It is a sacred duty to everyone in the township to attend this service and we would like to see a very large attendance out on this occasion. The Egremont Council are especially requested to attend.

BLYTH'S CORNERS

The young people of the community club had a very enjoyable masquerade social at the home of Mr. and Mrs Dave Marshall on Friday evening last.

Threshing operations are nearly completed around the "Corners." If we were correctly informed, Mr. Jas. Blyth sets the pace for yield of tons, which yielded 35 bushels to the acre, and which we do not doubt as Jimmy is a good farmer.

Mr J. Peters arrived home from the West a few days ago. Crops in the vicinity he visited were not up to normal owing to rust and frost and wet weather a couple of weeks also added its unsavory effects.

Mr Bert Watson and family have had a very busy few months remodeling their house. Out of courtesy, if not officially, we inspected the work and had no trouble in pronouncing it a model of neatness and convenience from bottom to top.

Mr Henry Damm last week purchased a car load of feeding cattle in the vicinity of Desboro, paying in the neighborhood of $7.25 per cwt. They certainly are a fine even bunch of cattle. The cattle were drove on foot, a distance of 20 miles in slight-ly over a day.

Mr Clarence Damm and his young bride left the Corners some time ago to occupy their new home on a farm couple of miles north of Ayrton. Clarence will be much missed in the neighborhood.

P. earnestness, eloquence and appealing force, the sermon by Rev. W. H. Smith in Knox Church, Durham, on Sunday morning last, could scarcely be excelled. It is impossible to turn an indifferent ear to the appeal for funds to establish the "glad tidings of salvation" on the frontiers of our great country. Small wonder the session of the General Council of the United Church held in Toronto last week, refused to send a preacher into Grey Presbytery to boost the Maintenance and Extension Fund, when right on the ground we have such an eloquent advocate. The Thank-offering after such an appeal, should go over: the top.

RUDDY CANADIAN APPLES FOR OVERSEAS

"What shall I send the folks in the Old Country?" is a query heard as the Christmas season approaches, but if the average Canadian realized how much our big juicy apples are appreciated and enjoyed by people overseas the problem would be immediately solved.

Canada's luscious rudy apples are relished by young and old alike. They symbolize our brilliant sunshine and warm summer days and they do look Christmassy and cheerful. Northern Spies, McIntosh Reds and Baldwins are the best and most popular to carry your kind thoughts and good wishes across the sea and standard boxes and barrels of choice hand-picked fruit, Government Inspected, are procurable at reasonable prices from any grocer while the matter of shipment is as simple as the mailing of a card.

The Canadian National Express will call for your apples, transport and deliver them by quick service to any station in Great Britain, Ireland and most European countries.

The transportation charge from Montreal and Quebec up to November 15th or from St. John and Halifax thereafter, by direct steamer to points in Great Britain, Ireland and the Channel Islands is $3.10 per standard box and $6.20 per standard barrel, including refrigeration.

For rates to Canadian ports, through rates to Continental stations and other particulars, consult any Canadian National Express Agent.

Farewell Presentation to Mr. and Mrs. A. Henry

Thursday evening last about seventy-five neighbors and friends, also a number of relatives from Durham, gathered at the home of Mr and Mrs Andrew Henry, to spend a social evening and bid them farewell ere they leave for Toronto, where they will in future reside. At an appropriate time, W. H. Hunter, read an address, Mrs R. Matthews presenting them with a 34 piece tray set of silverplate. Mrs Henry in a neat speech, thanked all for the handsome gift. Refreshments being served, the evening was spent in games and dancing.

As Mr and Mrs Henry are highly respected citizens of this locality, our best wishes go with them to their new home. Following is the address: To Mr and Mrs Andrew Henry: Dear Friends:

Shakespeare speaks of this life as a drama. Some of us always appear on the same stage and repeat the same acts, others of us change our location, but it matters little so long as we play our part well.

It will seem very strange to us when you leave our neighborhood and go to the city to live. Both of you were born within a stone's throw, so speak of your present home, grown to young manhood and to young womanhood here; married and have lived in this part of the country all your lives. It will indeed be a change of location in the drama of life, especially for you Mrs Henry, when you go to the city. But though the scene shifts, the life remains constant; you will be yourselves no matter where you go. The same characteristics which mark you here will mark you in Toronto. The sunny, kindly, cheerful disposition of Mr Henry, everdy and willing to help a good cause or lend a helping hand in time of need, will long be remembered, and perhaps even more so will be the kind, loving acts of Mrs Henry, who was a true friend to all who knew her and to all the children of S. S. No. 12. You both will be sadly missed by this school section and by the Presbyterian church at Dromore with which you have always been actively associated. We hope and trust you will enjoy your life in the city, that you will embrace the advantages of city life as you have always done with the country life. We are thankful to know that the country and city are coming nearer together as the years roll round.

We would like you to accept this tray of silverware as a token of remembrance from your neighbors. The intrinsic value of the gift is small, but it is fraught with love and good wishes. We wish you Godspeed on your journey and trust that health, happiness and prosperity may attend you in your new home.

Signed on behalf of your neighbors and friends:
Mrs S. M. Patterson
Mrs R. Matthews
Mrs W. H. Hunter

This has been going on ever since, till to-day the Bank has over 600 branches in Canada and Newfoundland, with a offices in London, Paris, New York, Mexico and other centres.

The value of the Bank to the country, however, is not to be measured so much by the amount of its capital, or by the size of its dividends, as by the security it has given to those who have trusted it, the facilities it has furnished for the exchange and the increase of commodities, and the assistance it has contributed to the development of the country.

It has absorbed seven or eight other banks in its history, in no case with loss to depositors. The records of the bank, intact from the beginning, are closely associated with the history and development of Canada.

To-day, notwithstanding its influential connections, it is essentially a bank of the people, a Bank where small accounts are welcome, a Bank to which all classes can come with confidence in the security of deposits entrusted to its care and with the assurance that every facility consistent with sound banking will be extended to those who seek its services.

110 YEARS OLD

This week the Bank of Montreal is celebrating the 110 years of its existence. Its office in a rented building, it was founded in 1817 by nine merchants, it's paid up capital being but $350,000 while its assets at end of September last, are in excess of $12,000,000.

When founded, Montreal had a population of 26,000, all of then Canada less than half a million. No steamship had crossed the ocean, railways were unknown and telegraphic communication was yet for the future. The canoe and stage coach were chief means of transportation. Montreal exported furs, Quebec exported timber; Toronto, their "Midway York" was beginning to have ambitions.

This new institution filled a long-felt want. It provided a medium of exchange, hitherto lacking, and served along the infant industries of the country. After a year it established a branch in Quebec and soon after, branches at Kingston and York, and Fiddes of the Queen St. C. was present and gave an interesting address to the children on the its, customs and manners of these children, and the differences many respects, yet at heart a desire to do good, are revealed. A pretty scene "Thanksgiving" was then rendered. To the 11. S. as each row of children stepped to the platform, singing their respective song of thankfulness before gates were opened, all present would hoped that the same would always carry them true life. Miss McGillivray had the child well trained and is deserving appreciation bestowed upon her evening. Mrs W. Porter ably aided at the piano. 115 was taken a Thankoffering collection.

Mr. McCormick occupied the chair in program and of the social an excellent order. Rev. Mr. S. Owen Sound was present and ed his versatility by being able to sing as well as speak. The man also made some appropriate remarks and there was violin music. Mr Wm Noble on violin and mother, Mrs Wm Noble on piano and James Langill in song and recitation. The ladies of this box branch are active in good and will find many avenues in to dispose of the receipts.
