PRICEVILLE & GLENELG

This Monday morning, October 18, reminds us of approaching winter by having a mantle of snow of some depth, which by all appearance will disappear as fast as it came. We remember on the 18th October, 1879 attending the funeral of Mrs. John Hall of the south line, Glenelg (nee Katie McCormick), with a sleigh and snow half a foot deep. So we need not set up much of a complaint yet.

Mrs Fred Staples met with a bad accident one day last week by falling down the stair steps, breaking her arm above the wrist. Dr. Jamieson set the broken bone, and the patient is doing as well as can be expected.

A number from the vicinity of Edge Hill attended the anniversary of the Presbyterian church at Dor-noch last Sunday.

The country is to be again astir by another election in the near future. Many will be like the old voter who when asked how he was going to vote, said he was going to vote for the strongest party.

To-day the funeral of practically a young man took place in the person of Douglas Ferguson, who died at the Durham-Hospital Saturday last. He was the son of Mrs Donald Ferguson of Proton and leaves his aged mother, sisters and brothers to mourn the death of son and brother. This brings to our memory attending a funeral many years ago at the old Ferguson home, of a young brother, "Garfield", at the age of 15 or 16 yrs. Rev. Mr Matheson, who preached the funeral sermon of this noble Christian boy, in his remarks said: "Why was Garfield called away and his innocent schoolmates yet allowed to enjoy their school play?" He said all these boys answer to the roll call of their teacher but Garfield cheerfully answered to the roll call of his Heavenly Father, whose plans are unknown. So the same can be said of Douglas: why was he called away and so many of his comrades yet enjoying life's comforts? But when the roll call is answered, each must answer their own call.

To the aged mother, brothers and sisters, they are assured with the assurance of meeting their loved son and brother, where there is no parting. The mother, according to the natural course of life, cannot see many years into the future. So to all the mourners we vouch the sentiments of the community in sending condolence to them in the loss of a brother.

We hear that the Rev. Dr. Alex. McGillivray of Toronto, is to preach Thanksgiving services on the 8th of November in St. Columba church, at Priceville. Many will avail themselves of hearing the Dr. irrespective of differences of opinion in church matters. The Dr. being an old student at the Kirk which stood at the old cemetery 51 years ago, he will now find very few who were then in the prime of life.

This Tuesday morning, the 19th of October, had a fall like appearance. Yesterday snow disappeared fast and good weather is looked for again.

Mrs Allan down the 4th con. drives her children to the corner of the 2nd con., they having over 3 miles to come to school. The young teacher at No. 3, Miss Hazel Beaton is getting along well. We remember when she was a little girl asking us in Gaelic how we were? She knew that much from her grandfather, the late Archd. Beaton, who had the language good.

We met an old lady who went by the name of Granny. She complained that she didn't know what was wrong with her feet. We told her they were getting tired of carrying over 90 years of age. She never thought of that and probably she didn't think that soon they would be laid to rest where walking is no more. We are told we must be come as little children, so to man it will be hard to retract their habits from the days of their childhood.

Dr. Blake of Priceville has passed away making the seventh doctor, who served in Priceville, to leave earthly cares behind. They were Dr. Seaman, Dr. Burns, Dr. Bennett, Dr. Ghent, Dr. Boyle, Dr. Hutton and Dr. Blake. Those living yet who also practised there, are Dr's Dixon, Lane McPartlane, Carr and Brander (Mrs. (Rev.) D. L. Campbell) and a Dr. Elliott of Toronto, for a few months, making a total of thirteen doctors who served in Priceville.

EDGE HILL

Mrs Robt. Edge who has spent the past few years with her daughter, Mrs Kearney at Loreburn, Sask was visiting her son Arthur last week. She will spend the winter with her friends in Brampton.

Mrs Wm Ritchie of Durham, spent the week end with Mr and Mrs Jos. McNally.

Misses Mary Edge of St Thomas Collegiate and Alix of St Catharines, visited their sisters, Mrs Ritchie and Mrs Firth over the week end.

Mr and Mrs Vic Williams and family, spent the first of the week with the latter's parents, Mr and Mrs C. Mortley, and attended anniversary services at Dornoch.

Mrs Fred Staples had the misfortune to slip on the step on Monday, and in doing so broke her arm near the wrist.

Miss Arnetta Horst of Elmwood, renewed old acquaintances on the line last week.

THE TOP OF ONTARIO

A discussion is under way as to which county in Ontario has the highest altitude. The claim was made that Wellington is the top county. But Grey and Dufferin would not submit the claim.

Editor Wright of the Mt Forest Confederate has gone into the matter with altitude maps and the stub of a pencil and taking seven points in Wellington, Grey and Dufferin, finds the averages of these counties above sea level to be approximately:

Average
Wellington .....	1,248 ft.
Grey .....	1,263 ft.
Dufferin .....	1,566 ft.

Of course, of the three counties, Grey is at a disadvantage when its altitude is averaged, because its South end has to drop down at Owen Sound to the water level of Georgian Bay. But in Grey County is to be found the highest land level in Old Ontario. The Dundalk Herald correctly claims that that town is the highest town in the province, 1,705 feet above sea level—40 ft. above Corbetton and 119 above Proton Station. It might have added that Summit, three miles from Dundalk, is, higher still, 1,711 feet.

There are certain peaks elsewhere higher than Dundalk—Thunder Cape, near Port Arthur 1,950 above the sea; the summit of St. Isle St. Ignace 1,864 feet; Mamainse Hill in Algoma Dist., 1,850 ft.; North Star Hill, a mt. on the north of Silver Mountain, 1,750.

So while Dufferin has the highest average altitude of any county if it is a town or township of the highest altitude that is wanted, Grey has it.

UKRAINIAN MEMBER OF FEDERAL HOUSE

U.F.A. Representative First of Ukrainian Stock to Sit in Parliament

When the Parliament of Canada meets again in Ottawa in December, it will have in its ranks the first representative of the Ukrainian race to appear in the Dominion's chief legislative body.

He will be Michael Luchkovich, sitting for the constituency of Vegreville, Alberta, about 70 miles east of Edmonton. The seat was held in the last Parliament by A. M. Boutillier, who was elected last October as the candidate of the United Farmers of Alberta. Mr Boutillier lost the nomination last August to Mr Luchkovich, who also has been elected as a representative of the U.F.A. Mr Boutillier came originally from Halifax, N.S.; Mr Luchkovich was born in the little coal mining town of Shamokin, Pennsylvania, of parents who came from the Ukraine in the south of Russia. As far as can be traced, he is the first Canadian of Ukrainian stock to become an M.P.

Mr Luchkovich is 34 years of age and is a graduate of the University of Manitoba, 1916. He was graduated a Bachelor of Arts, specializing in political economy and history. He goes to Ottawa from a school-teacher's desk in Alberta.

The constituency of Vegreville is almost 50 per cent a Ukrainian settlement and from it emerges the first Canadian member of Parliament of Ukrainian stock. The Ukrainians are already represented by members in the Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta legislatures.

Interesting Review of United Conference in Toronto

Before a large congregation in Knox United Church on Sunday evening, Mr Harold C. McKechnie gave a concise and informative report of the recent great United Conference held in Toronto, to which he was sent as lay delegate by the local congregation.

The great responsibility resting upon the new United Church, was, he stated, upon the lips of every speaker. Contrary to the belief of many, the ministers did not dominate the Conference; the laymen were quite prominent. To show the democracy of one evening, gathering, no place had been reserved for Rev. Dr. Pidgeon, ex-Moderator and one of the most prominent men in the church, who coming in a little late with his wife, had to stand in the crowded church.

That all members of the Church should keep in close touch with all branches of church work, it was urged that every home should subscribe to the church publications, the "New Outlook" and the "Missionary Record" or that they be placed in each home by the congregation.

Dr. Harvey, of the Presbyterian Free Church of Scotland was the leading speaker. His church, who asserted the cause in Canada in the great united venture. Some think the churches went into union merely to save laborers and money; while this was one consideration, the outstanding purpose of union was greater service in the evangelization of the world. The world has been moving on faster than the church; and we must needs cope with the situation.

Rev. Dr. Laird stated the church had last year met all claims. The missionary objective of $2,800,000 raised last year, had been cut to $3,400,000, which he regretted would not allow the church to extend any branch of its work this year. The village of Stirling with 500 people was instanced. Its church of 427 members gave over $4000 in its mission budget, averaging $10 a member or $20 a family. Regular weekly contributions were urged in all congregations to save expense of overdrafts, etc. as missionaries salaries and other expenses must be regularly met. The W.M.S. sets a good example in this regard, as they have the money on hand before it is spent.

The speaker also referred to addresses by Rev. Dr. Solater, Mr J. H. Gundy, a prominent Toronto layman, and Rev. Hugh Dobson, who made a strong plea to remove the temperance question from politics and make a bone-dry Canada. The challenge to the young people to accomplish their important part in carrying on the work of the church was strongly emphasized.

A large gathering of relatives and friends met at the home of Mr and Mrs R. P. Legate, Ceylon, on the occasion of the 25th anniversary of their marriage.

Mr and Mrs E. T. McClocklin left on Saturday to visit relatives in Michigan and intend taking in the Pan American before returning home.

Will J. White, comic singer and Donald C. McGregor, baritone, will give a musical entertainment in the Town Hall, on the 17th, under the auspices of the Teachers' Assoc'n.

To-day it is estimated nearly 3000 people were on the Egremont Agricultural Society's fine grounds to see and be seen, to examine the handsomely worked and men and admirer splendid samples of farm stock and farm products, and to have their patriotism and military enthusiasm roused by a troop of uniformed mounted infantry, comprising the well known returned South African hero, Fred Campbell, and all drilled by Lieut. John Greaves. (The Fred Campbell referred to in foregoing article, has since met his death in the Great War and had the proud distinction of winning the coveted 'V.C.' for conspicuous bravery on the battle field.—Ed.)

Mrs. Forbes Addresses Knox W. M. S. Thankoff'ng

Sunday morning last, Mrs (Rev.) E. J. Forbes, whose husband is United Church minister at Weston, gave an earnest enlightening talk on "Missions in the United Church on the occasion of the annual Thankoffering of the Women's Missionary Society. She is a native of Nova Scotia and made use of some of the lofty viewpoints in her province to take her audience to the high points in a survey of the work of Missions in a world which needs Jesus Christ today more than any other one thing. From China, India, Japan and other fields they were asking for help. She pictured the condition where children of tender years work in cotton mills in China from 6 in the morning to 7 at night; similarly in the silk mills where women got 20c and children 10 cents a day.

"China is so far away, what can we do?" was a question on the minds of many. She proceeded to show the needs of the country, one of which was consecrated workers, and prayer and money to support them.

"China was called," she asserted, and so was Korea and Japan. She told a brave story of five young women who went into the mountains of Korea to spread the gospel story. Like all missionaries she deplored the influence of rum runners and certain classes of Europeans. She told of the fidelity and generosity of converts, who when given work for pay, would place the envelope on the plate on following Sunday unopened. It was a challenge to us in more favored lands.

"The true business of life is service," she asserted, and in her appeal for more missionaries she stated there were 600,000 women in the United Church, yet only 200,000 of these were members of the W. M. S.

"We want these 400,000 women in our Societies." A native of India appealing for help had to be answered "No money in Canada."

Very graphically she asked "are my hands pushing back the natives into heathenism or are they helping to bring them to the light," and the earnest way she held her hands to illustrate the motions were impressive. Mrs Forbes will be welcomed again.

A male chorus rendered a missionary appeal in song at this service. "O Send the Word."

Autumn is that blessed season when the last mosquito bite finally ceases to itch.
