

School Teacher Attacked

Not so very long ago, Henry was very anxious to go into one of the professions, so in order to make enough money to keep up with his expenses, he took up school teaching. Well, teaching isn't so easy now-a-days as it used to be, and Henry had to work doubly hard to do his day's work and also keep up with his private studies. More than that, he had to spare some of his slender earnings to help keep his widowed mother. His father died some fifteen years ago from tuberculosis, and, in time, and long before his goal was reached, Henry, too, had outworn his slender reserve of strength. Now he has had to give up his position as a teacher, and his life's ambition, and enter the Muskoka Hospital for Consumptives, where a long fight is before him. It may be many months before the experienced medical attention and nursing he is getting at this institution, the last hope of so many unfortunate like him, will do their part and put him on his feet again. GRAHAM — FERGUSON
A wedding of interest was solemnized at the home of Rev. C. J. Cameron, Toronto, when Sadie, daughter of the late Mr and Mrs John Ferguson, of Swinton Park, was married to Mr W. George Graham, son of Mr John Graham, Alliston. The bride entered the living room with her brother, Edward J. Ferguson and looked charming in a gown of georgette over satin, with lace and gold trimmings. Her bridal veil was held in place by orange blossoms and fell in cape effect around her shoulders. She carried a shower bouquet of roses and lily of the valley and wore the gift of the groom, a platinum necklace. The ceremony was conducted by Rev. Frank Bowes, assisted by Rev. C. J. Cameron. The wedding music was played by Miss Pearl McKessock, who also sang during the signing of the register. The happy couple left on a short honeymoon in the States and on their return will reside at 113 Galley Ave., Toronto.

Funeral of the late Mrs. Thos. Atchison

A wonderful tribute was paid to the memory of the late Mrs Thos. Atchison, at her funeral on Nov. 14, when a large turn out of old neighbors and friends paid the last tribute of respect to one who was so universally beloved. The church at Dromore was well filled, including the gallery, who listened attentively to the deserved encomiums of the deceased, and the words of comfort given to all, by Rev. W. H. Smith, of Durham, who remarked that it was fitting she was brought to the home of her youth, with her continual willingness to do her share, rendered to the people her joy, her comfort in the people of this community. Her readiness to help, her cheerfulness of character and always ready to see the best in others, were some of the deceased's characteristics. When you can say my God is like my mother, you are near to Him.
"Mother" is the only one to comfort in the hour of pain. Treasure the mother love in your hearts. God is like my mother, He knows my every pain, my every thought. His arms, like mothers, are always open. Let it be your statement "Nothing can separate me from the love of God which is in Christ Jesus my Lord." We come to Thee, we tell our trouble to Thee, because Thou lovest us. We were admonished not to forget her love to the dear ones, nor her affection for the people of this community, and her unfailing willingness to help in every good work—a sentiment which is fully concurred in here. Her voice was always ready to be used in song to the enjoyment of all.
The writer with a long esteemed acquaintance since the early eighties has long looked forward to the giving of her favorite duet, sometime in St. Columba Church, Priceville, but alas, such is not to be. May God bless her revered memory to us all.
May the God of all grace and consolation comfort the sorrowing ones. The pall bearers in Dromore were I. Hooper, R. Taylor, Jas Henderson, Thos Ellis, Major Eccles, Jos Lawrence. The flower bearers were Messrs John McGirr, Andrew and Peter Hay, Bert Willis, Jno. McQueen, Peter Ramage. The hymns chosen by the family were sung. The choir, of which she was long a valued member, sang during the last view being taken "Face to Face" and the hymn ending with "Good Night."
The closing services at the grave were conducted by Rev. W. H. Smith, Durham and Rev. Purnell, Dromore, who closed with prayer. The funeral director was Colin McMillan, Holstein, with his fine lowering device, and crash grass hovering.
— W. W. R.

YEUVIL

Another winter—with mild temperature. Despite Saturday's rain, many of the friends and former neighbors from this vicinity were in Mt. Forest at the funeral of the late Mrs. W. Cockburn. Mona was loving and lovable and sincere sympathy is felt for the sorely bereaved family.
Today, Mr and Mrs Jas Bunston, Mrs Geo. Long and Percy Whyte, with Dromore relatives, were in Arthur, attending the funeral of their aunt, the late Mrs Langdon. We extend sympathy to the mourning friends.
Percy Whyte returned home from his northern hunting expedition last Friday and is visiting his sisters and old friends before going back to Detroit. He brought a fine deer with him.
Mrs John Alles spent last week in her parental home at Meaford.
Mr and Mrs Elmer Ross, Murray Ross and Norman Drimmie, motored to Alma Wednesday last.
Mr and Mrs R. Kirby, Cecil and Lorraine, were recent guests at the old home at Orchard.
Messrs Mutch, Watt, R. McMillan, vray and H. McEachern were delegates attending the Educational Conference for school teachers of the eight northern Counties which assembled in Guelph and filled Massey Hall of the O. A. C. at the morning and afternoon sessions. The debate on the Township School Board proved very interesting—the judges giving their decision in favor of our present system, which was also the popular opinion of the meeting. In the Public Speaking contest, where the winners from the eight Counties again contested, the honors going to Huron County.
The young folk of No. 9 are beginning to practice for their box social on Dec. 14th. We hear of other socials, Christmas trees, etc being discussed. The few remaining weeks of 1928 will doubtless be very busy for young and old.

DROMORE

Mr and Mrs Joe McNaulty recently visited Collingwood friends and left Charlie and Tom to batch it.
Nearly all the ladies of Dromore Institute journeyed to Mt. Forest last Thursday afternoon and were entertained by Miss Flett in their greenhouse, who gave them a talk on the care of flowers and bulbs. They are invited to come out next May when she will entertain them for one hour—also Mr Flett the same amount of time, on the care of flowers and how to make a garden.
Mr John Dunston received the sad news Friday that his sister Mary, Mrs W. Langdon of Arthur, had passed away. The funeral will be held on Monday at 2 p.m.
Mr Chas. Watson spent the week end with Toronto friends.
What might have been a serious accident happened to Mr And, Hunter last Wednesday evening, coming from the late Mrs T. Atchison's funeral. When coming down Gideon Johnston's hill, his dog ran in front of Mr Hunter's car and the front wheel ran over the dog and turned the car to the side over stones and knolls which took off both tires and bent the axle. Fortunately no one was hurt—only the car and dog who died.
Mr John McMurdo returned home Friday night from his deer hunt with other members of the party from other points, and brought home all the law will allow.
