HOLSTEIN LEADER

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

An Open Night was held by the Community Circle in the basement of the Presbyterian Church on Wednesday, April 26th, when a short program was given. The purpose of the evening was an address read by Robt. Haas, to Merton Reid, who was about to leave the community, while Jean Ellis, president, presented him with military brushes and a Parker pen which Merton had recently won at a suitable reply. This was followed by short addresses by the president and Rev. W. Johnston.

Mrs Ed. Johnston, who spent the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Wm. Freeman of Teeswater, returned to the village last week. Her daughter, Miss Freeman, spent a week here with her mother. Mr Lynch from near Aytos, is the new buttermaker in the Crockburn Creamery.

Miss Gorbett of Tara, spent the week end with the Fenton family. Mr Alex. McMillan of Dundalk was in the village the first of the week. Mr Geo. Hostetter, who travels in the Western provinces for the Weston Shoe Co., returned from his winter trip last week.

Mr W. T. Pinder received a sad telegram Tuesday of the sudden death of his brother-in-law, Harry Caldwell of Dauphin, Manitoba. Mr Caldwell was well known in these parts, having run a store at Orchard some years ago.

Meessrs Chas. McDougall and Arthur Smith Tuesday for the West. This week Mr Geo. Bye is moving his butcher shop from the Hoy premises to the Tanner house. Mr. Ed. Rae will set up his barber shop in the premises vacated by Mr Bye.

Our teachers are back again and are commencing the final lap, terminating in the June exams, which will tell the tale of the year's work.

Mrs Wm. Hunter Sr. of Durham, has been visiting at her son Andrew's the past week.

The Community Circle held their reorganization meeting for the spring and summer months in the basement of the Presbyterian Church on Monday evening when the following officers were elected: President—Ewart Altes Vice President—Earl Hunt Secretary—Miss Margaret Arnill Treasurer—Arthur Haas

The following Committees were appointed: Softball—Rev. Johnston, Robt. Haas, Dena Thorne, Miss McKechnie. Volley Ball—Chas. McDougall, Archie Walls, Jean Ellis, Marg. Arnill, Doug. NORTH EGREMONT

The annual meeting of the Dromore Institute will be held at the home of Mrs. Joe McNulty on Wed. May 4th at 3 p.m. Mrs John Hill will give a paper on "The Influence of Environment on the human individual." A good attendance is especially desired at this meeting. Consignees to become a member and bring any subject you would like discussed. The programs for next year will be arranged at this meeting.

Mr Jim Whitmore is assisting Mr. Austin Hann with the spring work. S.S. No. 13 was closed this week as Miss E. Oliver, teacher, was unable to resume her duties, owing to her home being under quarantine for the measles.

Mrs Wm Calvert of Toronto, is visiting this week at Thos Daly's and with other friends. Mr Allan Kennedy went to Swinton Park last week to assist Mr Phillip Harrison with the spring work. Sorry to hear of Phillip getting his arm broken while cranking the Ford.

There will be no service at Amos Church on Sunday on account of the opening of the new Presbyterian Church in Durham. Mr Arthur Wells, Durham, spent Sunday with his parents, Mr and Mrs Ed. Wells. Mr Alex. McMillan, Dundalk, was a visitor at Isaac Hooper's the first of the week.

Mr Matthew Hooper is preparing to build a new house this summer, having already started taking the old one down.

Mrs W. H. Hunter who has been very ill the past five weeks is now on a fair way to health again, being able to sit up for a time each day. We think "J. C." of Durham, who has sprung into notoriety by his letter to the Globe etc. very ungentlemanly like in his reply to North Egremont when he leaves the subject and takes the liberty to hand out situations. If the cap fits, wear it; I have no apology to offer. Personally I am proud of a few chicken coops and my opinion of farming is that it is as honorable as any occupation there is to-day, barring none.

Yes, we can make a living on a farm besides the chicken coop and we do not have to roam the country hunting jobs. Also we can vote for who we like and not afraid of losing our jobs because of it.

Also I want to point out right here I think "J. C.'s" fine education is a borrowed one to be used on occasions like this for political purposes. As to "J. C." expatiating (that's a rich one, isn't it) for my benefit, no thanks; I see no need for it and if I did, it certainly would not be "J. C." I would call on you. I still have faith in the honesty and integrity of Miss MacPhail, our lady member.

As each side of the question has now been aired, it serves no further good to prolong this discussion, so it will close this week.—Ed.

Annual Meeting of Knox United Church (Continued from page 1) "the people rejoiced for that they offered willingly." The balance on the Manse now is only $400 and the surplus of assets over liabilities is now over $18,000. Chairman of Managers Dr. A. M. Bell, Financial Sec'y, J. C. Adams; Main Extension Sec'y, J. A. Rowland; Treasurer, J. F. Grant. Messrs J. J. Smith, Dr. Bell, John McGirr, Jno. Smith were re-elected managers.

Hitherto three Trustees have been elected for a five year term. That term expired at this date and a new method was adopted and the following were appointed: John Snell for three years; D. Leith for two years; James Mather for one year, one retiring annually though eligible for re-election. D. Town and W. R. Alder were elected Auditors. We have omitted the many kind remarks as to efficiency, progress, etc. made by movers and shakers of reports and others, regarding the fine showing of the year, and a blanket resolution of thanks to all the officers was made by Dr. Smith and Dr. Grant and heartily carried.

YEovil

No monotony in our weather! It has ranged from delightful summer heat to frosty nights and snow laden winds. The green grass is very restful to optical nerves after these many weeks of whiteness. Our teachers and their pupils are busy once more—commencing their nine weeks heavy study for summer examinations. Patience, perseverance and success to all.

Mrs Munroe and baby, Hamilton, spent a few days recently with her father, Mr C. McInnis, who we are pleased to hear, was feeling very well.

Mr Geo. Ekatt, Mt. Forest, made several business calls on old friends in this vicinity last week. Mr and Mrs W. J. Reid, and Miss Jessie Merchant were Easter visitors at J. Lane's, Swinton Park.

Mr and Mrs Claude Witherow, and baby Elmer, Calderwood, were recent guests in her parental home.

When coming out of town Saturday evening, N. Dodds' buggy was run into by another driver, Mrs. Dodds was thrown out and seriously hurt. She remained over night in the home of her father, G. Ekatt, but was brought home the next day. She is confined to her bed and suffers considerable pain, but we hope she will soon be fully recovered.

Mr Robt. McArthur, Detroit, is visiting at his home and with friends in this locality for a few days.

PLAY AT DROMORE

A play, entitled "Grandpa's Adventures" will be given Friday evening, April 29, in Russell Hall, Dromore, by the young people of S. S. No. 8, Egremont, under the auspices of the Women's Institute, in aid of the Armenian Bazaar fund. Be sure to see this play which has been given twice before successfully. Good orchestra in attendance. Admission 50c and 20c.

Former South Greyites Supply Music for Dance

Conservatives in Toronto know how to give elate to their Conventions. At their big Convention last week, their President, J. R. MacNeil, was given a "concert blanc" for an orchestra for a dance to wind up the banquet and the report below taken from the Toronto Telegram, tells how he succeeded. However did Pres. MacNeil "get on" to this brilliant group? He is a close neighbor of Mr John H. Rocks and we suspect Rocks put him wise! Here it is: FIDDLERS and CALLER

No old time dance is quite right without a "fiddler." President J. R. MacNeil provided an orchestra of three fiddlers, a fifer and pianist for last night's revival. They weren't old fiddlers either, so there must be a revival of "fiddling" in Ontario. Last night's quintette, composed of Messrs W. Sackett, J. Black and F. Runciman, formerly of Priceville and Swinton Park; Robt. Isaac, formerly of Durham, and Miss Isaac at the piano. Nor is an old time dance complete without a "caller" and Robt. Harrison performed that part in such a fashion, that some of the dancers stopped to listen or appeared to do so. At any rate they fell into a fine tangle through their delay.

For you mustn't stop in a square dance. You can't slide off to one side when you feel like it—you have got to keep going, the voice of the "caller" off is inexorable as fate. "The Girl I left behind me" was the tune played for one of the quadrilles. Illustrations of the song were furnished again and again by some of the men who essayed the figures. Mr Harrison started 3 groups a-going and they all got to the end, but some of them only escaped complete demoralization by miracle. "What to do? What to do?" was the muttered cry expressed in the faces of hapless men and women, but the fiddles went on and also the voice of the "caller." They have to go forward who have no retreat.

SOUNDS EASY And yet it sounded plain enough, instructions like "swing your partner were easily carried out, but what about this: "Walk your girl and pass her by Kiss the next one on the sly. With the next a merry good-bye And take old Nancy home." Or consider such an accompaniment to your stumbling feet as: "Her stockings red and her shoes were black. Her buckles shone like silver: She had a dark and rolling eye, And her hair hung down her shoulder." Sounds easy but just try it. No use arguing about what comes next, as some do, as before the argument is settled, the rest of the crowd are three jumps ahead. All that can be done is to grab the nearest unattached lady and go ahead—"I turn her in and I turn her out. The pretty little daisies!" And every one of the dancers vied to seize the next chance at it. There is a hilarity and freedom and a youthfulness about the old dance that they can't get out of those sliding, slithering modern steps.

IN DAYS OF YORE

25 YEARS AGO From Review file, April 24, 1902. Holstein and Fairbairn congregations have made a happily united call to Rev. Mr. Little, Chatsworth, when it will likely be sustained at a meeting of Saugeen Presbytery on the 28th inst.

Last Thursday, Lyman Caldwell, the well known Durhamite, left by morning train for Hamilton, to join an accepted party of young men like himself who had voluntarily enlisted for the 4th Canadian contingent in South Africa. A. B. McArthur, son of Mr John McArthur of the Glen, has started an implement agency business in town. Mr S. Arrowsmith had his interest aroused the other day by reading in an English paper of a feat performed by John Alcock of Macclesfield, England, in walking backwards 12 miles in 3 hours, 14 min. 45 seconds, beating the waggered time by over 15 min. He was 62 years of age. The old Burt hotel has been converted into an extensive boarding house to meet the wants of cement workers. Braithwaite and McDowell are running it. Misses Kate and Lexie Anderson, leave Thursday for Hamilton, where they intend to reside.

Mr Curtis Pickering, Mt Forest, late dental student in Toronto, has decided to locate in Durham. Priceville corr: Mr John McArthur had gasoline lights put into his store lately which makes a great improvement in the illumination part. Married, in Boston, on 17th April, by Rev. Mr. Herrick, Miss Maud Dargavel of Dornoch, Ont. to Mr J. E. Picard, of Boston, Mass. Priceville corr: Mr Sydney Blakeston and family, moved away last week to take up residence at Oak River, Man. where he intends to start in the butcher business.
