

Funeral of the late C. L. Grant

The funeral of the late C. L. Grant on Thursday last was very largely attended, by country people as well as town residents. Some eight or nine came from Priceville, and other points were represented. A touching incident was the presence of a representative of the John McDonald wholesale house of Toronto, with whom Mr. Grant had long dealt, and this showed that they appreciated him as a friend as well as a customer.

alone is no life, living with and for others is the life, they with us is complete. Shall we see our loved ones again? Here we say "he is dead"; there they say "he is alive." Death is a great emancipator. Life is dreaming, death an awakening to a new life. "We cannot be perfect without them"

Rev. Dr Mackay in Durham

The Father's house were many mansions, and many other promises, why not rejoice? He quoted Habakkuk 3: 17, 18, with great effect "Although the fig tree shall not blossom, nor fruit be in the vine, the labor of the olive fall, the fields yield no meat, the flock cut off from the stall, &c., yet I will rejoice in the Lord, I will joy in the God of my Salvation."

SUNDAY EVENING

The good attendance at the morning service was exceeded in the evening when the church was filled to capacity. Queen St. United cancelled their service to allow of hearing the distinguished Foreign Mission Sec'y, while a number, as in the morning, came from outside points.

EDGE HILL

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Firth and family of Lindsay, visited kindred in this neighborhood over the 24th. Mr. and Mrs. John Cushnie accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. H. Williams and children of Toronto, also Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Rutherford of Durham, visited recently with Mr. and Mrs. Harry Williams.

SWINTON PARK

Blossom week in the Park may be a little late but it is coming soon. These fine warm days are developing the fruit trees quickly. Seeding is pretty well advanced and the early sown grain is looking fine. A little shower is wished for.

Mr. F. Staples and son Ralph visited the former's mother and sisters in Markdale one day last week. Mrs. Joseph Book and son William of Schomberg, also Mr. and Mrs. Arch Beaton of Glenelg Centre, were guests of the Anderson family recently.

which later developed into pleurisy and pneumonia, and had the fatal ending as above. The late Mr. Hargrave was fifty one years of age and was the eldest child of the late Fred and Mrs. Hargrave, being born on lot 22, con 22, Egremont. 22 years ago he was married to Miss Jennie Brown, S.
