For the same reason it has been found necessary to discontinue upper school work with the result that these pupils who wish to take upper school work, must leave home and seek it eleswhere. Teaching of physical culture is handicapped particularly in severe weather for lack of a gymnasium. The need of additional accommodation is a present need, but it would appear, if one may judge from the numbers now preparing in the Public School to go up for next year's Entrance examinations, that next year the question of adequate accommodation for the number of pupils, is likely to become critical."
