Rev. Bell of Laurel, came in his stead, and presented the benefits of Township trustee Boards. A good orchestra provided music. Several took the opportunity to express their views but the general opinion was against the School-Board and a resolution was drawn up to that effect. The old-fashioned trustee system has proven to be very satisfactory and the Tr. School Boards, like every other new venture, will have to prove a great benefit and then it will gradually win its way.

A wedding of especial interest to this community took place on Jan. 27 when Miss Alma Watson of Proton, and Mr Edward Dingwall of Artemesia started along the path of married life together. They will reside on the groom's farm, just inside the Artemesia boundary. We wish them the best that life contains.

Have you danced to the old-time square and waltz tunes, which are being played by old-time musicians for Henry Ford? These radio and records are being broadcasted by them to accelerate the growing reaction against modern dances and the gradual return of the old-time square dances and waltzes which so characterized and enlivened pioneer days.

Can horses live and thrive on straw? Is a question which presents itself to us today. A few years ago straw was given to horses only as a change but today, in this community at least, the chief diet of the horse is straw. Is this advisable? Certainly it will save hay, but one is doubtful if the stature and all-round efficiency of the horse can be maintained by feeding straw.

"WORTH WHILE BOOKS"

I. C. MCGIRR ION KEITH-FALCONER OF ARABIA by James Robson

Ion Keith-Falconer was born in Edinburgh, in 1856 in Aberdeenshire, and early in life the characteristics were noticeable that made him so attractive throughout his life. He was a great student, and in 1885 decided to go to Arabia as a missionary. He lived a very full and useful life. In the realms of learning and of sport, he proved himself a master. In addition to these powers he had the advantages of wealth and position. All these things he laid on the altar and devoted them, gladly to God's service. Physically, mentally and spiritually he was a true man. His missionary life was very short as we count years, but much was accomplished. To-day in Arabia this mission is still in progress and directly due to the self-sacrificing labour of Ion Keith-Falconer.

DISAPPEARANCE OF SQUARE CHIN

Hard News for Future Dentists

A distinguished scientist informs us that among the changes continually going on in the structure of man are those affecting the teeth, which are decreasing in number. The third molar be declared, is doomed, and other teeth may follow it until the normal state of man is toothlessness. When that happens the square chin will no longer be a sign of strength of character, for, as the teeth recede or recede, the chin will recede also.

There are so many people named Smith in England that a symbol, known as the monomark, has been patented to distinguish them. There are a total of 530,000 Smiths in business. Of these 204,000 are J. Smith, 41,000 John Smith, 30,000 John W. Smith and 5,000 John William Smith. In Toronto there are something like a thousand Smiths on the telephone directory, not to say anything of Smythes.
