PRICEVILLE

The banquet under the auspices of the Y. P. S., of St. Columba United on Friday evening last was a successful feature put on by the losing sides of a four group contest throughout the year. The head table was reserved for invited guests who took advantage of the kind invitation sent to the neighboring Presbyterian Guild. The winning side led by Miss Mary McKinnon was given the next choice of seats to the left of the toastmaster, Rev. F. Sullivan. The toast, "The King", was musically responded to and coupled with the name of J. M. McGillivray. "Our Country," spoken to by Miss Marion Muir and responded to by F. R. Oliver, M.P.P., in a fluent speech, setting forth the valuable resources, the unlimited wealth of forests, mines and agricultural possibilities, a country we do well to be proud of—the best thing of the night. A reading by Miss Sadie Vause "Towers must be built to-night," something of a parody on "Curfew shall not ring to-night." Dire consequences followed however later, thro' the liberality of Younger, which resulted in the old man softening his heart towards the tower which he called.

The "Church," spoken to by Mr. I. A. Turner and Mr. Cook. A Scotch song was requested from W. Ramage who gave "Lochgar." "Our Young People," coupled with the names of Elford Watters and Mrs. Earl McLeod. An instrumental selection and encore was given by Principal Cook on the guitar. "Our visitors" with the name of Mr. Stewart Muir to introduce the toast, and replied to by Wm. Hincks, Pres. of the Presby'n Guild, who spoke appreciatively of the fine feeling existing and thanked the gathering for the invitation extended and the courtesy shown to his Society. All the speeches were well handled throughout.

A song and encore was given by Miss McDaniel of Old Durham Road School, after which some humorous replies were given to questions asked of certain members present, such as "Should bachelors be taxed?" What everybody is busy these fine days on the land and hope the weather continues to keep fine. Mr. Angus Clark has gone to Toronto to seek employment. Mr. and Mrs. Art. Richardson of Swinton Park, visited Sunday at Mr. Angus Clark's. Much sympathy is extended to Rev. and Mrs. Sinclair Jones in the death of their only daughter Beattie. She was well known in Priceville and her death was a shock to the community. She was a favorite among all. Mrs. Pontiac, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Neil Mac-

I'd do with $1,000,000': 'Has bobbed hair come to stay?' 'The kind of girl I'd like to marry'—also the same applied to the 'boy', etc. The toasts were all drunk in aqua fortis, standing.

"Advertising contest," "Proverbs," acted by each month's birthday group, "Biscuit Eating" by the boys—the first one able to whistle a whole lot of whistle orange crush, which fell to the lot of Mr. Roy Tucker. These were all acted at the close of the entertainment program.

Mr. and Mrs. Campbell Watson and the former's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Watson of North Egremont, visited with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Sam McDermid on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Edwin Fowler of Salem congregation, favored the congregation at St. Columba Sunday p.m. with a fine solo.

Repairs to the railroad bed are being attended to by a large force of men who bunk up in service cars on the siding.

Sacrament of the Lord's Supper, will be dispensed on Sunday, 28th inst. at the United Church. Preparatory services on Friday evening at 8 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. John McKechnie, their daughter Mary and son John at the wheel, journeyed to friends in Thornbury Saturday last.

This fine balmy Spring Monday morning sees flags fluttering in a breeze of various shapes and colors, from every backyard clothes line and wire fence, while the town itself is as quiet as a graveyard.

Everybody is busy these fine days on the land and hope the weather continues to keep fine. Mr. Angus Clark has gone to Toronto to seek employment.

Mr. and Mrs. Art. Richardson of Swinton Park, visited Sunday at Mr. Angus Clark's.

The student pointed out in his preliminary remarks, that tho' they were all strangers to him, they were not to him. They come out to worship this beautiful morning. This student was the new veteran, Rev. Alex McGillivray of Toronto, who 54 years ago served as a preacher during the summer months in the old kirk of Scotland and like many other old time veterans, experienced many changes during the days and years gone by. Now we join in the many who wish the good old servant much happiness in his declining years in being the recipient of a faithful lawl nurse to take care of him the remaining years of his existence. All will join us in repeating the beautiful hymn, "Blessed be the tie that binds, their hearts in mutual love."

During our long experience of being a correspondent to the Review, we were often accused of giving too much old time news, but like the old witty highlander who was asked by the waiter at a hotel if he would have them both please. "So we will endeavor to give some old and new news."

A few days ago we had the pleasure of a visit from Rev. Mr. Smith of Knox Church, Durham and he spent a few hours in his manner of being a good conversationalist when visiting his parishioners, besides being a power in the pulpit. Mr. Smith said his grandmother had better Gaelic than English and prized the old Gaelic Bible above all other books, and her sons and daughters could repeat the words. This book is all that is left now, my mother's hand this Bible clasped, she dying gave it to me, etc.

The many friends of Rev. Mr. Corry of Priceville and Swinton Park, regret to hear that his farewell sermon will be preached next Sunday, but their loss is someone's gain and all wish he and Mrs. Corry and boys success in his new parish. Mr. Corry could have had a call to Orangeville but declined the offer so soon. Mr. Corry was faithful to the sick

PRICEVILLE AND VICINITY

Cannell and Arthur and Jean of Proton Station, visiting Monday night at Mr. A. L. Hincks'.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Carson visited the first of the week at Mr. Will Timmins, Hayward's Falls. Mr. Timmins is in a critical condition.

This Wednesday night the Guild is having a social evening, and Swinton Park friends are invited over. We are all looking forward to a good time.

It was with regret that the congregations of Swinton Park and Priceville learned of Mr. Corry's departure from our midst. He has accepted a call to Fairbank, North Toronto, and will bring his ministry here to a close next Sabbath, April 28th. The congregation of Fairbank has a membership of 321, and the Sabbath School a membership of 330, and teachers and scholars. The call promises a salary of $2000 with manse and four weeks' holidays. The whole community of Priceville and Swinton join in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Corry and family every success in their new charge, and hope and pray that God's richest blessings may go with them. Their short stay in Priceville they have done much to elevate and strengthen their hearts. They were dear, kind, sharing their joys and lightenings their cares. We treasure that high and noble friendship.

On Friday last the W. H. and Missionary Society met in the manse. Forty-two members and visitors were present. Rev. Mr. Corry presided over the missionary meeting and opened with hymn 726, after which he led in prayer. He then gave an interesting talk on Missions, and read a splendid paper on missionary work.

The election of officers took place as follows: President—Miss May Stewart; Vice-Pres.—Mrs. Dan. Campbell; Secretary—Miss Erna McLean; Meeting closed with prayer, then Mrs. John Nichol presided over the W. H. meeting. Mrs. A. L. Hincks gave a paper on "Marching on", Miss E. M. MacCunnig and Miss Gladys Hincks gave two splendid readings. Considerable other business was done. The sunshine bags were distributed thru the members, to be handed in in December. A tasty lunch was served by the hostess and a very young ladies, and a social hour was spent by all. We were pleased to have with us, Mrs. J. Burgess of Durham, and Mrs. Chas. Watson. Mrs. Ben McKenzie treated all to maple sugar candy.

Next Friday night all are looking forward to the parlor social to be held in the manse. All are invited to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Carson visited Sunday with friends at Vandeleur.

Mr. Wm. Mather is now driving a Ford car. Also Rev. Mr. Sullivan, who has purchased a new Ford coach

We congratulate one of the old Priceville boys in the person of Jno. A. McArthur, of being appointed to the office of the village of Markdale, an office which he will satisfactorily fill.

We are pleased to hear our good old friend, Hugh McKinnon of the Line, Glenelg, is quite smart yet. Also S. J. Black, the veteran Clerk of Glenelg, keeping fairly well, considering the many years he has seen since he left the late of Uist, Scotland, some 75 years ago. It will take three to make a trio so we join, making the combined ages over 250 years.

We are pleased to hear that Mrs. Dan Campbell of the North Line is home again and feels well after her home sickness. Those who were con- sidered the homes all winter were pleased to be home Sunday. Our mail carrier will be pleased to find dry hard road to use their cars, making good time.

Wishing all the readers success in their different occupations we quit.

PRICEVILLE & GLENELG

The winter is past and gone. We hear the little birds singing their notes of praise at early morn. The aged veteran sits pleasantly enjoying himself in the beautiful rays of the sun. His memory goes back to the days of his youth when on a beautiful Sabbath morning he put on his best apparel and wandered his way to the old kirk. The old fashioned conveyance was only a pleasure for him to occupy. The good old fathers and mothers took advantage of being earlier at the house of prayer. They sat quietly resting themselves from the fatigue of walking from home before the service began. The young student was on time and gladly surprised to find the old fashioned building full to its utmost capacity of the old highland race and after singing a few verses of an old Psalm, he gave out his text, "I'm a stranger upon earth," etc.

The student pointed out in his preliminary remarks, that tho' they were all strangers to him, they were not to him. They come out to worship this beautiful morning. This student was the new veteran, Rev. Alex McGillivray of Toronto, who 54 years ago served as a preacher during the summer months in the old kirk of Scotland and like many other old time veterans, experienced many changes during the days and years gone by. Mrs. R. S. Fraser, Ventry, has been spending a while with her sister, Mrs. And. Wiltzer, who, we are sorry to say is not making any recovery from her long illness.

Mrs. Wm. Dingwall was in Flesher's Mothers' Allowance Board.

Mrs. John Scott has returned from nursing her sister, Mrs. Hutton, Toronto, who is a little better. Mrs. Scott is now assisting at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Chester Fowler while Chester is a patient at Col. Hingwood hospital, undergoing an operation for appendicitis.

Mr. Geo. Russell, Sr. has been suffering from an attack of pneumonia since going to the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ed. Scott's, making a slow recovery from her recent sickness and is still at the home of her mother, Mrs. Thos. Walton.

Mr. Clarence Ferguson, student at Victoria College, was the guest of his relatives, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. McKelridge, while having charge of the United services Sunday.

Born, at the Manse, Hopeville, on April 28th, to Rev. E. A. and Mrs. Chesher.

Mr. Mac Taggart is improving his horse by putting on a new siding. Mrs. Geo. Gilkes is improving nicely from the accident to her foot a few weeks ago.

and dying during his stay in Priceville. The good wishes of many are extended to him for success in his new church.

In olden times Priceville had no less than six churches and we might say seven, as there were two or three families of the old English Church. The late Rev. Mr. Evans of Durham, preached occasionally on week nights in one of the churches of the other congregations. Up on the hill was the Catholic Church; the opposite side the Methodist church; the Dispensaries in the first old schoolhouse; the Baptist in now the residence of Mr. Wm. Ramage (tho' not a Baptist); two Presbyterian Churches (Free Church and Old Kirk) and now for the present only one church.

There were no less than 12 doctors in Priceville during the last 70 years, viz: Dr's. Seaman, Burns, Ghent, Hixon, Dixon, Boyle, Lane, McFarlane, Bennett, Hutton, Miss Brander, Milne. All made a living whether their patients were dead or alive.

This beautiful Monday morning farmers are out early preparing the soil for the seed. The roads are fine and dry, there are ruts in some places yet.

Those all are getting better, some from accidents. Mrs. Thos. Ritchie of Edge Hill has not been very well for some time, but hopes from the change of weather, she will soon be restored to her usual activity.

Sorry to hear Mrs. David Nichol of near Priceville is not feeling very well yet, but all wish her a speedy recovery.

Mr. W. J. Ritchie, Edge Hill, was a delegate recently to the school convention held in Toronto. Mr. Ritchie is always ready to fulfill his appointments. He will likely be again appointed superintendent of the Sunday School which will probably be started the first Sunday in May.

A car load went from Durham yesterday attended the lamented Rev. Mr. Durnett's funeral at Niagara.

Mr. Donald McDonald, with his nephew, Arch. McDonald, paid a visit to their friends, the McDonalds at Edge Hill one afternoon lately. They both thank the Swinton Park correspondent for his well wishes to us lately.

We congratulate one of the old Priceville boys in the person of Jno. A. McArthur, of being appointed to the office of the village of Markdale, an office which he will satisfactorily fill.

We are pleased to hear our good old friend, Hugh McKinnon of the Line, Glenelg, is quite smart yet. Also S. J. Mr. Neil McDougall, Old Durham Road, Armeslea, walked into town on Thursday last, having "done his chores" in the morning, then walked to Durham (15 miles), did his business and hurried off to be home in time to do the chores in the evening.

Here 'tis Wednesday morning, April 20th, and we notice from the window as we write, sleighs passing on our streets, one with a load of hay. Yesterday snowed and blew like a day in January.

The little three year old daughter of Jas. Livingstone, Vickers, was the subject of a critical operation last week. The moving of an abscess from her lungs. Nurse Armstrong is in attendance and the little girl is progressing favorably.

Mr. R. B. Ledingham passed his 2nd year theology exams at Knox College, Dorchester. Say, haven't we a great stage? For expeditionness under pressure? That noble team Foxy Grandpa and Lingerin' Blazes seem to know their important work and are irresistible. Vigilance is necessary in driving them when the old fog horn starts and passengers are fore like a cooked beefsteak—its very satisfying! Laying joking aside, Mr. Stagamen, three trips a week are not enough and the public expect a little more strenuousness under difficulties.

Hopeville: Married, on April 12th, at the residence of the bride's father, Mr. Chas. Wale to Miss Sarah Jane Goeben.
