

PRICEVILLE AND VICINITY

PRICEVILLE

The trees have come to their full foliage and the great out-of-doors presents a freshness and beauty that is unequalled at any other time of the year. And with the ground with moisture, this Monday morning everything is so fresh and green after the rain.

The monthly meeting of the Welling Helpers met at the Hall on Friday afternoon with an attendance of 23 ladies.

Miss Monday evening a presentation is held in honor of the Watson families as they leave for Toronto.

Miss Gladys Hincks spent the week end with Singhampton friends.

The beef ring commences this Tuesday, Mr Dan Muir putting in the first beef.

Miss Catharine McMillan, infant daughter of Mrs Hector McLean, intends to go in training for a nurse in Fergus Hospital in July. We wish Catharine success.

Everybody came to the U.F.O. picnic on Friday, June 21, in Lever's bush.

Nearly 50 years ago I was collecting taxes in a ward of Glenelg. I came to a farm, the good man not at home. The old lady who had not a word of English told her daughter to tell me to go about my business, that they had no money, at the same time they had the Gaelic expression "Nach canna ris an trusair a bhith daid ma euh a gnoich," etc, or you tell the dog to go about his business. I let her scold me for a while and finally I spoke to her in her own language. She replied "Mo naire mo naire car son a bha th leigal lean abhi hind a bhith a' seòladh you were you letting me be scolding you so long. I told her she was only scolding me in Gaelic. And the poor woman felt so bad that she made me feel somewhat sorry for her also. So you see the language is a helpful language sometimes.

When Priceville was young some 70 years ago, whiskey was free and cheap and old and young sometimes indulged too freely. A young man who took freely, started off for home but only got down as far as the station is now, when he lay down being hit by a big hemlock tree, blown down by the recent wind, his dog accompanying him. An old colored man, named 'Honey Brown,' saw the dog taking him for a wolf. He shot at the dog but missing him, grazed the young man's coat sleeve enough to waken him. The old Honey ran up and shot a man, I shot a man. Thinking he killed the man he was not the least hurt. The young man's father was also in town and said "If he killed my dog I would bury him beside the dog," as if thinking more of the dog's escape than his son's.

A large number were out to the different worshipping places last Sunday and those in the habit from youth to go to church who had to stay home, felt it an unselfish act to let others go in turn. If there is a special service going on in a sister church, it's a Christian act to go there for the time being, irrespective of a mild sort of bitterness.

We were sorry to hear of the death of Robert McGowan. Mr McGowan came to Priceville when a young boy and his many friends there regret to hear of his death.

Rev Mr Peters will be preaching his farewell sermon at Zion next Sunday at Durham.

Mrs Wm McLeod and son Earl and Mrs Malcolm McInnis and son Allan, paid us a short visit one evening lately. They all came in Earl's car.

Mr Brown and Arch McDonald will finish hauling lumber from Glenroad this week.

Fred Staples was in Markdale seeing his mother, confined to her bed for a long time but is getting better again.

Mrs Herb Greenwood is home after spending nearly a couple of months in Durham Hospital. She is getting on fairly well. She is nursed by Miss McLean of Lambton St. We were pleased to see Mrs Angus McVicar of Priceville up while we were there.

Mr Thos. Nichol is busy at the Good Road work up to Singhampton. He leaves home at 6 a.m. in his car taking some passengers with him. Mr and Mrs Nichol are good church workers, both attending Sunday School every Sunday morning in the Presbyterian Hall, Priceville.

HOPEVILLE

Miss Marjorie Crawford spent a short holiday with her parents, Mr and Mrs Sam Crawford, returning to her nursing duties in Rochester Mon. Misses Edna and Ruby Webster came home from Detroit last week.

Pannabecker, trombonist and music director, Miss Marion Grobb, newly returned missionary from China.

Mr and Mrs Campbell, Toronto, visited her mother, Mrs McTaggart recently.

Mr and Mrs Mac Kells, Drayton, and Mrs E. Scott, Preston, visited the Riddell families last week.

A little boy arrived at the home of Mr and Mrs Harold Love, on June 11

BUNESSAN

Mr and Mrs A. B. MacArthur, accompanied Mr Angus McArthur of the Garraux to Toronto Sat. last. Mrs Boakes and son Will, also Mrs J. Boakes of Schomberg, visited a few days with the former's daughter Mrs Archie Beaton.

A number from here attended the presentation in Priceville for Mr and Mrs Elmer Watson and Mr and Mrs Wilfred Watson, held at the latter's home on Monday night.

Onward Club played the second league game of softball with Bunessan in the Glen Friday evening which resulted in a win for Bunessan by the score of 30-4. As Bunessan was forced to default the first league game, this gives them a game each. The deciding third game will be played in Priceville on Saturday evening, the 25th, and promises some excitement.

Mr and Mrs Dan MacArthur, north of Durham, visited Monday with relatives here.

Mr Jos. Pith of Durham is at Mr Geo. Stewart's, erecting a new verandah.

PRICEVILLE & GLENELG

This is the longest day in the year and it reminds us of man's existence—like the days getting longer to the 21st June and at a standstill for a day or two, then going its backward course to the 21st December. So is frail humanity from the beginning of their existence. They go from strength to strength till they reach the noonday of their weary journey to the end of their short journey. It can be said of them that they came to the shortest December day of their life and must pass away from the scenes of action.

In this life, man's short journey at best is only a pleasant one for a little while and then is subject to all manner of ailments in his or her declining years. But I must pass on and give something in the shape of this, that or the other thing.

The weather appears to take a decided change and the days are milder and warmer and after the fine rain all day and night Saturday, the growing crop has a fine appearance. Alfalfa is a fine crop and will be ready to cut by the 1st July. Fall wheat is beginning to head out and is fine. The Edge Hill correspondent will excuse us if we tell them their report of the McDonald visitors was not complete. Mrs Arch'd McKinnon also visited her friends, the McDonalds.

We had a fine conversation in the old language, the Gaelic, with our friend, Duncan McLean as we met on the highway for a while. We almost forgot that as Pat said, "Nayther of us were never in the highlands" but all the same we conversed the old language well. Mr McLean held many responsible offices in the county of Grey and in several insurance companies and has a good command of the ruling county language as well—the English.

THE VARIETY STORE R. L. Saunders

Renfrew, each spoke at considerable length, their addresses being almost entirely a denunciation of Premier MacKenzie King, his government and its legislation, the Progressives, and Miss MacPhail, M. P. If any of them had one good point, the audience heard no mention of it on Friday.

IN DAYS OF YORE

15 Years Ago

From Review file, June 6, 1912

A quiet wedding was solemnized at Trinity Church Rectory, by Rev. Mr. Hartley when Miss Sarah May Reay and Mr Roy Vickers both of Vickers, were united in marriage.

Friday last about a dozen members of Camp Scots Greys, No. 87, drove over from Priceville to internate with their brethren of Ben Nevis Camp. With them came their stalwart pipe Mr Peter McArthur and the martial strains of the pipes enlivened the air. The visiting party comprised Chief Hector McKinnon, Arch. McCuaig, Postmaster McKinnon, Dr. Lane, Neil McKinnon, Hugh McKechnie, Peter McArthur, Fred McArthur, Clark Russel, Allan McLean.

Dr. Hutton has bought the James A. Lenahan property on Albert St. and will be moving in shortly.

We extend congratulations to Miss Margaret Grant of town and Mr S. Ferguson of Priceville on their success at Faculty of Education exams.

North Egremont: Saturday last, at high noon, Mr W. H. Hunter entered upon a more important transaction than anything yet undertaken when he entered into matrimony with one of Gall's fairest ladies, Miss Mable Wright.

In fighting with another dog, Mr. Jno. McGowan's dog had its ear injured a few days ago. In play the other day, the youngest son Wallace—a little 4 year old chap, caught it and must have hurt the ear, for the dog turned and sank its teeth through his lip and into his cheek, the latter being quite a gash.

Mr Will Farquharson left Saturday for Toronto, where he will subsequently go on a Muskoka boat as passenger for the summer months.
