Cyprus Islanders Do Not Celebrate

Fiftieth Year of British Rule for Your Player Piano is Observed Only by British Officials on Island, While Assembly Draws Up Manifor Union With Greece

Athens-The fiftieth anniversary of the British occupation of the island of Cyprus was celebrated last month without the participation of the Greeks in general. The British High Commissioner had invited the Greek people of the island and their official bodies to partake in the festivals, but the invitation was turned down absolutely.

The National Greek Assembly of the island addressed a manifesto to the Greek population, advising them to abstain from taking part in the Peer's Ten Points day of national mourning, because England, added the manifesto, by celebrating the anniversary wants to perpetuate her hold over a posses- Lord sion which is not really hers and to ignore claims of the mother country toward which the islanders are drawn by national tradition and the history of 30 centuries. The Assembly convoked, unant mously decided to perisit in its previous decision. On March 25, the day set, aside, for these, celebrations, prayers were said in the 600 churches on the island for the realization of the coveted union with the mother country.

In all these skirmishes. Greece keeps scrupulously in the back-ground, starting in business too late and refuses to mix in dispute, directly or indirectly. Cyprus in the possession of the British, and the Dodecanese in the hands of the Italians, form the Greek irredenta, and Greek patriots ardently hope that in due course they will achieve the final liberation of her sons from foreign rule.

The occupation of Cyprus, effected in 1878, was in conformity with a conventon signed with the Sublime Porte. The British in 1818 were welcomed by the islanders as liberators on the belief that Britain, liberal and generous as she has often been, would one day grant the island her total liberation by allowing it to unite with the mother country. Fifty years have not been sufficient to achieve this end.

Australian Woman Secures Unusual Degree

The honor of securing the first degree of Bachelor of Divinity among Australian women has fallen to Miss Eleanor Weymss, who already has had a brilliant academic career. She completed her course for B.A. in 1921 and that for M.A. in 1924, and, concurrently with her studies for the B.D. degree, has been qualifying as B.Sc. The Melbourne College of Divinity is the only institution in Australia empowered to grant degrees in divinity, but it has examiners and students in all the states of the Commonwealth. It is purely an examining body, and lectures in the course of the B.D. degree are given only at Parkin College in South Australia, of which the Rev. Principal Kiek is head. South Austrahas the only other woman B.D. in the Commonwealth, but she is a native of England, Mrs. Kiek, the wife of Principal Kiek.

The Anglican Church, of which Mise Weymss is a member, does not admit women to the ministry. A notable instance of that is Miss Maud Royden, regarded by many as the most distin-guished woman preacher in the world, They call it indigestion. It means It is the quick method. A tire in use is being constantly bent backwards and forwards by road action. Such movement generates friction and heat that has a deteriorating effect unless the tire is built to withstand it.

In the carcass of a Gum-Dipped tire there is less friction to generate heat because Gum-Dipping puts a coating of new live rubber around each separate cord that keeps it from rubbing against the cords that lie next to it. It stays cooler and therefore lasts longer. Your local Firestone Dealer will
