What is Good Health Worth? Why then take a chance and use water that is polluted and unfit for domestic use, when pure water can be had by having a well drilled.

DEPT. OF AGRICULTURE

Advice to Poultrymen

The litter used around the brooders is cut alfalfa hay of good quality. The chicks eat some of the cut hay. It is a factor in their diet, or a partial substitute for green grass.

When the chicks are 72 hours old, begin feeding. The first day or the second day in the brooder, give from two to three feeds on clean boards.

Let the chicks out of doors as soon as the weather permits. Some direct sunlight assists the chicks in growth and digesting the feed.

Do not raise the chicks on the same ground as you used for fowls last year. Intestinal worms, etc., may be in the ground. It is desirable to raise the chicks on new ground each year if possible.

YEOVIL

Many of the former neighbors and friends of the late Mr. Mark attended the last sad rites Saturday to evince their respect for him and their sympathy to the lonely widow and family who mourn the departed one.

Mrs. J. Reid received the sad news of the death of her little 8 year old grandson, Bertie Ibersen. Not being strong for months, he could not overcome the effects of the flu and passed away on the 10th inst. in his home in Holdfast, Sask.

Mrs. Rae, who has been spending several days with her sister, Mrs. Mark, is also visiting her brother, Chas. McInnes and other relatives, before returning to Toronto.

A pleasant time was spent with Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Lamont last Tuesday evening when they entertained a number of their neighbors.

Best wishes are extended to Gordon McArthur and Miss Lillie Watson, who are being quietly married this afternoon. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Watson are having a reception this evening for the happy couple.

Master Bobby Long is able to be out again after his recent illness. Miss Verna McDougall, Robb, spent the week end with her friend, Miss Marion Henderson.

The ice is out of our Beatty Saugen and the water has subsided without any sign of a flood—unless very heavy spring rains come.

On Saturday Miss Rolufs received a book from T. S. Cooper, representative for Grey Co. accompanied by a letter of "congratulations to the pupils of No. 9 on winning such an exceptional prize."

Phyllis M. P. to the school winning the greatest number of points at the School Fair in Egremont, 1926 and will be a valuable addition to the school library. The book entitled "Out of the wilderness" is a volume of poems by Wilson Macdonald, a young Canadian poet, whose earlier work, critics say, established him as a poet of distinction.

Keep your colony house clean and use a good clean litter. This should be renewed at frequent intervals, or when it becomes soiled or dirty. It is important to have good clean drinking fountains and never allow them to go dry.

Take me by the hand, you storm winds, take me out beyond the regions where the little rules command; Lead me far beyond the city.

Take me by the hand, you storm winds, take me firmly by the hand; Lead me far beyond this prairie, where my spirit may expand.

Take me by the hand, you storm winds, take me out beyond the regions where the little rules command; Lead me far beyond the city.

HOLSTEIN LEADER

NORTH EGREMONT

The St. Patrick's Social evening, in the school last Thursday evening, was a decided success. Miss E. Olliver prepared a good, lengthy program and there was lots of eats and coffee and candy for everyone.

Mr. Neil Livingstone, Durham, accompanied Mr. Will Legate back to London the first of the week. Some of the farmers have already tapped and report nothing doing.

Mr. Henry Tucker is over from Detroit for a few holidays but intends going back soon. Mr. Jim Whitmore, Durham, visited with some of his old neighbors around here this week.

The wedding bells that have been ringing in this vicinity have now ceased, and we can now extend best wishes to Mr. Gordon McArthur and Miss Watson who were married on Tuesday last. A reception will be held for them Friday evening at the home of W. H. Hunter.

Mrs. John McKenzie, Sr., who spent the winter in Toronto returned home this week. Miss Eva Eccles accompanied her home.

L. O. L. No. 861 dance on Monday night, was a hummer—100 attending and there were a few more asked who didn't come and we have a nice little idea of our own why they didn't. After lunch was over, Mr. W. H. Hunter called Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Moore, also Mr. Milford Matthews to the platform. In a few well chosen remarks, Mr. Hunter expressed the sympathy of the gathering to Mr. and Mrs. Moore—who have had so much sickness in their home recently.

THE ROLL CALL

MR. JAS. MARK

On March 17, 1927, there passed away at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Thos. McMillan, one of the pioneers of the district, Mr. James Mark, at the age of 81 years.

Born in Aberdeen, Scotland, he came to Canada with his parents when eight years of age. His mother, Mrs. Mary Ironsides, with her husband, John Mark, settled in Fergus, later moving to Egremont.

Fifty three years ago last New Year's Day, Jas. Mark married Catharine Ann McInnes of Egremont. After spending about four years in the Township of Proton, they moved to the Mark homestead on the 12th con., Egremont, where they lived until 1901 when they gave up farming and went to live in Orchard, where they conducted a general store and Post Office for 12 years. They then sold out and went to live in Mt. Forest. Here they lived until three weeks previous to Mr. Mark's death, when on account of failing health, they came to live with their daughter, Mrs. Thos. McMillan.

The crippled with rheumatism for many years, Mr. Mark was wonderfully active and enjoyed fairly good health until the last few months. His sterling Christian character, cheerful and unselfish disposition, endeared him to many friends who will long remember his kindly deeds.

He is survived by his widow and seven children: Isabella (Mrs. Conrad Schenk) of Egremont; John, of Sask.; Alfred of Oklahoma; Ida, (Mrs. Duffus), Jessie (Mrs. Stephenson and Agnes, all of Sask.; Florence, (Mrs. Thos. McMillan) of Egremont. Also one sister Jessie (Mrs. Smith) of New York, and two brothers, Dave of Maywood, Ill. and Geo. of White Salmon, Wash.

On Saturday, the 19th inst. at 2 p.m. at the home of Mr. and Mrs. McMillan, a largely attended funeral service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Jay of Holstein United Church. Interment at Reid's cemetery.

The pall bearers were Jas. McInnes, Jas. McEachern, David McInnes, Robt. Galbraith, Abraham Tuck, John Troup.

Speaks for dance two weeks in advance. Miss MacPhail Cutting a dash in Ottawa Society.

"Miss MacPhail is no wallflower." Such is the declaration of the Ottawa correspondent of the Toronto Star, who sends to his paper a racy description of the reception and dance given at the Parliament Buildings, Ottawa, by the wives of the Cabinet Ministers. (By the way all the Ministers are married except Premier King and the Minister of Public Works, Hon. Mr. Elliott, member for West Middlesex.) The correspondent declares:

"Miss MacPhail is having a wonderful time. There is a press of claimants around her chair. She rises for the dance.

"But you can't give it to him," comes a complaint. "I asked for the second dance two weeks ago," and an insistent M. F. reasserts his claim and whisks his prize off into the one-step. She dances well, does this lady M. F., and she looks well.

Her five years in public life have brought her poise, a flair of well-dressing, and she never wants for a partner."

Two Makers of Canada

SIR WILLIAM VAN HORNE LORD STRATHCONA

Among the Canadian books that have come to be recognized as standard works a high place is taken by the series known as "The Makers of Canada." They were first published by George N. Morang of Toronto, in 1904, and comprised twenty volumes covering Canadian history from Champlain to Macdonald and from the Atlantic to the Pacific.

Each period and historical figure discussed was dealt with by a scholar and writer particularly conversant with his subject, the result being to gather into the confined space of a few volumes a comprehensive view of Canadian history.

With the more than twenty years that have passed since this series was first published there has taken place a vast amount of research and discovery in the history of this country, and episodes and characters of past days are now much more clearly seen than they previously were. Thus the Oxford Press of Toronto, into whose possession the plates of these books have passed, very wisely decided to issue a new and revised edition of the series. This has been produced under the able editorship of W. L. Grant, M.A., LL.D., who has succeeded in greatly adding to the historical value of the work. Each volume has been carefully gone over and revised, and in some cases whole books have been re-written in the light of newly discovered facts.

Perhaps the most important improvement in the series is the addition of a volume on the lives and work of Lord Strathcona and Sir William Van Horne. It was obviously imperative that Western Canada should receive more attention than was possible when the series first appeared, and no better way of doing it could be devised than in presenting a faithful account of the life work of the two men who, more than anyone else, had to do with the foundation of the Canadian West. In John McNaughton's life of Strathcona and Walter Vaughan's life of Van Horne were the ideal books for the purpose. They are, of themselves, a rich storehouse of information concerning the founding and building of the West. The dynamic force of Van Horne built the Canadian Pacific, the railroad that made Confederation an actual fact. His work was and still is an epic of Canadian history and he, like Strathcona, rightly belongs to that company of giants who may properly be termed "Makers of Canada."
