The funeral of the late Neil McDougall of ODR was largely attended Monday last from his residence to Evergreen cemetery.

The funeral was conducted by Rev. Robt. Patton, recently returned from Scotland and R. Dingwall, two old neighbor boys.

Six of his near neighbors acted as pall bearers and W G Watson was undertaker. Sympathy is expressed to the friends in their sad bereavement.

Mr Lou Frock unloaded a car of fertilizer Tuesday.

We tender hearty congratulations to Dr and Mrs Milne on the arrival of a baby girl on April 25. Both doing well at Durham hospital.

Messrs Assum and McLean have lately installed a battery charger and welding outfit which will handle all work of this kind in the community.

Special prices are offered I hear as an introduction for patron's benefit.

Miss Edith James took the advantage of a trip to Toronto Saturday last with her brother-in-law, Mr H. B. McLean to visit relatives there.

Mr Wright is securing a traction engine for his sawmill and chopping outfit until such time as the dam is repaired. "Watch Priceville grow" is the slogan.

PRICEVILLE & GLENELG

The old May song can be sung this 1st of May, 1928. "It is May, it is May And all earth is gay.

How beautiful it is to enjoy a beautiful May day after the severe and hard winter. We hear the little birds sing their notes of praise as if thanking the Author of Spring and Summer and Winter is bringing them in safety through another severe spell.

Their voices are yet feeble from the effects of their cold winter residence but from the beautiful warm rays of the May sun they will soon strike up their choir from the small swallow to the big crow, each one as it were striving to get above the other ones.

In a beautiful morning they will be heard at 5 o'clock as if rousing the slumbers, reminding them that their faithful animal, the horse, needs time to eat his breakfast and be in the field by 7 o'clock.

The faithful animals feel the effects of the hard labors of the day as well as the owner but the duties of the season must be attended to.

One of the happy events on life's journey took place one day last week when Mr Cecil Moffat and Miss Myrtle Robinson, were united in matrimony by Rev. Mr Smith of Durham.

The contracting parties are both neighbors at Edge Hill. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr and Mrs. David Robinson and the groom the only son of Mrs Henry Moffat.

It is said that a son will leave father and mother and cling to his life partner. Here we find an only son to fulfill the command. We go back and view the love of a dutiful mother to her only son.

She often denied her self comforts to make that dutiful boy happy and that dutiful boy obeyed his father and mother's command by the promise given: "Honor thy father and mother that thy days may be long upon the land."

Then we find a dutiful daughter leaving her home. She too must forget a mother's love in a measure and cling to a dutiful life partner. Here we find a dutiful daughter leaving her home and congratulate a mother-in-law in being the recipient of a dutiful and faithful daughter-in-law.

This is another young couple starting, the journey of life together. Their combined ages would not go much over what they saw yonder May sun a few years over twice twenty times return.

The long experiences in their future journey will be then said of them that they saw yonder May sun twice forty times return.

Many obstacles will meet them on that long expected journey for life's path is not always strewn with roses.

The many friends of both wish them a long and prosperous journey on the commencement of their career.

Since commencing writing we have heard of the death of Neil McDougall of the South Line, Artemesia, where he was raised from boyhood.

He was never married and about 80 yrs of age. As the regular Priceville correspondent will be giving a sketch we won't say much more but send condolence to the brother on the S. Line and the sister who is left lonely with other members of the family in various parts of the world.

The funeral was held to Currie's cemetery on Friday of last week.

Monday the last day of April was very rainy and no seeding of any crop done yet. Some of the sick ones are getting better while some are yet under the Dr's care.

The funeral of Mrs Thos Harris, is held in Durham this Monday. Many will remember Mr Harris, an old citizen of Durham, being license inspector for many years.

The sympathy of his friends is extended to him in the loss of a faithful life partner.

We extend condolence to Mr and Mrs Michael Quillinan, Zion, in the death of their son a week ago. We were 18 years ago putting up for the night at Mr Ronald Martin's, who then occupied M. Black's dwelling on the south side of the road when Mr. Quillinan was called to go to Markdale for the Dr. So death is no respecter of persons.

The young son is taken as well as the aged father. So the different cemeteries are made richer during the past winter and spring with the many who have passed away, some in the prime of life and others from the infirmities of old age.

SWAMP COLLEGE

The weather still keeps cool and not much seeding done yet. Mrs John Haw has returned home from Toronto after visiting her daughter.

Miss Mary McDonald is assisting Mrs Wm Haw with her household duties. Glad to hear Mrs Haw is improving after a prolonged illness.

Miss Alice Broughton spent the week end with her friend, Miss Ila McCannell.

Mr Wm Reid, Toronto, and cousins Misses Florence and Belle McCannell of Shelburne, spent the week end at home and attended the funeral of their uncle, Mr N. McDougall.

Sorry to report Mr Arch. Ferguson is not enjoying the best of health, but hope for a speedy recovery.

Mr Alex McCannell of Boothville, spent the week end at Mr Angus McCannell's.

SWINTON PARK

The weather still is cold and bleak but a green tinge is coming on the bushes and the coming sunshine will cheer us all up ere long.

Many have colds, especially the children. Little Cecil Lane, son of Mr and Mrs And. Lane is suffering from pneumonia.

Dr Sneath is in attendance. We hope Cecil may soon be back to school and in good health.

Mrs Arch Ferguson is also very ill. Her daughter, Miss Florence came home from Toronto to wait on her.

Mr Richard Hardy is holidaying at his home here for a short time. He has enjoyed city life this winter.

By a card from Willie Watson from Detroit, we were glad to know that he had enjoyed both health and work through the winter.

We still have snowdrifts in the Park, but Fred Knox is pulling down the old crooked rail fence and putting up wire on the sidewalk which will let the snow go by.

The roads are still rough but the Reeve is out with the grader this morning and they will be alright from now on.

Sunday last was the only day we have had fit to enjoy a car ride and many were out for a jaunt.

There has been an abundance of maple syrup made in this locality. Some have started to plow but so far we have heard of no seeding.

Geo. Haw is cutting wood for the neighbors with his buzz saw outfit. Richardson and McLeod loaded several cars of ties at Proton Station last week.

The Football team are again organized and will do their part to make things lively during the summer.

Mrs Kinsman, 88 years young is an example to the rising generation in walking over to Hopeville last week. Walking or running is again coming into its own.

We notice the great cross country hike is progressing, over 2000 miles has been covered at about 6 miles per hour by the leaders.

How many of that bunch will be walking at 88 years of age. Another very unusual thing we noticed one day last winter was a young lady walking by, namely Miss Oliver, sister of our MPP, who is teaching school at Dromore, walking to her home in Artemesia—just nine miles, to spend the week end with her parents.

It brings back pioneer days when everyone walked and few were sick.

Soapsuds, paint and elbow grease are being freely used these days throughout the land. The garden will follow shortly and all men are requested to be patient while women are so busy.

Fred Knox had one of his horses badly kicked last week and required 15 stitches to close the wound. Geo. Black was the doctor.

Miss Clara Greenwood, O Sound, spent the first of the week with her parents here.

Mr and Mrs Wm Richardson of Chatsworth, were guests of Mr Will Timmins Sunday.

Misses W and S Holmes and Miss Mary Metcalfe, spent Sunday with Mrs Wm R. Firth.

Mr Tom McNally and sister Adeline attended the funeral of their grandfather, Mr Will Aitkens at Berkeley.

The annual meeting of Zion Women's Institute will be held at the home of Mrs W R Jack on Thursday, May 10. All ladies welcome.

IN DAYS OF YORE

15 YEARS AGO

From Review file May 1, 1913 There are not many rural sections in Ontario where the mail is delivered by automobile to the doors of the patrons on the route but such is the case on the Vandeuser line from Markdale. The distance is 12 miles and was covered in almost an hour by J. W. Rutledge, liverman.

The riding of Centre Grey has but four hotels now. At a meeting of the license commissioners last week application was granted for renewal of F. Fisher of Chatsworth; L. Schwan, of Desboro and Messrs Marsh and Kelly of Markdale. The Murphy House of Markdale was refused a license though a petition of 120 names was presented to the commissioners.

Mr Cecil Wolfe returned from Ontario Veterinary College Saturday, having completed his course and is now a full fledged Vet. He was highly successful at the recent exams, being one of six who took honor standing among 84 successful ones.

The home of Mr Arch. McCuaig, of Top Cliff, was in festive array on April 23rd, when his eldest daughter, Sadie, became the bride of Wm T. Brown, Popular Place.
