PRICEVILLE

We all join in wishing the Editor, staff and readers a happy and prosperous New Year.
 Mrs. Runciman, of Proton Station, is visiting at Mr. Collin McLean's.
 Mrs. Thos. Nichol spent New Years at Mr. A. B. MacDonald's, O. Sound. Mr and Mrs Dan MacArthur spent Sunday at Mr. Wilfrid Watson's.
 Mrs. John Burgess and Miss Leah McComb of Durham, visited at Mr. Angus McLachlan's.
 Misses Dorothy and Mary Carson, Misses Nellie McLean, Flo McLean, Sadie and Mary McKinnon have returned to Toronto after having spent the holidays at their homes here.
 Miss Mary McCaug and Mrs. Robt Lawrence, spent a week with their sister in Pontiac, Michigan.
 Mrs. Elmer Watson and sister, visited the first of the week at Mr. Hector McLean's.
 Mr. Young of Toronto, occupied the pulpit in McKinnon Hall Sunday. He sang a solo in the evening which was enjoyed by all.
 Mr. Gordon Duncan, Dundalk, Sundayed at Mr. Thos. Nichol's.
 Mr. Pete Johnston returned after spending the holidays with his parents at St. Thomas.
 Miss Islay McCaug spent the week end at Mr. Andrew Hincks.
 Mr. Wm McKenzie leaves to-day, Monday for Owen Sound where he has accepted a position.
 A number from here attended Mr. Konold's sale Friday last.
 Mrs. Parslow of Flesherston, is visiting her sister, Mrs. John Nichol of the Gravel Road.
 Miss Esther McLean returned to Melancton to resume teaching duties.
 The Presbyterian concert held at Priceville in McKinnon Hall, Dec. 28th, was quite a success. Under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid, the President, Mrs. Wm. Aldcorn, spoke a few well chosen words as an introduction and announced the different entertainers of the evening, who in their respective line, ably performed their part.
 The Priceville orchestra opened with lively music and splendidly filled in between numbers.
 Miss Hildreth Lennox, A.T.C.M., of Barrie, pianist, vocalist and elocutionist, was the star of the evening. Her selections were all new with the exception of "The Cattle Thief" and "Cleric Herring" which were much enjoyed. Mr. Jas. Milne, brother of Dr. Milne, who is now settled in Priceville, sang two numbers in good voice and will make a good success as an entertainer. Miss Leah McComb of Durham, ably acted as accompanist for the evening.
 The proceeds amounted to about $60.

MR. JOHN McDONALD

Our Glenelg and Priceville correspondent, in sending the season's good wishes, has a personal note worth according though marked "private." "In 1878," he says, "I commenced writing for the Review from the Durham Road where we lived then, and headed my correspondence, "Durham Road Items." That was 49 years ago, Joseph Townsend, editor. I was in the prime of youth then and now after so many changes in the intervening years, I feel like exclaiming with the Psalmist 'I have been young and now am old,' yet never forgotten. I feel it a kind of duty to write for the Review, as long as I can hold a pencil, but I cannot expect a long career now." Mr. McDonald is the oldest living resident who served in Council matters in Glenelg, away back in 1870, and was in the County Council of 1875. No wonder he thinks that the 'Lord has shown him special favors.'
 Jno. McLachlan in 1850 and while parturing in summer in Konold's beaver meadow, one of them was killed by lightning?
 DO YOU REMEMBER going to a New Year feast thru the woods to Proton, the road zig zag thru the then forests and coming back with the old oxen and jumper about midnight and hearing the woods crackling with the frosts of below zero. Sometimes it sounded like a pack of wolves howling.
 DO YOU REMEMBER of any one prophesying in the far away future a young lady would be an M.P. and a young gentleman an M.P.P., both residents of the vicinity of Priceville?
 DO YOU REMEMBER the text the minister had last Sunday? This leads us to a story—of an old Scotch lowlander this time. After coming home from church he began to tell that the minister didn't give a very good sermon to-day. A person listening, asked the old Scot the text. "Well my memory is so bad that I've forgotten." But ask his wife "Betsy do you ken where the minister had his text to-day?" She says "Well I've forgotten but ask her daughter "Susie do you remember the text to-day?" "No, I didn't hear it very well." So here the trio were criticizing the minister while the fault was in themselves.
 DO YOU REMEMBER when Collin McArthur was killed on New Years night, 1870 at the end of the bridge south of the mills when coming home after spending the day with a sleigh riding party?
 DO YOU REMEMBER when a little boy of the late Alex Webster, merchant, was drowned while going home from school by falling in a hole on the bridge south of the mills?
 How many may answer the foregoing questions. They will be very few and far between. But the writer remembers most of them.

IN THE EDITOR'S MAIL BOX

Rocanville, Sask. December 27, 1926

Editor Durham Review:
 After reading a communication in a recent issue of your paper, I was surprised to learn that any resident of Saskatchewan would say that conditions are better under the present system than under the Saskatchewan Temperance Act.
 If conditions have improved at Delta since government control came into effect, I am pleased to hear it, as it is the only point in the province that I have heard of where conditions are better.
 I consider it unjust and unfair to circulate the idea that conditions in this province have improved because they are better in one little town.
 If making it easier to obtain liquor is going to improve matters a long temperance lines, I would like to see it worked out, but that is not very probable.
 The writer also says that government control is the best piece of temperance legislation the province ever had. I disagree with him. The Saskatchewan Temperance Act was much superior. Under the S.T.A. it was impossible to obtain liquor legally except by a doctor's prescription. Under the present system a man can purchase (if he has the money) his allowance, (not a small one either), from the Government stores six days in a week, and if people can get all the liquor they desire, where does the so-called government control come in?
 We have laws against theft and murder, and they are both violated to a certain extent. Would anyone advocate the abolition of these laws and have new laws enacted, giving people more liberty to commit these crimes, because the present laws are not-enforced to the limit? And this is what Saskatchewan and the other Western provinces have done, and Ontario more recently, in regard to the temperance situation.
 How are conditions in B. Columbia under the present system? Infinitely worse, and only a few days ago, it was reported through the press that the police of Winnipeg declared that conditions there are becoming intolerable, and something must be done immediately to remedy them.
 I believe that Rev. Mr. McWhinney of Sask. voiced the sentiments of the majority of the people of Sask. when he says the present system is not a success.
 It is true that the S.T.A. was not the success we hoped for, owing to the difficulty of enforcing it rigidly. There was too strong an element working against it, endeavoring to bring the act into disrepute and make the general public dissatisfied with it, and they evidently succeeded. The people wanted a change and were promised something better, but they did not get it after voting for it.
 I fear that Ontario's worst troubles are before her. If there are not more motor accidents on the congested highways of Ontario in the future than there have been, we will be agreeably surprised.
 When the gas tank is filled with gasoline, and the driver filled with booze, disastrous results may be expected.
 Thank you, Mr. Editor, for your space.
