'Ty Cobb'; Mrs. Lauder, 'tam-bourine girl'; Catherine Lavelle, 'music girl'; Mrs. McBeth, clown; Mrs. G. McKechnie, Egyptian character; Mrs. W. Porter, Japanese; Mrs. G. Kearney, tulip; Mary McKechnie, Italian peasant girl; Herb. Cross, 'Uncle Sam'; Dr. Turnbull, 'Uncle Sam'; A. Robinson, 'frog'; Irish lad and lassie, Florence Kress and Marjorie Pickering.

Guests present from a distance were: Mr. and Mrs. MacDonnell, of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. R. Putnam, Mount Forest; Dr. and Mrs. Turnbull, Flesherton; Mr. and Mrs. Klen of Kitchener. Besides these many students home for the holiday were present. Lunch was served at midnight, which was afterwards followed up a grand march, which presented a noble array of characters of those of a past day in reality, as well as of fairyland.

MISS MCGIRR AGAIN BEGINS A SERIES OF "BOOK TALKS"

This week the "Review" again commences a series of articles from the pen of Miss I. C. (Belle) McGirr. For several months last winter these "book talks" ran in consecutive issues and were followed and looked for by many readers as a reliable guide, quite apart from any personal interest they may have in the writer. These books are all to be found in Durham Public Library, and a brief synopsis each week as given by Miss McGirr from her invaluable retreat, should prove sufficiently interesting to create the desire for the complete story. The first talk is one by Agnes Laut, "The Quenchless Light" and after reading such a book, one understands how fame came to her.

Durham Man Wins Review Guessing Contest

The Review received hundreds of guesses as to the majority of the winning candidate in the recent election and the winner was only 7 out. Miss Macphail's official figures are 1,407. Geo. S. Burnett, Durham, wins the prize of a year's subscription, guessing 1414. Mrs. W. H. Sim, Yeovil, came second with 1394 and G. W. Parslow, R. R. 1, Proton, 3rd with 1428. Maurice McLeod, Proton, had it figured at 1375 and Robt. Twamley R. R. 4, Elmwood, at 1440, so all these may be considered quite reliable forecasters.

The majority of guesses were in the 1000 or 2000 class for Miss Macphail; ten guessed over 4000, while the most optimistic placed her lead at 5500. A few predicted a majority for Dr. Campbell, his highest estimate being 725.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Brigham, Emo, New Ontario, visited last week with his niece, Mrs. Robt. Burnett and other relatives in town. It is about 28 years ago since he previously visited his people in this district.

The Misses Jessie and Catherine Derby of Niagara-on-the-Lake and Detroit, visited with their sister, Mrs. Jas. Kerr and nephew, Norman Kerr, of Varney.

Mr. and Mrs. Nichol Bell of Elora, and Mr. Kenneth Kerr of Toronto, spent over the holiday with their mother and brothers at Varney.

Mr. John W. McKechnie, son Harold and daughter Armetta, and Mr. George McKechnie, were in O. Sound Monday, attending the funeral of their cousin, the late Mrs. Will Dunn. Mr. Geo. Smith and sister, Mrs. Jas. McDonald, of Disley, Sask., spent Thanksgiving with the latter's uncle, Mr. Jno. Milligan, S. Bentinck.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Laidlaw, Jr., of St. Marys, spent Thanksgiving Sunday with their parents in town.

Messrs. Royden Burnett and Albert Kress and Miss Eula Burnett of Western University, London, spent over the holiday at home.

Mr. Ernest McGirr, B. A., Galt Collegiate Institute, was a visitor with his mother and sisters over the holiday. Miss Olive Fox of Toronto, was also a visitor at the same home.

Mr. and Mrs. Klem and two daughters of Kitchener were Thanksgiving visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hahn.

Mrs. Jos. Rainford and young child, left Thursday for Montreal, from where she will sail for her former home in Blackpool, south of England. She will spend the winter with her people.

Mrs. J. H. Hunter and daughter, Mrs. Lorne Somerville left this week for Toronto, after spending the summer months at their home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kennedy and son, Shelburne, and Mr. and Mrs. Iva Edwards, Toronto, spent Thanksgiving with the ladies' mother, Mrs. John Aldred.

Mr. Guy Kearney returned home from Florida Saturday last.

Miss Florabel Nichol of the Ontario College of Education, Toronto, spent Thanksgiving vacation at her chum's home at the Rectory, Wardsville.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McClocklin of the Standard Bank, Toronto, spent over Thanksgiving with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. McClocklin.

Mr. Brock Grant, Welland, motored home Saturday to spend Thanksgiving here with his father. His sisters from Toronto and Ceylon were also home.

Light Docket at Div. Court
The cases in the Division Court on Tuesday last were easily disposed of by His Honor, Judge Klein. An Interpleader claim, made by Bailiff acting for Cross and Sutherland, against Wm. Calder and Wm. McGowan as claimants, was decided in claimant's favor. The claim was for an electric drill, vices, clamps, etc., which had been conveyed to them by agreement produced that day.

The claims of eight wage-earners against Voker Bodies, was on the docket but has been deferred again until January court.

A judgment summons case against Robt. Isles of Egremont (plaintiff) John Hamilton, Mt. Forest) was dismissed, because neither plaintiff nor his counsel appeared. Isles was present.

A similar summons against W. J. Atkinson was not heard because defendant turned up just after Court was over. This is being adjourned since.
