

PRICEVILLE AND VICINITY

PRICEVILLE

Today is very warm and wet. We have had wonderful weather to get the farm work done.

Listowel Monday to spend the day with relatives. Rev. D. J. Storms and family have moved from the village.

PRICEVILLE & GLENELG

This beautiful overhead Thanksgiving morn, 7th Nov., 1927, reminds us that it is the duty of the whole human race to give thanks to the Giver of all good for all the blessings he has bestowed on us since last Thanksgiving.

But on this beautiful morning we are again reminded that many of our circumstances are in desolate circumstances from the effects of a sudden change and what a beautiful world would be for those blessed with a superabundance of all necessities to make life comfortable, could have it said of them: Blessed are they who remember the poor and needy for they were hungry and they fed them, cold and they gave them raiment.

HOPEVILLE

Miss Margaret Wallace, Woodbridge is visiting her sister, Mrs G. Riddell. Mrs John Scott and Mrs Nathan Haw were appointed delegates to the Provincial Convention of Women's Institutes in Toronto.

We're not going to go over the universe to tell a story but we take that part of the Co. of Grey, called Glenelg, and it becomes us all to give thanks for the many blessings we received since the first pioneer set his feet on some of its hills and hollows. How thankful they would be if they had their craving appetite filled with the food grown amongst beech roots called "potatoes."

did not fare sumptuously; the couple of acres sown in wheat were not separated from straw and in many instances the barn part was the lower end of the old log cabin and the threshing floor was made of mother Earth. But under all those trying circumstances the good old pioneers didn't forget to give thanks to the Good Giver. There were no special days set apart but every day and every night, in their own humble manner thanked the Lord for His kind remembrance of them and His good promises for the future in saying 'I will not leave you comfortless.'

Now we begin to draw a contrast between long ago and the present. Could we take an imaginary trip to our youthful days and begin to indulge in the manner then in existence, we could see the generation of that far away day snow baling one another with only blue derry pants and white cotton shirts and were entering inside their cosy fireplace, kept going by the good mothers, all felt as healthy as a blackbird flying from tree to tree. But what do we see nowadays? Our boys and girls are heavily protected from the inclement weather and are not as healthy as those of long ago. Those of that far away day who are now living, will be found sitting closely by the big stove comfortably heated for its own purpose. But we must let old time pass away.

We now come back to 1927. The winter of 1927 was exceptionally mild and those engaged in such work as teaming were thankful for such just enough snow to make the cutters run smoothly. The month of April came in mild and somewhat dry and afforded a large number of farmers to sow at an early date and in all cases seeding was done before the 24th of May. The tillers of the soil were thankful of the promise given that seed time and harvest shall not fail while the world was in existence.

Now we come to the busy season. For having the farmer of long ago, would grind his old scythe and cut his hay with the Armstrong mower, (his arms) and took it up on an old-fashioned sleigh. The farmer of 1927 pulled the old mower from its winter quarters, grind the sections and entered his field of heavy timothy and clover, sitting cozily on his seat watching his gay team going at a ten-acre a day work. He is delighted also, to sit on his hay rake with the abundant crop set in rows and in many instances put on the hay rake by a hay loader. On entering his comfortable barn there he has a hay fork to unload the hay on his wagon rack in less than 15 minutes and in general all were favored by having a good crop. The harvest was favorably garnered in in due time and a good crop realized.

Thrashing operations came next and the result in general was a good yield and summing up the whole there is reason to return thanks to the Good Giver for the many blessings He bestows on us all and we are so unworthy of the very least of His goodness. In giving a backward look there are many on this Thanksgiving Day who are laid to rest in the different cemeteries, who one year ago were in good health. Those who are deprived of their activity on account of ailment of some nature, hold positions of honor for a long term of years, will be apt to reflect on the past, but by patience they yield to the will of the Almighty who is the Healer of all our diseases.

Now we should be thankful that we are living in a country where there is peace and quietness and it is a regretful fact after all the blessings bestowed on all classes of people the small differences in opinion that exist of the future blessings that all expect to be the recipients at the close of their career.

A certain minister who on several occasions preached in Priceville, said the three things that would surprise him when he would get to his heavenly home would be to find some missing that he expected to see there, some there he didn't expect to see, and the greatest of all, to find himself there. So in many controversies going on in the world's paper, the Globe, let those that are debarring others, take good care that they are being admitted to the home of many mansions themselves. The Master said "I am the vine, ye are the branches." No matter whether we are Baptists, Catholics, Unitarians or Presbyterians or any other Christian denomination, thanks be to the Lord. He is no respecter of persons.

Met on Saturday, Nov. 12th, members all present; minutes read and adopted. By-law No 694 "Nominations and polling places" was passed. Whitmore-Black: That payment voucher No 7 for Road Improvements be adopted and payments made, Total amount $249.94. Carried.

Whitmore-McKechnie: That claims for sheep killed or worried be paid as follows: Chas Connor, 2 killed, $25; S. H. Wright, 1 killed, $14. Carried. McKechnie-Weppier: That $34. Turnbul be refunded $2.00 dog tax, he having no dog. Carried. McKechnie-Whitmore: That this Council agree to contribute the sum of $18 towards repairing road on TL, Gle's and Egret's, at lots 22 and 23, con 4, SDR, provided that Egremont Council will spend a like sum for the same purpose. Carried. McKechnie-Black: That Dan Campbell be paid $6.25 for plow, broken while plowing road on townlines Artemesia & Glenelg. Carried.

Weppier-Black: That the following accounts be paid: Reeve and Clerk, $4 each for selecting jurors; Durham Chronicle, Wm Weir, telephone 10, 1927, $8.95; Wm Weir, telephone $1.35; S. H. Wright, 6 inspections of sheep $9; H. H. McDonald, on salary $75. Carried.

Therefore be it resolved that we, the Council of the Municipality of the Township of Glenelg, respectfully request the Government of the Province of Ontario to consider the amending of the Dog Tax and the Sheep Protection Act so as to distribute the burden of providing for the payment of damages, due to the deprivations of dogs more equally between rural and urban municipalities and be it further resolved that one copy of this resolution be forwarded to the Honorable, the Minister of Agriculture of Ontario and one copy to the clerk of the County Council at Owen Sound, with the view of obtaining the approval of the Council of the County.

Regarding the above resolution it is suggested that the Act be amended, so as to require all clerks of municipalities within a county to forward to the County Clerk, on or before a stated time in each year, a statement of the amount of dog taxes collected and also a statement of the amount paid out, under the Act. From this information the County Clerk could ascertain the percentage that the total loss, due to the deprivations of dogs, bears to the total of dog taxes collected by all municipalities within the county. The County Council would be required to collect such percentage of dog taxes from all municipalities, not having made payments under the Act to such extent and to recompense all municipalities having made payments under the Act in excess of such percentage. Council adjourned to Thursday, Dec. 15, at 10 a.m. sharp. H. H. McDonald, Clerk

SWINTON PARK

Everything is moving along quietly in the Park and on the farm work is not so urgent. But in the change from field to stable of the stock, there is many a jolt as the young stock do not like to be tied up. One of our ladies got a severe kick from a calf the other day, causing unpleasant thoughts to pass through her mind. However there are jars in all walks of life.

For instance we notice in the Dundalk Herald of recent date that there was not one hog at the Show this fall. There must have been an awful lot of people absent that day. After the big snow storms at Thanksgiving, we are again having fine weather. But some of the roads are getting muddy, but as it draws near election time they will be fully repaired—at least in theory.

Mr Wm Leek and son of Detroit, spent a few days in the Park and enjoyed a rabbit hunt last week. The hunters all claim that the deer are very plentiful but no one would think of shooting one against the law.

Mr and Mrs Jas. Hardy and Mrs. Hardy Sr. visited in Durham recently with Mrs Jas Walker and other friends.

Mr and Mrs Jas Kennedy and children of Shelburne, spent Sunday with the Alcorn's here.

Mr and Mrs Thos. Weir of North Egremont visited at the old Heard home Sunday evening.

We are sorry to say that Mrs Wm. Haw is in bed sick for a long time and her many friends hope for a speedy recovery.

A few have finished plowing, others are still at it. Some threshing still to do. The yields are not so large as early in the season.

Miss Lena Wilson, Toronto, is visiting her sister, Mrs Bert Knox and calling on many old acquaintances in the Park.

IT WILL TAKE A LOT OF STRENGTHENING!

This is the season of the year when the annual chicken suppers make their appearance in many of the rural churches. And isn't it amusing that among the hundreds who attend are a few who walk up and deposit $5 and then spend the next three hours gorging on huge quantities of roast chicken, hot vegetables, salads, pastries, etc. and sit in comfort listening to an expensive program by talented artists and imagine they are thus strengthening the walls of Jerusalem. — Walkerton Bruce Herald & Times.

A wheelbarrow will stand on its two legs and never move a foot unless you lift it up and push it along. So would business: you have to pick it up and push it along.

EDGE HILL

Mr and Mrs W. J. Ritchie, Miss Dorothy and Dan, spent the first of the week with Mr and Mrs Jim Weir of Egremont.

Misses Myrtle Robinson, Reta Glencross and Ethel Anderson left on Monday to spend the winter months in Toronto.

Mr and Mrs C. H. Moffat and family and Mr J. G. Moffat of Durham, visited at the home of Mr Adara Anderson the first of the week.

Mr and Mrs Thos. Glencross treated about 60 young people to a dance at their home last Friday. Everyone had a most enjoyable time.

ZION

Mr and Mrs Harold Lawrence of North Egremont were guests at the Davis home the first of the week.

Mr and Mrs R. T. Edwards, Mina and friend, motored to Shelburne on Sunday and enjoyed a few hours visit with Mr and Mrs Ivan Edwards.

Mr Chas. Robson is spending this week visiting with friends in Toronto and attending the Winter Fair.

Rev. Mr Fiddes is holding special services in Zion Church this week. Misses Margaret Greenwood and Reta Glencross left Monday for Toronto where they intend to spend some time.

The Zion Epworth League members enjoyed a progressive crokinole party at the home of Mr R. T. Edwards, Nov. 8th. Myrtle Glencross and Ray McClochlin held highest scores and after the game lunch was served.

Mr Jim Banks Mrs M. Smith and Charlie Smith motored to Arthur the first of the week and visited with Mr and Mrs Kenneth Vaughan. Miss Rebecca Banks, Toronto, returned with them to spend a few days in this vicinity.

Mrs J. O. Greenwood, Archie and Alva, spent a day recently with Mr. Sandy and Miss Brown, Bentinck.

The monthly meeting of Zion's Women's Institute was held last week at the home of Mrs R. T. Edwards, sixteen ladies gathering and a pleasant and profitable afternoon was spent. Roll call was responded to with a potato recipe; recitation by Miss Lily Black; debate, "Resolved that the farmer's daughter has more enjoyment than her sister who works in the office. The affirmative side won out. At the close of the meeting Mrs Edwards and Mina served a dainty lunch.

The youth of Zion attended the party given by Reta Glencross at her parental home and report a good time.

Mr and Mrs Walker, Vandeleur, were guests of Mr and Mrs Will Timmins the first of the week.

When Sir Wilfrid Laurier Was in Paisley

One of the most entertaining books we have read for a long time, has been "Candid Chronicles" by Hector Charlesworth, now Editor of Toronto "Saturday Night," but for many years its musical and dramatic critic. He has with him a smooth and flowing style that unconsciously carries the reader along and while he is known in the political world as a Conservative of the strongest type, yet in this book of his memoirs of his many years' experiences with the press of Toronto, it would be hard to find a book written from a more unbiased viewpoint.

"Candid Chronicles" deals in part with the many famous and distinguished people he has had to interview and "write up" for his paper, and his work in this regard has carried him much over Eastern Canada and brought him in close touch with many a celebrity. Many amusing incidents have come to light in this book of the various incidents and experiences that politicians are heir to when on tour. One in particular has taken us and it comes from a source that is local, our own Paisley in the County of Bruce.

It was on the South African War question, when Hon. J. Israel Tarte, was a big man in Dominion affairs. "Tarte held that the Government should immediately call Parliament together and submit the question to the representatives of the people—the course pursued by Borden in 1914 with reference to the Great War.

I heard what is said to have been the only financial speech Sir Wilfrid ever delivered on the stump. His great power lay in elucidating and answering questions of general policy; but just as the comedian longs to play Hamlet (and vice versa) Sir Wilfrid aspired to shine in a field in which men like Sir Geo. Foster and Hon. Fielding were past masters. He spent part of his vacation in the summer of 1899 preparing notes from blue books for such an effort: an unnecessary effort he said, for it had been arranged that Mr Fielding should accompany him in the speaking tour projected for the Autumn.

The speech was made at Paisley in the heart of Bruce Co., the occasion being the first visit to that region of Scottish Liberal stalwarts.

Sir Wilfrid thought it particularly fitting that he should address a Scottish audience in terms of dollars and cents, and generally announced his intention of making a financial address, tho' disclaiming he was a man of figures. It sounded well, but Mr. Fielding sitting at his side, was driven almost to profanity in his efforts to make whispered corrections of the errors with which it bristled.

The Scots listeners were frankly puzzled, but woke up to enthusiasm when Sir Wilfrid got back to his true oratorical matter.

After the meeting, Sir Wilfrid announced that he was going to call on a friend or two, and entrusted his bag to Alexander Smith, the well-known Ottawa lawyer, at that time Liberal organizer, to carry to the hotel. This was Mr Fielding's chance. "Get rid of that speech," he whispered to Smith. The organizer fell in with the suggestion and, as he crossed the picturesque bridge of Paisley, extracted the precious notes and scattered them on the bosom of the Saugeen River. Presumably they ultimately reached Lake Huron and Sir Wilfrid never knew what became of the fruits of his summer's browsing among the blue books.
