Miss Murdock's latest generosity means an addition to the branches of education which she has encouraged by similar prizes in former years.—Com.

Suffered Several Hemorrhages—Miss Beulah Stonehouse, R. N., who was recently operated upon in Toronto, for the removal of tonsils, came to her home in Durham to recuperate. She was not here a day however, when a hemorrhage came on, followed in fairly rapid succession by others. On medical advice she returned to Toronto to see the doctor who performed the operation and was accompanied to the city by Mrs. Snow (Margaret Ewen R. N.) who accompanied her home.

Large Snake Seen in Lumber Yard—While working on one of the lumber piles of the Durham Furniture Co. last Friday, we are told, a few employees witnessed a huge crawling snake come from its lair and almost as quickly retire again. It was the largest ever seen in this district if this story of 12 feet long can be vouched for. At least it was not of the ordinary variety and the hose was secured in an attempt to drown it out. Whether this was effective or not is hard to say, but the reptile has not shown his graceful (?) features since.

Will Occupy Local Pulpit—Rev. Wm Hill, pastor of Harvard Congregational Church, Oak Park, Ill. a suburb of Chicago, will occupy the pulpit in Knox Church, Durham, on Sunday next. Two weeks ago he was in the pulpit of Wellington St. Church, Mt. Forest, and the "Confederate" makes the following kindly reference: "Mr Hill preached sermons that were full of instruction and inspiration and brought out the supreme importance of prayer in the life of the Christian. Mr Hill is spending holidays with Mrs Hill's people in Durham and his devoting a Sunday to preach here is greatly appreciated by the large congregations that heard him."

Knox W. M. S. at Mrs Bell's—The monthly missionary meeting of the W. M. S. of Knox United Church, was held at the home of Mrs John Bell on Thursday, Aug. 16th. The weather being so beautiful, the meeting was held on the lawn with Mrs. Jas Mather, president, presiding. After singing and prayer, the visitors' report and other business was attended to. It was decided to hold a quilting in the schoolroom of the church on Friday, Aug. 24th. After singing another hymn the scripture lesson was read by Mrs McQueen. The topic for study was medical missions in Canada. Mrs Mather, Mrs J. J. Smith and Miss McGirr taking the subject. Mrs John Bell as Sec'y of Stewardship, followed with a splendid address on the subject of "Our Stewardship to the Lord." The roll call was answered by a text on "Service" and the meeting closed with singing and the Lord's Prayer in unison. Mrs Bell and her daughter served tea and a pleasant hour was spent.

No 'Review' Next Week

Following the custom of weekly journals, the Review next week will take a holiday, and no paper will be published. It is seven years since the Review has missed an issue, so paper holidays have been very infrequent. The office will be open as usual for job printing and receiving subscriptions; in fact, the main idea of the holiday week is to gain more time to get caught up on job printing and give the staff a short holiday as well during exhibition time.

Another Hydro Rebate to Local Consumers

Secy. Elvidge received word last week from the Ontario Hydro Com. to give rebate of one-sixth of last year's bill, to all domestic, commercial and power consumers. There is no rebate on street lighting. This gives consumers the benefit of accrued surplus for the year, and will be a welcome gift. While it will not be paid in the form of cheques, as last year, a credit will be given on the current hydro bills, and none will be issued until the rebate is all taken up.

THE ROLL CALL

MISS ANNIE McCALLUM

Death has come with its cruel hand into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm McCallum, College St., Durham, when it removed from their midst their daughter Annie, at the age of 23 years. Middle School Results, and Promotions, Durham High School

Following is the standing of candidates in Middle School exams, and successful ones in Lower School and Form I and Form II. Almost all passed in the lower forms, and in Middle School, the percentage successful was 4 1/2 per cent above last year. Congratulations to students and staff.

British History, which was a very difficult and tricky paper, caused most of the failures locally, only 4 out of 18 writing, making the grade in this subject, while the Provincial average was below 50 per cent. An effort is being made to have an examiner come to Durham next week and have a supplemental exam, when those failing would have opportunity to write another Dr. History paper.
