

She bought it for its big car beauty

She wanted beauty . . . and she got it. "Just like a woman", he said. "Carried away by appearances! Can't blame her, though. It is a wonderful looking car. H-m-m! Feels comfortable. Great body-builders, these Fisher people!

"A real engine, too! It's a big six, all right. Feel that power! And that speed! And that getaway! And such brakes! What price did you say? Is that all? I'd have guessed at least two hundred dollars more."

YEovil

And once more the robin bids us "Cheer up, cheerily." As our poet, Pauline Johnston poetically expresses it: "Music music with throb and swing. Of a plaintive note and long; 'Tis a note no human throat could sing; No harp with its dulcet golden string Nor lute, nor lyre, with liquid ring, Is sweeter as the robin's song."

He sings for love of the season When the days grow warm and long. For the beautiful God—sent reason, That his breast was born for song. The pussy willows are out! And what beautiful roseate spring sunsets! The western sky almost seems to reflect the glory of a more radiant world.

We join Mrs A. Tuck's many friends in sympathizing with her in her sorrow and loneliness. Friends here of Mrs Robt Wilson, (Mary Long) are also sympathizing with her and Mr Wilson in the very serious illness of their only child Ruth, who is in a Toronto hospital, with spinal meningitis. The roads are still passable but not pleasurable.

Miss Frances Waddell motored from Hamilton Thursday with her brother Lester Waddell of Chicago and Dr. Russell Waddell, Hamilton. They made good time until they reached Kenilworth but had to follow the snow plow from there to Mt Forest, and then wait next day for the plow to continue northward. The brothers have returned but Miss W. is remaining for an extended visit with an old friend, Mrs Moses Ellis.

Some of our young folk are anticipating a pleasant time at the Holstein Community Circle's St Patrick's Social.

We have referred several times to the Yeovil Times being read at the U. F. Y. P. O. fortnightly meetings, and some of our Yeovillites who cannot be present have expressed wonder about them. To satisfy curiosity we shall give part of their last copy—but only part, as our bona-fide editor might object strenuously to using a whole page of their paper for nonsense.

YE YEovIL TIMES

Established 1928 Circulation 10101 Scratch, scratch, scratch. On this virgin paper, O quill. And I would that your nib could utter The news this paper to fill.

Northern Lights—(A very good article was written on this explanation, but too long to repeat.) Weather Probabilities—Atmosphere thick, sprinkled with crowns. Crisp Comments—The Japs have caused war in China. Let us hope they save the pieces.

Lucky Lindbergh could not have been attending strictly to business when he and his fiancée crashed while flying recently. Note of Appreciation: The following note recently received testifies to the value of Yeovil's most popular newspaper:

Dear Editor: Last Thursday I lost a gold watch. I immediately inserted an ad. in your paper and found column. Yesterday I went home and found the watch in the pocket of my other suit. Blessings on your paper. In Memoriam: In fearful memory of the former enterprising metropolis of Yeovil, which passed into oblivion long since. 'Twas "One of the places which had run Half up the hill beneath the sun And then sat down to rest as if to say I climb no further upward come what may."

—and then became a prey to the ravages of time. Rest in pieces.

Poet's Corner (Poem by a member)

One night I came to Club at eight, No others yet were there: Next meeting it was nearly nine, Too early yet, I fear. So after that I came at ten —Was not the meeting ended? My friend, 'twas never started yet, Our habits must be mended.

Slogans for Yeovil Club: (ten were given), suggestions for colors, club song and club yell were offered. Question Bureau: Several interesting questions were answered in an amusing way.

Of interest to the fair sex: Several items, the first three being (1) Mn: (2) No dog, or a tied one; (3) Fashions—see Eston's catalogue. What would happen if—(several questions)

Things we want to know—(Several) Advertisements—For Sale, Found, Wanted, etc. Educational: Answers from precocious pupils, etc.

We have left out very many pages but from the above our readers will understand how interested the listeners are, especially as they never know what may come in the jokes or Personal Column.

REV. JOHN LITTLE HONORED

At the second Annual Meeting of Westcott United Church, Conn, held recently, Rev. John Little was honored with a letter of appreciation as follows:

Dear Mr. Little:— We, the members and adherents of your congregation at Conn, wish to express to you our appreciation of your work among us. It meant, we are sure, some sacrifice on your part to come to Conn, but we feel your ministry has been blessed, and that you are doing splendid work. You have had our sincere sympathy during Mrs Little's illness and we rejoice that her health is improved, and now we hope you will remain as our pastor as long as your health and strength will permit you to continue in the active ministry of the church.

Ms Little replied briefly and favorably and the meeting closed, after which the ladies served lunch.

Mr and Mrs Geo Creelman and two sons, Toronto, motored up Sunday to see the former's aunt, Mrs Tuck. They got as far as the sidewalk below Holstein on the Highway, but had to leave the car there as it was impossible to bring it all the way.

The Community Circle held a St. Patrick's Social Monday evening. There was a good program, after which an Irish supper was served. The evening was enjoyed by all the young folks present.

With robins here and wheels going on the roads again, everything looks pretty fair for an early Spring. Also our sidewalks are all cleared off, with the exception of one or two places, which makes it much nicer to get about.

One of our esteemed citizens, Mr. Abraham Tuck passed away at his home here Saturday. A fuller account of his illness and funeral will be published. Much sympathy is extended to Mrs Tuck and other sorrowing family members.

Among those from a distance who attended the funeral of the late Abraham Tuck Tuesday were Dr Tuck and Mrs Burnett, Toronto; Mrs Sinclair, Vineland; Richard Creelman, Georgetown; Mr and Mrs W. Gardiner and Mr J. Amos, Mt Forest and Mrs Richard Barber, Durham.

On Friday evening of this week, the third of a series of socials of the United Church will be held. The men of the congregation are putting on the program and have full charge of everything except the lunch which needless to say, the ladies will look after.

KNOX CORNERS

At our church service Sunday, Mr. Purnell gave a most interesting sermon on that wonderful text, "Come unto me, all ye that labor and are heavy laden and I will give you rest"—showing from it, how many let their pride keep them from entering into the fulness of God's love, not willing to become fools for Christ's sake and take up the cross daily to follow Him.

Mr and Mrs Elgin Wilton visited Mrs Earl Mead at the hospital Sunday afternoon. We are glad to know the latter is improving and expects to return home soon.

Mr and Mrs D. Marshall returned home Wednesday after almost a week's visit in Walkerton.

The Y. P. O. Club are having their meeting Monday of this week, at Mr Wm Allan's, instead of Friday of last week, postponed on account of the roads.

Mr and Mrs Harry Caldwell entertained quite a number of the younger married folk of the neighborhood Wednesday of last week.

Our W. M. S. met in the church on the 13th inst, when quite an interesting meeting was held. Mrs Jas Marshall read of Easter and its message and Mrs Elgin Wilton read from our study book on India. Mrs John Marshall was appointed as a delegate to the Prov'l convention in Hamilton in April.

Mr and Mrs Chas. Petty, Bentinck were visitors Tuesday at Mr James Petty's.

Mr Carlisle Smith is home after spending some weeks with Mr Wells of Egremont.

We are glad to welcome Mrs Jno. Burig home after a long visit with California friends, where she spent a most enjoyable time. We hope her health is much benefited by the change.

Mr and Mrs. Watt, town, spent Sunday at her home here.

Mr Vernon Rawn, Riverview, who has been on the sick list at his mothers for a few days, was unable to return home Tuesday.

The recent thaw and heavy rains have been the cause of filling a good many cellars with water. But it will likely soon settle. The roads are in bad condition just now, a few buggies having gone through, but there is deep snow in places. If the fine weather continues the cars will still be running.

Our mail courier has been very faithful, missing just two days during the winter. We sure appreciate our good mail service.

OBITUARY

ABRAHAM TUCK

There passed away at his home in Holstein Saturday morning, March 16, 1929, Mr Abraham Tuck. He was born in Waterloo Twp, Sept. 5th, 1860. In 1882 his parents moved to Arthur Twp to the present Hutchinson farm, near Mount Forest, where he grew to manhood. He was married in 1887 to Mary Ann Reid, a daughter of the late James Reid of Holstein and took up farming in the Township of Normanby, a mile north of Orchardville on the Garafraa Road, where they spent 22 years. They sold their farm in 1918 and have since resided in Holstein.

Mr. Tuck was a member of the Presbyterian and a Liberal in politics and for many years a reader of the 'Globe.'

In the passing of Mr Tuck, the community loses a citizen who will long be remembered for his many kindly acts. As a neighbor he was ever willing to help in time of need. He was an ardent lover of all manly sports and the local Football and Baseball Clubs have lost a warm supporter and willing worker in their interests. He was a great reader and could discuss any current event with much intelligence. His word was his bond and anything he said he would do was done and well done. His garden was a model and much of his time in summer was spent with his flowers and vegetables. His physical strength was his pride and many can testify to having been helped out of difficulties by a lift from him. We shall miss his cheery word and figure on our streets and his immediate neighbors will sorely miss his social chat.

To his widow the sympathy of the village and community goes out. She more than any, will feel the loss of a kind husband and friend.

The funeral on Tuesday, 19th inst. was largely attended. After a short service at the house conducted by his pastor, Rev. G. Graham, the body was taken to the Presbyterian Church, where Mr. Graham spoke words of comfort and consolation to the bereaved. Interment was made in Reid's cemetery.

Those in attendance from a distance were a brother, Dr. J. A. Tuck and sister, Mrs Burnett, Toronto, also sisters Mrs Sinclair of Vineland, and Mrs W. Gardiner of Mt. Forest, and Mrs Tuck's brother, Mr Richard Creelman of Georgetown.

WILLIAM FAIRBAIRN

One of Egremont's most widely known and highly respected citizens, William Fairbairn, died at his home Monday evening, March 4th. He had contracted a cold about ten days before which suddenly developed into pneumonia and the end came very suddenly and unexpectedly.

The late Mr Fairbairn was born on the old Fairbairn homestead sixty years ago. Twenty seven years ago he married Esther Nichol, daughter of the late Wm Nichol, Mt Forest, and together they started their new home about one mile east of his father's. Being a shrewd and industrious business man, he soon made a comfortable home.

Besides his widow two children survive: Cecil at home and Margaret on the staff of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Toronto. His aged mother, two brothers John and Robert, and three sisters, Mrs Caulfield, Mrs Eby and Mrs Liliwall, to whom the heartfelt sympathy of the community is extended.

Deceased was a valued member of Fairbairn Presbyterian Church and for many years, up to the time of his death, served on the Managing Board. After a short service at his late home, the remains were brought to the church where a large congregation gathered to pay their tribute of respect to deceased. The service was taken by his pastor, Rev G. Graham, from H Cor. 4: 18.

The pall bearers were his nearest neighbors, Messrs Wes Snell, James Shand, Alvin Eobb, Joe Switzer, Pet-
