Miss MacPhail who had made her budget speech in the afternoon and was receiving the congratulations of her friends on it, looked charming in a French gown of embroidered georgette over peach crepe and wearing a corsage boquet of violets.

The toast to the King and Grey County having been given, several of the guests launched into the praises of their native section of Ontario. Mr C. R. McIntosh, M. P. sang of the glories of the natural beauty of Grey County,-her hills and valleys, her rivers and woods, contrasting its natural loveliness with the forced charms of urban existence.

Mr W. P. Telford, M. P. said while he disliked speech making, he could not let the opportunity pass without a word on behalf of Grey County and expressing the thanks of North Grey Mr and Mrs Wm. Mr Hector McKinnon and Miss MacPhail voiced the sentiments that the charm of Grey County was in its people-their real true worth and generous hospitality having much to do with their longings to get back "home." Mr John L. McDonald expressed the appreciation of all present at the opportunity of meeting together and enjoying each others company, at the same time assuring the hostess of the affection that Grey Co. had for her as they realized how safe their interests were in her hands.
