PHILIP LAWRENCE DURHAM

THE ROLL CALL

QUEEN ST. W. M. S.

ROBERT WILLIAM CUFF

There died in Durham Hospital on Thursday last, Robert William Cuff, aged 36 years, son of the late Wm. Cuff of Hutton Hill locality. Deceased has been unwell from heart trouble for a year past but managed to care for himself on his grandfather's old homestead at Hutton Hill, the late George Cuff. Only the day previous to his death was he brought to the hospital for further treatment. Deceased was not married. His lifetime has been spent in Hutton Hill locality and his burial took place Saturday from his late home to the little Hutton Hill cemetery where the remains now lie. He is survived by his mother, Mrs John Dewar, Owen Sound, and brother George of same city. Rev. E. Hayes of Trinity Church had charge of burial services.

NEW PLAN FOR TEL. PHONE ACCOUNTS

The Bell Telephone Co. of Canada is introducing in this district a new plan of rendering subscribers' accounts, it was announced today by Mr Saunders, local telephone manager. This new plan, known as "Rotation Billing," will become effective in this part of the system during the month of October.

Under the new plan the Company's thousands of accounts, instead of being sent out altogether at the beginning of each month, will be prepared and mailed in six equal groups.

Telephone subscribers served from the local exchange will receive accounts under the new plan dated the 21st of each month.

Mr Saunders pointed out several decided advantages of the new plan. Each account will show charges up to date. For example, the October amount, now being mailed as the last under the old plan, shows long distance charges only up to the 20th of September. Under the new plan such charges will be right up to the date of the bill.

Another innovation, the advantages of which were more clearly apparent on a specimen new account which Mr Saunders displayed, is the making out of bills on special machines. Each figure is clearly typewritten and totals are made up mechanically. The account itself is on white paper, assuring the subscriber a clear, neat and accurate statement.

Each subscriber, Mr Saunders stated, will receive a notice with his October account and also with the following one. These notices explain the new system and indicate the period to be covered by future accounts. The members of Mr Saunders' business office staff are well acquainted with the features of the plan and will be pleased to furnish any additional information.

AIMEE SEMPLE McPHERSON

"DONE" IN DETROIT

Churches in that city yet paying out bills for her extravagances while there.

As an evangelistic campaigner, Aimee Semple McPherson's career is about over. Preaching truth and honesty one day and running a congregation the next day or two into hundreds of dollars debt, or not to get well together. In other words it is not "au fait" in the best society of today.

A note comes due on Oct. 6th, amounting to $2,756, as part payment for rent of the Masonic Temple in Detroit and is left on the promoter's hands to get rid of as best they can. In addition to the note, the church members are infamed over Mrs McPherson's personal debts during the campaign which they were obliged to shoulder. One of these items was $40.50 for beauty parlor treatments during her 15 day stay there. Another was an item of $142.40 for meals, which was submitted after she left, despite the fact that the Detroit com. had given her $225.00 for this purpose beforehand. Evidently Aimee enjoys her meals. Another item was $674.00 for "extras."

"We're through, that's all" said Rev. R. C. Stutenroth. "The congregation is tired of this mess and personally want to have nothing whatever to do with Mrs McPherson and Angelus Temple."

WE'LL TELL YOU THE RIGHT PREDICTION NEXT MARCH 31

(Toronto Daily Star)

The weather man pursues his task without a ruffle because "the Chatsworth sage," J. B. Bowes, has relieved him of the need of making any weather predictions for the fall and winter.

The 73 year old weather prophet says that winter will set in about Nov. 27, that it will be a hard winter and Christmas will be one of the coldest in years.

"We are making no predictions that far ahead," the official weather man said. "And we are not making any predictions that are based on the position of the planets. There are a lot of people who know more about weather science and astronomy than Mr Bowes, but they are not making prophecies as to what the winter will be like."

"Mr Bowes is more often wrong than right" the weather man said.

IF HE HAD WISHED

From Sydney Post

It is only two years and nine months since the Ferguson Gov't last appealed to the Province and the late Legislature could have continued to function till Jan. 1931, if the Ontario premier had so wished.

Car License Reduction an Issue?

Is there a motorist in South Grey who will object to a $5 reduction in his car license fee? Not one. Now, then, is it an issue when the unanimous voice of the people say it is the right thing to do? The Government are trying to make it an issue because they rightly believe it would be more palatable than for instance, the L.C.A. or the financial situation, both of which are paramount issues.

In 1926 the Government sought to get votes by promising a $5 reduction in the license fee. They evidently considered we took the bait well, for they are trying the experiment again. Don't let yourself be purchased by a prize so meagre, for when the 2c additional tax was placed on the gasoline last season it should have been accompanied by the license reduction which was purposely held over until the eve of an election. We have paid all summer for the privilege of being fooled this fall.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Ontario is getting too much government control and not enough government liquor control.

It is a strange commentary that the head never begins to swell until the mind stops growing.

A scientist has invented an earthquake annunciator that goes off like an alarm clock. There is much more general need for an alarm clock that goes off like an earthquake.

Mrs Grant Needham, sister of A. C. Grant, former barrister here, will run on the Liberal ticket at the coming provincial election for one of the Toronto constituencies.

"An agreement has been reached in principle for the Dominion Stores to take over the Loblaw Company" stated W. J. Pentland, chairman of the Board of Directors of Dominion Stores, when asked to confirm reports of the merger.

W. O. Carson, inspector of public libraries for Ontario, died at his home in Toronto after three months' illness. Mr Carson organized the Library Training School, which made librarianship a profession in the province. He was director of the Ont. Library School and editor of the Ontario Library Review.

The last girder of the Ambassador Bridge across the Detroit River has been hoisted into position and communication between the Canadian Border Cities and Detroit now is possible without resort to ferry boat or tunnel. Much work remains yet to be done however on the $20,000,000 international span, but Dec. 1st has been set for the formal opening of traffic.

Nova Scotia has set Oct. 30 as the date of the plebiscite on the Nova Scotia Temperance Act. Two questions will be decided by the vote: Whether the electors of Nova Scotia favor the repeal of the Nova Scotia temperance Act and whether they are in favor of Government Control of the sale of liquor. We hope the tang of the sea in the nostrils will be the only tang of spirits they ever inhale.

John R. MacNichol, President of the Ontario and Dominion Conservative Associations, and an old Mt Forestor is allotting and arranging the speakers for Conservative Conventions and gatherings throughout Ontario in the present campaign. Mr MacNichol will have to call upon all his Scotch shrewdness as the proper man who will make a hit here. It is going to be a hard sum in arithmetic to make the people see where Ontario is profiting under the present system of Government sale of liquor.

A remedy for the Fence Viewers

The big tattoo at Chesley on Sept. 2nd, was not as well patronized as it might have been. The people came alright but rather than going within the gates by paying the fee, perched on the overhead bridge in the town and on the sidewalk and in cars outside the fence. "Luke's" letter in last week's Enterprise among other things, suggests as a remedy to have a flock of camera men posted along the fence to take "flashlights" of those in the free seats and print them in the paper, explaining just what they were famed for. An equally good remedy would have been in this dry season we are passing through, to turn the hose on the surrounding area of the grounds proper. The danger of fire is always imminent with so many hangers-on!

League of Nations Problems Discussed by Miss MacPhail

After ten days in the vile stir of the crowded and badly ventilated Assembly Hall, we began our work on the Third Committee, which meets in the Glass Room at the Secretariat. It is a beautiful room, jutting out at right angles from the main building; three sides are of glass: At first, gazing on the spreading green trees and the calm waters of the Lake of Geneva, I was deceived into thinking we were breathing the pure air of out of doors. But a week of work in that room has convinced me that tho' one can see through glass one cannot breathe through it. People in glass houses should not throw stones in an adage familiar to us all, and that may be the reason why the gentlemen on the committee take such pains to be excessively polite to one another. One has a feeling at times that a little plain speaking might clear the atmosphere.

The discussion has centred around radio control. All concede that in times of stress the League needs a broadcasting station and the problem of maintaining it through normal times might be taken care of by a private company or the Swiss government. The feeling was that the League should be in control of the station all the time.

For many days we discussed prevention of war through financial assistance, the plan to work out something like this: in case of dispute between two countries being carried to an open rupture, the Council by unanimous decision would say who was the aggressor. The nation attacked, under this plan, could at once borrow money, back it first by that nation, secondly by all nations that had signed this agreement, and third by certain strong financial powers. It was finally referred to the standing committee on security and arbitration and will come up next year. We are just beginning the debate on disarmament. Great Britain, France and Germany are quite clearly the leading powers on the Committee.

Unfortunately Committees Three and Five, of which I am a member, meet at the same time; I only followed opium in Committee Five. Through the excellent book, "The Black Candle," written by Janey C. H. Hoyle of Richmond Hill, I have become very interested in the opium question. For ten years the League has done nothing about prohibiting the manufacture of narcotic drugs through an attempt to control the drugs passing from one country to another was made by various methods. The lack of success is clearly shown by the fact that the amount of drugs used has increased enormously. This year for the first time the nations have agreed that the manufacture must be curtailed. Spain and France have already limited their amount to be manufactured and have brought the manufacturing process under Government supervision. Experts who have followed the Committee for 10 years are jubilant over the advance. Many resolutions were submitted, the most advanced by Gt. Britain. It looks at the moment as tho' it would be accepted. Canada would have moved it had Gt Britain not done so.

My dinner partner at the Indian dinner was Prince Verveldyn of Siam, and a handsome, charming prince he is. He said he attended Oxford with Vincent Massey and was very interested on hearing of his work in Washington. It was a small party, not more than 20 people, which made it much more pleasant and less confusing. The Indian and Siamese delegates speak perfect English and that, in this Tower of Babel is a great relief to me.

The Chinese dance was last night, and was a very enjoyable affair, in spite of the terribly oppressive heat. There were some lovely costumes especially those of the Japanese ladies present.

This mountainous country of Switzerland is an appropriate place to hold the League of Nations; for long centuries it has been a free country, democratically governed by an alert and well informed people. Yet it would have been better still for the nations to have purchased territory and on it built the new world city. This would have left the League of Nations absolutely free of interference from any one in its domestic affairs. Such things as the bad ventilation of the Assembly Hall and the desire of the Swiss Gov't to own the broadcasting station illustrate the need of a separate community.

Members of Parliament in the many countries who have not been delegates to the Assembly, will find it exceedingly difficult to understand why the expense of the delegates run so high. In this hotel de la Paix, a very ordinary room without bath but with telephone and running water, costs $7 a day without meals. Rooms with bath cost from ten to twenty two dollars a day, with meals, telephone, service by the desk extra. In a world city a fair rate could have been set and would have had the tendency to interest nations and individuals in the League to a greater degree.

It is said that an American came to the office in Geneva the other day wanting admission to the League of Nations Assembly and in explanation said: "Now just understand I do not want to join the League of Nations, I

HAMPDEN

A very large concourse of friends and relatives followed the cortege of the late Alexander McLean to the Hampden cemetery last Friday afternoon, Rev. Armstrong of Durham officiating. Friends from Gorrie, London, Burgessville, Maple Hill, Durham, Holstein and Egremont and the surrounding community paid their last tribute to the remains. Much sympathy is extended to Mrs McLean and her two daughters, Mrs E. O. Hickling and Miss Evelyn.

Mrs Jno. Sharp spent a day or so with her sister, Mrs Jno. Leith at Holstein last week and attended the Fair.

ROCKY SAUGEEN

Mr L. A. McLean left Tuesday to spend a few months in Chicago.

Mr and Mrs Walter Clark and family, were visitors this week with Mr and Mrs Jack Caswell.

Mr Malcolm McKechnie's threshing outfit is busy in this neighborhood this week.

The power house at the Rocky is in operation again after being idle for some weeks while making repairs and improvements. Mrs Neil Livingstone is spending this week with her sister, Mrs L. McLean.

Miss Mary Miller and friends were guests with Mr and Mrs Jas. Miller on Sunday.

Mr and Mrs Jas Gillam and Mrs. Grice, Hamilton, spent a couple of days with Mr and Mrs Jerry Allord. The two ladies are step daughters of Mrs Allord.

... to save time USE THE DIRECTORY and avoid "wrong number"

TELEPHONE numbers are tricky things to remember. Often when you think you know a number you have really transposed the two inside figures. It is so easy to say 3264 instead of 2624! The result is that you get "Wrong Number". You are annoyed and so is the other person. You have wasted your own time and his.

It is safer and quicker to use the directory before you call a number, because "Wrong Number" is one of the chief causes of a million calls a day in Ontario and Quebec which go wrong — tie up traffic — cause irritation — block business.

Some of these are operators' errors, and some are mistakes by the person making the call. He may ask for the wrong number — he may speak indistinctly and be misunderstood.

We want you to have the best possible telephone service. We are constantly striving to provide it by reducing our own errors and by improving equipment. But it takes three people to complete a call.

Use the directory — speak slowly and distinctly — avoid wrong numbers — save time — help business efficiency.

*To keep a step in advance of demand, and to improve facilities, will involve an outlay this year in excess of $27,000,000.
