

Oliver, M.P.P., Wins Applause in Massey Hall

A big meeting in Massey Hall, Toronto, on Sunday afternoon last, under auspices of Royal Temperance of Temperance, was addressed by South Grey's member and Rev. Father Minehan. The Globe gives prominence to our member and says:

"An eloquent tribute to the efficacy of the Ontario Temperance Act was given yesterday afternoon by Farquhar Oliver, M.P.P. for S. Grey, the youngest member of the Legislature, at a crowded meeting.

While he was not familiar with the difficulties of enforcement in Toronto, he declared that the benefits of the Act were written in indelible ink on the hearts and minds of the people in South Grey. "Since 1916 we in South Grey have seen the act enforced with an iron and equal hand, and I believe that in Toronto possibly your enforcement was more lax than ours. I believe that was the trouble with the O.T.A.—that it was not enforced evenly all along the line, but I know it was enforced in S. Grey with beneficial results."

In that riding, home ties had been knit more tightly together and wives and children no longer greeted drunkards and husbands and fathers at the close of day.

He complained that since the passing of the O.T.A., temperance people had rested on their oars, feeling content that the battle was over. "The fact remains that we have got to start it all over again and to lay the foundation for a new temperance structure. Let us see to it that we start on solid ground and not build our next temperance structure on sinking sand. Let us see to it that no flaws or crevices enter into it."

Any government is anxious to increase its revenue, to blot out deficits and to present a balanced budget. When a Government sells liquor, they realize that if they sell two bottles instead of one it will bring twice as much revenue to the Province. I defy you to find a Government that will stand up under that temptation. Instead of curtailing sales it will add to them.

Styling the brewers and distillers "the silent hand," and "the power behind the throne," he pictured them hammering on the door of the Provincial Government and entreating them to remove the restrictions which the sole object of enriching themselves. It was impossible to imagine, said the S. Grey member, how much pressure such an organization could bring to bear on the Government, and, furthermore, if sound entry on their part, did not have the desired effect they took the other course of contributing to political campaign funds.

Rev. Father Minehan
The youthful members of South Grey were loudly applauded and was described by Rev. Father Minehan, the next speaker, as "a breath of a boy," and was more than worthy of his seat in the Legislature.

"Prohibition was necessary to win the war, and prohibition is necessary to consolidate what we won by the war," said Father Minehan, who declared that the temperance forces were left on the penitient bench at the last election. He hoped it would be a lesson to them.

There were, however, he noted, many clergymen who were stalwart advocates of prohibition who could fit the battle of temperance.

"Believing that he had no sympathy for the attitude of factions opposed to Father Minehan took the ground that when a Government assumed office in a democratic country, they were entitled to the support of the people in everything that did not offend against morals. "If there is going to be anything good in a measure to be brought before the House, we want to make the very best of that," he said.

Tribute to Hanna
However, I am more than pleased to find that the gentleman chosen to head the Commission is a strong man in every sense of the word." Here, Father Minehan "told of meeting Mr. Hanna many years ago, and of his kindness in furnishing a playground in the congested part of the city. He showed that he was something more than a mere hard-headed business man, that he was a man with a heart. In my opinion, he is one of the best men in the Province for that particular office. I am glad to render that one tribute of agreement with the present Government."

SHOULD RETAIN STATUS AS A CANADIAN CITIZEN

Miss Agnes MacPhail, M.P., has introduced a resolution in Parliament to provide that a woman of British nationality residing in Canada will not lose her nationality by marrying a foreigner.

A male citizen of Bloomfield, Ont., has taken up the cudgels on behalf of this motion and says in the Daily Globe:

"Is it not time that our women rise to the occasion in their pronouncement against what clearly is an injustice? There are over a quarter of a million unnaturalized foreign men in Canada, a large proportion of these marry Canadian wives. These women, born in Canada, never living anywhere else than in Canada, paying Canadian taxes, obeying Canadian laws, automatically become 'foreigners' and lose their franchise. A resolution introduced into the House of Commons in 1925, by Major Harvey, passed with a large majority; but things are at a standstill. The Canadian Government has known for many years the ruin of our Canadian women, rural and urban. The Australian Parliament has taken action, and the Premier's resolution was passed with a large majority.

In the election on Dec. 1, women who were deeply interested in the O.T.A. were deprived of their rights in Provincial and municipal elections though owning property and paying taxes. Is it British fair play? Where are our British 'traditions' and 'ideals' that we talk so much about? Thousands of women in Canada disfranchised—for what? This law has been reversed in the United States, why should we have it in Canada? A Canadian woman marrying a man from the United States ceases to be British by Canadian law, but does not become an American. Miss MacPhail will have the support of all thinking women in Canada, to wipe out our statutes a law, inconsistent and just, a law that is rightly termed "national suicide!"

Judgment has been given in favor of Geo. H. Brigham of Hanover in the suit brought by him against Lenis N. Grubb of Midway. This was a county court action, tried at the sittings of the Grey county court on Dec. 22nd last, when judgment was reserved. Mr. Brigham sued Mr. Grubb for $393.15, being the amount of damages claimed by the plaintiff for hay, grain, etc., sold by the defendant. The plaintiff and defendant had exchanged properties, the plaintiff getting the defendant's farm property, stock and chattels. After the deal went through the defendant claimed that the hay and grain and some other chattels were not purchased by the plaintiff under agreement. It was in writing. The judge finds that the plaintiff did purchase everything on the farm but what was accepted under the agreement and accordingly gave the plaintiff judgment for $350 and costs. W. D. Henry, Markdale, for plaintiff; C. J. Mickle, Chesley, for defendant.

GARNET WHEAT

This new kind of wheat is attracting much attention at present in localities adapted to wheat growth. Its great virtue is that it ripens 5 to 10 days earlier than Marquis wheat, and this is of great importance, seeing more northern areas of fertility may grow other kinds.

A circular issued by the Dominion Cerealist, Ottawa, goes into great detail and the following are his "General Conclusions":

"From the data now available, we may conclude that Garnet is a variety which merits consideration especially in those districts where the conditions are inimical to the proper development of Marquis. It is generally agreed that it is preferable to produce a well developed Garnet sample than a poorly developed or unsound sample of Marquis. For reasons given below, however, we cannot recommend Garnet as a substitute for Marquis in districts where the latter thrives successfully, although even in these districts it may often be profitable to the farmer to allow the former variety to occupy a part of the area devoted to wheat.

From the standpoint of milling and baking qualities Garnet undoubtedly does not rank as high as Marquis all things considered, although it seems entitled to a place among the good milling wheats. The chief point regarding which Garnet is open to criticism is in the colour of flour. This without doubt is more "creamy" than Marquis. Since however, bleaching and maturing processes have become so highly developed and are becoming so generally practised, the objection to the colour of Garnet would appear to be appreciably minimized.

THE CLOCK OF LIFE

The Clock of Life is wound but once
And no man has the power
To tell just when the hands will stop
At late or early hour.
Now is the only time you own;
Live, love, toil with a will;
Place no faith in to-morrow, for
The Clock may then be still.

Presentations to Mr.
and Mrs. C. Mortley

words of the great poet ring true: "Rejoice that man is hurled from change to change unceasing, his soul-wings never folded," for it is thus that man is stimulated and strengthened to broaden out into the fuller and richer life.

Your departure will leave a vacuum in the community life difficult to fill. We have appreciated the generous hospitality of your home, your helpful interest in all church activities, the contribution your family have made to the best in community life, and your honesty of purpose and diligence in your chosen work.

Our feelings are modified by the knowledge that you will not be lost to Canada or the Empire, and that your new abode is not so remote but that we may often renew old times by social contact, and pledge anew the friendship of the past.

To show in some way, other than mere words, that our feelings are genuine, we ask you to accept this memento of the occasion (a walnut china cabinet) as a slight token of the esteem in which you are held by your large circle of friends.

We trust you will be long spared to enjoy life in the fullest measure amid your new environments, and "when to the sessions of sweet silent thought, you summon up remembrance of things past," may the evening of your life be gladdened and refreshed by reflection on the many happy experiences of your life among friends and scenes from which you now depart.

Again assuring you of our conscientious interest in your future well-being.

Signed on behalf of community:
Colin McIntyre, Wm. Robertson,
Wm. Smith

Ebenezer Honors Mr and Mrs W. Livingstone

Friends and neighbors to the number of over a hundred gathered at the home of Mr and Mrs Wm. Livingstone on Friday evening to spend a social hour with them before their departure for our midst. When all had assembled, Mr. Robt. Brigham called the gathering to order, when Mr. H. W. Hunt was appointed to the chair. After a few complimentary remarks by the chairman, he asked Mr and Mrs Livingstone to come forward when Miss Rita Halley read the following address, and Messrs George and Chas. Reay presented them with two upholstered chairs on behalf of their friends and neighbors.

Mr. Livingstone feelingly replied, voicing his regret at leaving old associates and neighbors. Then all joined in singing "For they are jolly good fellows." The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing, games and social intercourse till the wee sma' hours, when all departed wishing Mr and Mrs Livingstone health and happiness in their new home and all hoping they would not go far away.

We, your friends and neighbors, have assembled here tonight to spend a few social hours with you before your departure from our immediate midst. We hope you will not go far hence, so that we will still have the pleasure of neighboring with you in a sense, but we felt we could not let you leave without expressing our appreciation of you. As neighbors and friends, you were unsurpassed—a joy to know, ever ready to give a helping hand, sharing your joys and lightening our cares. We treasure that high and noble friendship.

As you, Mr. and Mrs. Livingstone, retire to spend the latter part of your lives in a less active sphere, we hope that you may yet be spared many years of health and happiness, and that not the least of your happiness may revolve around your associations and accomplishments among your old neighbors.

As a token of our sincere regard for you, we would ask you to accept this gift, as a small remembrance, and whenever you sit in them, bear us in mind and we hope you'll always remember the happy bygone days spent with your friends in this community. May God's richest blessings always attend you. Come to see us often that we still may mutually share the benefit of your valued companionship and example.

Signed on behalf of friends and neighbors:
Rita Halley

Prince and President May Open Peace Bridge

The new four million dollar Peace Bridge between Buffalo and Port Erie is to be opened in May next if present plans carry, and it is hoped that the Prince of Wales and President Coolidge will be present to take stellar parts in the ceremony. There is no draw span throughout the 4000 feet of the new bridge, but it is high enough at the Buffalo end to permit of the largest vessels passing underneath it. Already there is evidence of a large increase in population at the Canadian end of the bridge, due to the facilities it will offer for easy crossing of the Niagara River at this point.

The new Peace bridge will also serve to link Canada and the United States telephonically. Provision has been made on the bridge for nine ducts to enclose telephone and telegraph cable, and Bell Telephone construction men have already installed the cable which will displace the submarine link now running beneath the waters of the Niagara River at Squaw Island. This new track for telephone talks should eliminate the many difficulties which invariably arise from under-water telephone cable in our northern waters.
