Taylor-McIntyre Nuptials in Port Arthur

St. Paul's United Church, Port Arthur, was filled with a large congregation on Aug. 17th, assembled to witness the wedding of two of Port Arthur's most popular young people.

When at 9 o'clock, Rev. Andrew Roddan, pastor, united in marriage Miss Mary Lillian McIntyre, only daughter of Mr and Mrs David McIntyre, 217 McVicar St., Pt. Arthur and George Frederick Taylor, son of Thomas Taylor and the late Mrs Taylor of Melburne, Cambridgeshire, England.

The bride, who entered the church leaning on the arm of her father, presented a beautiful picture in her wedding gown of white crepe back satin, French model with tight sleeveless bodice, full skirt with deep flounce of heavily embroidered silk net, dip back and scallop bottom.

The bride was trimmed in rich effect with lace to match skirt, caught at the waist with spray of velvety roses and silver leaves. Her veil of white Malines was cap shape, with coronet of orange blossoms, silk lace and seed pearls, there being a spray of orange blossom at each side and handsomely finished with white satin lovers' knots the full length.

White silk hose and kid slippers completed this pretty costume. She carried a large shower bouquet of butterfly roses and lilies-of-the-valley, tied with white satin streamers reaching to the ground.

Miss Jean Pettis, cousin of the bride, daughter of Dr and Mrs A. Pettis of Calgary and Miss Marie; Batten of Port William were the two bridesmaids. Miss Pettis wore a frilled frock of coral georgette and Miss Batten a similar gown in mauve.

Little Miss Laura Ann Batten and Rilla Spencer were flower girls carrying baskets of sweet peas and roses tied with tulle to match their frocks.

Mrs J. D. McIntyre, mother of the bride, wore a French gown of Alice blue georgette with gold lace trimmings and drawn work, pleated panels and medallions. With this went a large Panne velvet picture hat with satin crown and cut out velvet trimmings in blue and black. She wore a corsage bouquet of Sunburst roses.

Mrs Pettis of Calgary, aunt of the bride, was handsomely gowned in silver lace over tomato silk flat crepe. She wore a large picture hat trimmed with French flowers in shades to match her gown.

PRICEVILLE & GLENELG

(Intended for last week)

Ho! reapers of grain harvest! Why stand ye idle here. For fields are white and grain is ripe And binders must be put in gear. To look for strength and not for wealth. The laborer must work in health. To Him that rules the harvest fields. The farmer trusts that there will be suitable weather to put his grain together and barns may be full when all kinds of grain is garnered with the sun and the farmer on the run. The sleeping son is wakened up for it's nearly six o'clock. He rubs his eyes and to his surprise, breakfast is on the table. To perform the duty thinks he is able, so out to the darkest field to the call he must yield.

We were sorry to hear of the accident that befel John Mortley of Arthur at a barn raising. Mr and Mrs Williams and Mr and Mrs Mortley were down to see him. We hope he is not seriously hurt. Those having fall wheat are having fine weather for harvesting it. Mr D. Robinson and sons has a fine 15 acre field in stook which will probably go 40 bus. to the acre. Mr Williams has also the same quantity. Spring harvest will be on next week as oats are turning white and well filled. Thunder Saturday night but not much rain. The weather is ideal harvest weather and will be general on Edge Hill line next week.

We spent a few days at the old home with our brother and sister and had the pleasure of going to Priceville Presbyterian Hall Sunday. By some misunderstanding the preacher that was to be there didn't put in an appearance. But the Rev. Walter Nichol was there and was voted on to take the service and he delivered one of the ablest discourses that could be given from the text in Psalms: "For a thousand years in an abbe manner painted man's life which is as yesterday when it is passed. His mastery delivery was appreciated by the large audience. The Misses Nichol are also up on a visit to the old home and have kind remembrances of the past of the now aged people.

We had a hearty handshake with old and young but could not compete with the Prince of Wales as he had to use his left hand on account of too much right hand shaking. He managed to give our best to the numerous well wishers in the little town where we spent so many of our youthful Sabbaths going to church. The congregation is to give a call to a stationed minister soon. The young student, Mr Dingwall, preached in St. Columba last Sunday. Mr John L. McKinnon of Saskatoon who spent his holidays at the old home will be leaving again this week.

We are pleased to hear Mrs Arch Ferguson is improving after a spell of sickness. Mr and Mrs Alex McIntosh, Mrs A. Scott and Miss Margaret Tooton, Toronto, motored up to spend the week end with Mrs Everist. Mr and Mrs Edgar Dobson and family are spending a month with their brother, James MacArthur of town.

Miss Sadie Harvey, Hamilton, is visiting her mother, Mrs Harvey. Mr Thos. Ball, London and daughter, Mrs Menzies, Saskatoon, were recent visitors with his daughter, Mrs Wm Dingwall. Miss Pettis, Colorado, was the guest of her aunts, Mrs Nell McEachnie and Miss A. Pettis. Mr E. McEachnie and family: Mr.

SWINTON PARK

We will just note the death of Mrs Arch Ferguson, con 19, Protion, as the Priceville correspondent will give details. This community in which her entire life has been spent, feels that another faithful wife and mother has passed on and that those who are bereaved will sorrow, but not as those who have no hope. We have known Mrs Ferguson since a little girl. Mary McDonald and feel that her life has been for the good of all up with whom she met. We will refrain from saying more.

Wednesday of this week a happy event is coming off in the Park. The wedding of Miss Eida Parslow, daughter of Mr and Mrs G.W. Parslow to Wm. J. McLeod, son of Neil and Mrs McLeod is being consummated. This community is greatly interested in these young people, both were born here, attended school in the Park, both are now school teachers. Wm. J. for the last few years has taught at Lambton Mills and there they will commence homemaking. We predict for them a happy and useful life wherever their lot may be cast, as they both have initiative and perseverance in their make up and true moral backbone. All join in best wishes to bride and groom.

Mr and Mrs W. J. Blakeston, of Stratford are renewing old acquaintances in the Park and will attend the wedding of their niece, Miss Parslow. Tho' growing older in years, Billy Blakeston can laugh just as cheerfully as 40 years ago. All are glad to meet him and Mrs Blakeston. Mr Jacob Parslow and daughter Mary of Coronation, Alta. are also home on a visit and for the wedding. The Orange picnic last week was a success. The day was fine and a large crowd was out, but not we think, so many as formerly. Many an old face we missed that have been faithful patrons of the Orange picnic. The Bob Wilson Co. of Toronto were chief entertainers on the platform and were enjoyed—especially by the young. A softball game, Dundalk vs. Dromore, caused a lot of cheering as the game was clean and close, 12-11 in favor of Dundalk. A football game, Faversham vs. S. Park was a tie score 1-1, but all clean and enjoyable.

Misses Reta and Armonell Glenecross spent the holidays with friends in Mt. Forest.

Miss Geneva Firth spent last week with Toronto friends. Mr and Mrs W. H. Moffat and Miss Alexia of Greenoch, visited friends in the neighborhood recently.

Mr and Mrs W. J. Ritchie visited friends in Pinkerton the beginning of the week. Miss Marjorie returned with them after holidaying with relatives. Miss Robinson, Toronto, is spending a week's holidays at the home of her brother, D. Robinson. Misses Alma, Dorothea and Myrtle Robinson and Mr Cecil Moffat spent the first of the week with friends at Hepworth and Sauble Beach.

Congratulations to Misses Marjorie and Dorothy Ritchie who successfully passed their exams. Mr Victor Williams spent the first of the week with his sister, Mrs J. J. Mortley, Arthur and brought back the word that Mr Mortley was recovering slowly but surely from his terrible accident. Little Charlie Mortley and baby sister, are guests of Grandma Williams these days. Mr J. D. McRayden and sisters accompanied Miss K. Black home to Chesley the first of the week. Quite a number from Edge Hill enjoyed the ball game and wicker roast at Glenora last Friday.

CARD OF THANKS

To all who by word or deed expressed sympathy or did acts of kindness during the illness and at the death of wife and mother, we wish to express our deep appreciation. —Arch. Ferguson and family

Dutchman's Address to his Dog

"You was only a dog; but I wish I was you. Ven you go to bed you shutt round three times and lay down; ven I go to bed I have to lock de place, vind up de clock, put out de cat, adress myself, scold mid my wife, walk mit de baby, ven it cries and maybe ven I gets myself to bed it is time to get up. Ven you get up, you shutt stretch yourself, scratch your neck a leetle, and you was up. I have to light de fire, put on de kiddie, scrap some wild my wife, and git myself some breakfast. You play around all day and have plenty of fun. I have to work all day and have plenty trouble. Ven you die, you was dead; ven I die I haf to go to hell yet."
