Urges Using Canadian Coal

R. H. McWilliams before Owen Sound Kiwanis Club

If we had found "Diek" McWilliams advocating Cement, there would have been no surprise, but to find him addressing the Kiwanis on Alberta coal, as reported in the Sun-Times a few days ago shows him to be up-to-date on this more modern problem. The Kiwanis Club is an uplift organization dealing with many issues for the public good and their effort to secure expert speakers on various topics is a worthy one.

He stressed particularly the transportation side of the question, urging first the substitution of open steel cars for the old box cars, as facilitating loading and unloading. Secondly to save expensive rail haul he would have the coal brought from the mines to the head of lakes, thence by boat to Owen Sound, which he would make the distributing centre for Ontario, which requires not less than two and a half million tons a year to meet her demands.

"He showed that the boats could carry cargoes ranging all the way from 60 to 140 carloads of coal of 50 tons each, thus releasing these cars for the trip back to mines, and the hauls could be made oftener. He declared there should be no haggling about the matter between the railroads, as it had been shown that the coal could be carried for the same or less rates than the Pennsylvania coal. It was up to the people of Ontario to get busy and start the thing going.

Owen Sound, said Mr McWilliams, is the logical place for the distribution centre as this was the nearest harbor and the safest harbor and with proper facilities for handling, the whole of Ontario could be supplied from here. He strongly advocated that Canadians should use their own coal, handle their own coal and a lot of people would be happy. Not only can our needs for fuel be supplied from Alberta, but the money sent to Alberta for this fuel, would come back to Ontario in the shape of money for manufactured goods, and thus the railways would get a double haul out of it. In closing he expressed the hope that all would work to the end that the Canadian coal mines would be developed for the good of the Canadian people, and thus keep our money circulating at home."

Government Road Building Program

The Ontario Gov't has let road building contracts for $2,239,000 for the coming season. This constructs 44 miles of concrete road, 19 miles asphalt top, 20 miles bituminous penetration, 22 miles macadam, 32 miles grading and culvert work and 61 miles surface treatment. Most of the concrete work is on the Toronto-Kingston Highway. One concrete stretch is between Guelph and Fergus—for 5 1/2 miles north of Marden, at a cost of $22,200 per mile. This necessitates detouring at Fergus to Elora, thence down the Elora Road to Guelph.

In the grading and culvert work is included Chatsworth south on the Garatara for 6 1/2 miles at a cost of $3,200 per mile and Marden north for 6 miles, at cost of $2,850 per mile.

Kingston Standard: Your deeds count a whole lot more than your creeds.

Some of us are beginning to wonder how much we can get out of our work, but the majority are still wondering how much of our work we can get out of.

The Legislature recently changed the law dealing with indigents who go into the hospitals at the expense of municipalities. The municipality in which the patient lived for three months during the preceding five months before entering the hospital, is to be regarded as the patient's home. This will prevent one municipality from fostering a sick citizen in pecuniary circumstances on another municipality, to avoid paying hospital bills. Hereafter it is the county that is to have the first responsibility for the maintenance of such patients. The hospital will bill the county, whose treasurer will pay the bill and pass it on to the municipality from which the patient came. This will greatly help in fixing the responsibility exactly where it should go. The hospital will get its cheque promptly and without any trouble, and ultimately the right municipality will pay the bill because the county councillors will be able to fix the responsibility with an accuracy that cannot be questioned.

A woman recently died in Collingwood hospital who had been a patient for twenty-two and a half years. The government pays an extra ten cents a day where patients are kept beyond a certain length of time and the Collingwood hospital expects to receive a cheque for $700.

Durham High School Lost in Meaford

Meaford, May 10 (Special)—Coming fifty miles to open the baseball season here, the Durham High School team met the Meaford nine, on Friday afternoon last, the latter team winning out the nine inning contest in the score of 8-6. As far as we know, it was the first appearance of a sporting team here from the South Grey town and also was the return game of the tie event, held last fall.

The Durham boys started the game with all the earmarks of being winners, making five runs to the home-sters lone counter in the first four innings. Scott was taken out of the box in the fourth and was replaced by MacLean, whose "drop" ball proved too much of a puzzle for the visitors. Neither team were in mid-season condition though the closeness of the score kept a live interest throughout.

Durham's best innings was the 3rd when they notched three runs. 'Buck' Noble stepped up first and opened with a two bagger, duplicating a similar hit in the first innings. McFadden was given a base on balls; Ritchie struck out; Vollett hit a single, scoring Noble. Moorhead knocked out a high one which Morris nabbed. Havens singled scoring McFadden while Vollett got safely home on an error of Leach. McGirr ended the innings by striking out.

Meaford scored three times in the 8th, when Bennett and Leach were given bases on balls. Tuohy was the only man to make a hit for his team in this inning. MacLean's entry into the box in the fourth was a good one, as in each of the next 4 innings, only three of the visitors went to bat, the pitcher receiving credit for eight strike outs and two assists.

McGirr in centre field for the boys of South Grey's capital, played a good game, making brilliant catches of long drives by Isaacs, Scott and Davidson. Havens pitched a good game and was relieved in the eighth by Moorhead. Noble was the only man to hit safely for two sacks, on either team and his pegging from home plate to second base was good.

Summary—2 base hits Noble (2); Bases on balls—by Scott 1, by MacLean 1, by Moorhead 2; strike outs by Scott 2, by MacLean 9, by Havens 8, by Moorhead 1; double play Morris to Londry; Sacrifice hits, Wilson, Noble, Tuohy, Davidson, Isaacs. Umpires, Small of Meaford and Lavelle of Durham.

J. H. Robertson Heads Business Men's Association

Mr J. H. Robertson is evidently not letting the grass grow under his feet in Arnprior. The Arnprior Chronicle of last week tells of a business meeting, representing every line of business in Arnprior, gathered to discuss the merits and demerits of organizing a business men's Club, with the idea of arranging to hold a "dollar day" as one of its duties.

"In opening the discussion, Mr J. H. Robertson, President, and who heads the executive, explained the idea of the meeting. He believed there was room in town for an organization of all business men. It could advance the interests of the town and the merchants. There were two ways of going ahead. Under some name a federation of business men could be formed and from the organization a dollar day committee could be selected. Or a dollar day committee could be selected immediately and possibly it might develop later along the lines of organizations in other towns. In either case a slate of officers and an executive committee would be necessary."

Avoid Losses on Lambs
"If loss to the lamb trade is to be avoided care must be taken to limit the marketings of heavy or unfinished lambs" is the advice given by lamb buyers of the Canadian Meat Packing Plants in a pamphlet issued recently. This pamphlet also advises that beginning July 15, 1926, a cut on all buck lambs of $2 per hundred weight will be effective. On Oct. 1st, the cut will be increased to $3 per hundred weight.

Live your Religion
A writer in the Globe is calling for a truce in the church union controversy in press and pulpit. The subject, says the Milverton Sun, has undoubtedly been debated from every angle and further discussion means nothing but the threshing of the old straw. No one is being convinced by the floods of invective that flow and the cause of Christianity is being discredited by the whole wrangle. It would be well to follow the advice given by Dr Grenfell: "Live your religion; don't argue a bout it."

The Plodders.

(By Phoebe Hendry.)

"Give me a spark of Nature's fire That's a' the learning; I desire, Then though I drudge through dub and mire At plough or cart, My muse, though humely in attire, May touch the heart." — Burns.

I admire a fine woman, also a fine man, But I never despise the old dinner can

Of the plodder, whose garb is the coarse corduroy, The rosy cheeked girl, and the broad shouldered boy, Are a joy on the earth, a thing to admire.

The smell of the clay as it clings to their clothes Is an odor that's welcome and sweet as the rose.

Give me the plodder who turns up the sod, He's the "salt of the Earth;" He is nearer to God; For God dwells in the Earth, He breathes in the trees

And whispers His message among the green leaves, There's joy to the heart in good honest toil, There's freedom from squabbling, freedom from broil,

In the "sweet of the brow", we furnish the fodder, All is not grief in the life of the plodder.

The song of the birds and the scent of the rose Brings cheer to his heart as his furrow he hoes, And the sweet, gentle breeze soothes his wearisome face As it dries up the sweat, through the grime making trace.

And when beautiful evening brings in her cool shades, And softens the heat of the midsummer glades, The plodder may sit like a king on his throne In peace and content, on an old upturned stone.

Not the smell of the earth, not the sweat nor the grime, Can darken the heart when with love it does shine; For the world and its people, its plodders and workers, Pity does feel for its idlers and shirkers.

In the Carpenter Shop, the King free from sin, In sandals and smock the table did trim; The odorless shavings curling up at His feet, As He worked in the shop, His face holy and sweet.
