One Touch of Kindness

The usual serenity and peace of Sweet Rose Avenue, Upper Balm...

So it was some time later before Mr. Shoebuckle was seated in the office of Messrs. Tootle, Tootle & Tootle...

"Good-morning," said Mr. Tootle, jun. "And what can I do for you?"

"It's about my next-door neighbor," replied Alfred Shoebuckle. "He's thinking of taking proceedings against me..."

Mr. Tootle looked at the unshaven face of his client, and felt that he could not agree.

"Not 'arf I won't," said Mr. Shoebuckle. "That's what I came along here for..."

"Well," went on Alfred Shoebuckle, "three weeks ago a pif-faced kyhoot named Henry Tickle, a traveller in the glue trade..."

"Quite," remarked Mr. Tootle. "Well," went on Alfred Shoebuckle, "three weeks ago a pif-faced kyhoot named Henry Tickle..."

Arab Story-Tellers

Outside the Marrakesh Gate, in the open square, there is always the true East to be seen. A caravan, coming in from the desert in long and swaying lines, camels stretching their necks from side to side, their drivers running up beside them and guiding them to the special place where they are unloaded...
