It was only a short time ago that science found a way of putting long distance telephone lines in cables. Already the first big job of erecting telephone cable (106 miles from Toronto to Buffalo) is nearing completion.

Origin of Township Names in Grey Co.

HOLLAND TOWNSHIP (1840)

On this shall Holland's dying speech be read. Here But's confession and his wooden head.

W. Mason. This township may have been named after Major Samuel Holland, an engineering officer who aided General Wolfe at Louisburg and at the siege of Quebec. He became Surveyor-General of Canada and his nephew, Joseph Bouchette, author of the British Dominions in North America, ultimately became his successor as Surveyor-General of Lower Canada.

Lord Holland was Chancellor of the Duchy of Lancaster in Lord Melbourne's government, 1835-41 and it is possible that this township was named in his honor.

"AND IRELAND"

Appropos of St. Patrick's Birthday, the 17th of March

Somehow it is always "And Ireland." Nature started it. There is the large continent of Europe and the considerable island of Britain, then like a drop in the sea for good measure, "And Ireland." Even in geology Ireland had to stand alone. In politics also she has been very largely a separate unit, usually "And Ireland."

Fighting each other in Christian charity And hating each other for the love of God. There is however, another side to the story. "And Ireland" has made a real contribution to the English-speaking world. Ireland has produced great orators, great statesmen, great soldiers, great poets, great lovers and great Christians. If St. Patrick was Scottish born, at least his life blossomed and flowered in Ireland.

"And Ireland" is more than a tall of the British kilt. In the work of colonization and government it has been a large section of the kilt itself. Therefore on March 17th, let young Canadians be thankful for that most romantic, interesting and wilful spot, "And Ireland."

ARE WE OVER-GOVERNED?

(Winchester Press) Will the time soon come when County Councils will be done away with? What practical use are they anyway? Could not all they do be divided between the Provincial Government and the Municipal Councils?

In Fergus, says the Acton Free Press, much comment has been made and a plan sort of formulated for that town's withdrawal from the County Council. There were many threats last year of towns withdrawing from County government. In numerous other circles same things are discussed quite frequently. And why is it that such comment seems general where the work of the County Council is considered? The reason is simple enough. The County Councils have outlived their usefulness. They have been expensive in their upkeep and much of the work done by the local municipal bodies, who are in closer touch with matters now dealt with by the County Councils. They have been given too much scope of activity. The more enquiry there is into their activities the more will be the demand for the curbing of their powers or for the abolition of the body entirely.

The directors of Desboro Agricultural Society are holding a euchre on March 14th to raise funds. Likely the high prizes will be a bag of potatoes for the gentlemen and a bottle of pickles to the lady winner.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

Seven years ago a farmer living only a few miles from the city hung his vest on the barnyard fence. A calf chewed up a pocket of the garment in which there was a standard gold watch. A short time ago the animal, a staid old milk cow, was butchered for beef and the timepiece was found in such a position between the lungs of the cow that the respiration—the closing in and filling of the lungs—kept the stem winder wound up, and the watch had lost but four minutes in seven years.

Homestead entries in the four western provinces in 1927 totalled 6,417, as compared with 6,012 the year before.

Former Bentinck Resident Passes in Hamilton

The death of John Heddlie took place at the home of his son, M. K. Heddlie 558 Burlington St. East, Hamilton, on Friday, March 9th, after an illness of one week's duration, at the advanced age of ninety years.

The late Mr Heddlie was born in Kirkwall, Orkney Islands, and spent fifteen years of his life on the sailing packet "Paragon" plying between Kirkwall and Leith. He came to Canada in 1873 and for many years sailed on the Great Lakes as Captain of a freighter.

On March 9, 1873, exactly forty-eight years to the day he died, he was married in Hamilton to Christina McCallum, youngest daughter of the late Dougald McCallum of Bentinck Township. She predeceased him 5 years ago.

After retiring from sea-faring life, Mr and Mrs Heddlie moved to Bentinck Township and conducted a general store at Mulock or "Corinth" as it was known at that time and later moved to Lamlash where he continued store-keeping and also was postmaster for some years. About 20 years ago they removed to Hamilton and since then have resided with their son Malcolm who conducts an extensive store business in that city.

He was a life-long Presbyterian and a member of St Andrews Church, Hamilton.

A service was held at the home on Sunday evening, in charge of his pastor, Rev. L. C. Cowan, assisted by Rev. Robt. Allan and Rev. James Taylor of Grimsby.

The funeral took place to Rocky Sauguen cemetery on Monday, after the arrival of the noon train and even with the bad condition of the roads many old neighbors and friends followed the remains to their last resting place. Rev. B. D. Armstrong of Durham took charge of the service at the graveside.

Albert Kress Proposes Student Insurance

The London Free Press, of Tuesday last, states: "A plan for student insurance was advanced by Albert E. Kress, one of the students, at last night's meeting of the University of Western Ontario's Students Administrative assembly and will be put to a vote of the student body at the forthcoming elections, scheduled last night for April 4th, with nominations to take place 10 days previous."

Mr. Kress, in proposing his scheme pointed out that some students of the university are more liable to financial embarrassment than others. He said that when a student took ill and had to go to the hospital, for instance, the expense involved might easily temporarily cripple his college career. To obviate the necessity of students having to give up their course owing to expenses incurred through illness, he plan is to assess the entire college enrollment premiums (the amount of which is yet to be determined) and create a fund to cover hospital costs. The assembly heard Mr. Kress' suggestion with much interest and after general indorsement decided that it should be put before the students in the form of a plebiscite.

Initiation Problem Another vote that will be taken in connection with the initiation problem. This matter has been a fiery one during the entire past year and the assembly's disposition of the case made. Arthur Hill, treasurer of the student government put forth the suggestions that initiations in future be of a milder form than the rough and tumble battles of the past. He declared that something in the nature of an orderly parade with floats and music through the city, in place of the wild mob rush with a tug-of-war across the river at the university bridge prior to the parade. Falling ball game on a larger scale might provide considerable enjoyment of spectators and participants.

Wm Alder of the Highway Dept. gave an interesting and instructive address on the subject of "Road Building and Maintenance." The various kinds of roads were described with approximate cost per mile and the development of the Highway transportation was compared with steam and electric railways and canal building. The thanks of the meeting was tendered Mr Alder for his address. E. Falconer and M. Knechtel were appointed to represent the Brotherhood in a debate to be held with the A.O.T.S on the 27th. Mr Padfield and Mr Moore agreed to take the Scripture question and answer at the next meeting March 20. An interesting meeting closed about 9:25 p.m.

The happy merchant

Never before in the history of the world has it been possible for a merchant in good credit to do so much business with so little capital looked up in stock.

One important reason for the present prosperity is that instead of having to buy a big stock at the beginning of each season he is now able to buy small stocks and replenish them promptly by Long Distance.

Keep your customers for miles around coming to you for whatever they need. In every way of inducing them to visit your store or to order from you by Long Distance and they will do so—you will not be seriously bothered by competition.

Long Distance is making happy merchants in some towns. Don't overlook its great possibilities.
