MISS MACPHAIL ON THE BUDGET

Most Arresting Speech this Year

Miss MacPhail on Tuesday last week got her gloves on and fairly waded into Grits, Tories and certain Progressives and only the 40 minutes allowed, prevented her from saying more.

From the Ottawa Journal

"Parliament has been well described as 'A theatre magnificently lit, for dull acting, undeserved applause'."

It would be less that if it had more members who could speak with the wit, satire and good humor of Miss Agnes MacPhail.

Miss MacPhail's speech on Tuesday last, was in the manner of its delivery by long odds the best and most arresting that the House has heard this year.

It was inferior, there were the juvenile economic dogmatists that one often hears from the young man one year out of university, and much of those high sounding platitudes about agriculture that doctrinaire politicians and professors have been mulling for centuries.

But, these defects forgotten and the manner of delivery only considered, the speech was an excellent one: passionate enough to show sincerity; witty beyond the capacity of most males in the House; satirical enough to delight a Lloyd George.

Miss MacPhail has captured the best parliamentary manner. It is a manner, unfortunately, not much prevalent here, but it is a manner that would go to Westminster.

The old pompous rhetoric has gone out of date, and it is the master of the light touch and the deft stroke that is now supreme.

Miss MacPhail has developed the latter gift to an extraordinary and surprising degree, and whether one agrees with her or not, one cannot but salute her for her skill.

That, indeed, is what Parliament did for her on Tuesday, as for forty minutes, Grit and Tory remained glued to their seats, alternately amused, irritated and chastised by the flash of her eloquence.

GLENELG TOWNSHIP (1840)

With eyes fast closed, as one at rest, Lord Glenelg sat, supremely blessed.

Glenelg was snoring in his chair— His custom every day— Then he got up and rubbed his eyes To brush the sleep away.

—Cobourg Star, Feb. 7, 1838

This township was named after Charles Grant, of Glenelg, in the County of Inverness, Scotland, who was raised to the peerage as Lord Glenelg in 1836.

The word Glenelg spells alike from either end. Lord Glenelg's father was a director of the East India Company, and his brother, the Right Hon. Sir Robert Grant, was Governor of Bombay.

When the Duke of Wellington succeeded Lord Goderich as Premier in 1828, Mr Charles Grant was President of the Board of Trade, but he left the Government, along with Lord Palmerston and Dudley, Mr. Huskisson and Mr Lamb (afterwards Lord Melbourne). He proposed resolutions concerning the Corn Laws which were carried and formed the basis of Wellington's sliding scale.

In 1831 he took office under Lord Grey as assistant to carry the Reform Bill. In Melbourne's Government, was Secretary of State for War and the Colonies. In that capacity he had much to do with Canadian affairs during the critical rebellion period.

Miss Lizars said of him: Lord Glenelg with the best intentions in the world, had a positive genius for doing the wrong thing.

HAMPDEN

The lion must have been angry when he awoke last Thursday morning to find that the lamb was ahead of 1928.

We presume after two or three days of constant roaring that he has tired himself out and will let us have some sunny weather for a change.

Quite a number from this locality attended the funeral of the late R. J. Ball who was buried in Hanover last Wednesday.

Mr and Mrs N. Metzger spent the week end with friends in Neustadt.

Mr and Mrs Wm Mather and daughter of S. Bentinck, visited the Henderson family recently.

Mr Jas Horsburgh is assisting Wm. Marshall for the coming season, and Mr Rudolph Spelman is helping Mr. Sam Koenig.

The play 'Deacon Dubbs', put on by the young people in the schoolhouse on Friday was not very well attended, owing to the heavy condition of the roads.

Those who did brave the storm were well satisfied with the evening's entertainment.

Mr Bert Rahn is busy these days, preparing to move to the 'Mill', preparatory to work the farm and have the chopping mill in working order.

Mr and Mrs Wm Riland are moving to the farm vacated by Mr. Rahn.

Mr Albert Widmeyer has disposed of his farm and is leaving for Kitchener about the middle of March.

Arrested on Forgery Charge

Downfall due to free use of Morphine

Truly, the war is still with us. Scarcely a day passes, that in some manner or other, it is not brought home to our sorrow.

And the great pity of it all is that many living victims of war's tragedies, are to-day not to blame or responsible for their present actions.

Such a case comes to us this Tuesday, when John C. Noble, aged 37, has been taken charge of in Toronto for forging the name of Dr. N. Black, Toronto, for prescriptions for morphine.

Mr. Noble was considering entering the Baptist ministry, when he signed up for overseas in the air service. During his overseas period he suffered a severe accident by a fall from his machine, so crippling him that his life was despaired of.

To ease the intense pain and suffering through which he passed, morphine was administered to him freely, never realizing it would be his worst enemy in after years. In fact his case was considered hopeless and it was deemed best to let his remaining days be as easy as possible for him.

However he made a wonderful recovery, but he has also carried with him the desire for this drug, and it has grown to be such an insatiable desire that nothing stood in the way.

According to Noble's story, he has been taking 1 1/2 grains of morphine a day.

This only pity is attached to this young man's condition and which makes it hard for his people to bear up under. Mr Noble is a son-in-law of Mrs John Pallaise, Toronto, and formerly of Glenelg Centre.
