

PRICEVILLE AND VICINITY

PRICEVILLE

Friday, Monday, is beautiful, and there are a lot of potatoes to lift yet. A Mr. Blair is loading a car. They are 40¢ a bag.

Mr. and Mrs. Colin MacMillan of Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. John Burgess of Durham, visited on Sunday at Mr. James MacLean's. Miss Jean MacLean accompanied the latter home. She will visit a few days with her mother.

Some from here attended the Anniversary services in the new Presbyterian Church, Durham, Sunday last. Mr. and Mrs. Alex Carson visited on Sunday at Haywards Falls. Mr. Wm. Alderson returned home after spending a few days with friends in Toronto.

Mr. Andrew Milne—brother of our doctor—paid a flying visit here while on his honeymoon trip. Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Maltby (nee Joan Buckham) were here and called upon her aunt, Mrs. W. Alderson, also on their honeymoon trip. We wish the young couples all success and happiness.

The wedding bells predicted recently, were fulfilled on Thursday evening last, when Mr. Andrew Ford and Miss Louisa Jones were united in marriage by Rev. S. G. McCormack, before a large company of friends and neighbors, numbering over 50, who owing to the circumstances of the building, were unable to see the ceremony, though the clear voice of the officiating clergyman could be heard throughout. After congratulations, by young and old, the company sat down to well-laden tables, the bride's cake, three stories high, adorning one end of the table. The evening was spent in sociable conversation until the local band accompanied to serenade and celebrate the event. Their instruments consisted of dinner bells, old saws, tin horns, and shot guns, which furnished the deeper bass to the Anvil chorus. The inefficiency of the L. C. A. was in evidence at times in one of the company whose hilarity was only equalled by the sober company outside. At a later hour the younger people enjoyed themselves in a dance at Mr. Sam McDermid's, near by. The wedding gifts were handsome and numerous and varied from dry goods to silverware and cutlery. The bride was becomingly gowned in a dress of new rust shade Duchesse satin, fittingly trimmed with lace. One of our fine remaining eligible young ladies, deems that it may put us all in the notion of getting married too.

Mr. and Mrs. Colin McIntyre and Archie, Dornoch, spent Sunday with Mrs. J. O. Greenwood. Mr. and Mrs. Hugh McArthur were guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Beaton, at Bunnassan, Sunday.

While laboring among you you have been faithful in your duties and have done your best to proclaim the gospel of Jesus Christ and have been true to that gospel. Your daily life has been an example of the kindly act and ministrations of a true Christian.

In the future as you are called to other fields of labor, we pray that you may be given strength for the task and that you may be kept so close to the Saviour that many may be led by your life to serve the Master you proclaim.

Presentation at New England Hall At the close of the morning service Sunday, Oct. 9th, in New England Hall, which was Rev. D. J. Storm's farewell, the congregation took Mr. and Mrs. Storms by surprise. Following the benediction two of the brethren walked to the front, one reading the following address, while the other handed Mr. Storms a purse of money. Mr. Storms feelingly replied expressing their thanks and the pleasure it had been to serve the little congregation and that they would never forget their friendship and kindness. Dear Mr and Mrs Storms,— As you are about to leave our

When YOUR bell rings—a personal service

When the bell on your telephone rings, somebody has a personal message for you. It means that someone is making use of a personal equipment which we have provided, and that he has secured connection with the personal equipment reaching you. More than this, he has secured the personal use of the necessary connecting equipment in a central office and the personal services of one or more telephone operators.

When you are talking with him you are using hundreds or even thousands of dollars' worth of telephone equipment. And in order that this equipment may always be ready for your personal use, it is closely watched, tested, checked. It's a personal service.
