HENDERSON'S BAKERY

PRICEVILLE AND VICINITY

PRICEVILLE

Everybody is taking advantage by the good days by taking up their potatoes and they are a very good yield. Mr John McLean of Edmonton, son of Mr and Mrs D G McLean, is visiting his many friends round here. He was sent down East to attend the Prison convention which recently met in Toronto.

Mr and Mrs Nell McLeod and Marjorie, Swinton Park, were recent visitors at A L Hincks'.

Rev. Mr and Mrs Sutherland and family, and Miss Monica Lambert, arrived last week from Nova Scotia, and will occupy Mrs McConkey's house. They have been with Mr Thos Nichol until their furniture arrives. Their many friends are glad to see them back in Priceville again.

Mrs Allie McLean, arrived home from Durham hospital Saturday and is improving nicely after her operation. Hope she may continue to improve.

Mr and Mrs Geo. McLellan, Niagara Falls, motored over and spent the week end at Mr Dan Campbell's. Congratulations to Mr and Mrs. Willie Hincks who were married on Saturday last.

The Presbyterian body here extended a call to Rev. Mr Kennedy at a meeting held in their Hall Monday.

The Directors of the Agricultural Society are looking forward to a successful Fair on Thursday and Friday of this week, given fair weather. The entries have come in very good and in large numbers. The roof of the Hall has been put in good repair with a brand new covering of shingles. A fine concert is being provided for.

We have often thought to mention the fine exact workmanship displayed in the erection of 40 ft. posts, guarding the approach to the new bridge on the town line, all the same height: easy enough perhaps and all the same level without a guiding pattern. We are constrained to remark every time we see it, 'A thing of beauty is a joy forever.' Messrs Alex Carson and Angus Clark were the artists.

Anniversary Services of St Columba on the 6th. Rev. St. John, B.A. Markdale, will conduct services. A supper will be served on the 6th. The lady whistling artist from Orangeville will be a good drawing card.

Mr Angus Clark purposes putting up a new barn and has the forms for the cement foundation up, which will be built this fall.

The School Fair held Monday at Fiesherton was represented by our school here which took part in the various exercises very creditably. They had by far the best banner, executed by Rev. F Sullivan of the coat of arms, lion and unicorn.

PRICEVILLE & GLENELG

An old colored man while sitting in his hut sang, "I am sometimes drunk, I am sometimes sober, De fall of the year comes in October." So we are in the fall of the year as we are now entering the Autumn month. We have passed Spring and Summer, now Autumn and next Winter to be experienced by those who are to see its chilly and cold atmosphere. The passing of time has its different story to tell.

We go back and give a retrospective view of all duties the many classes of humanity has to attend to since last Spring. The farmer hurriedly was cultivating the fall plowed fields and he gave a look to the East, West North and South and he saw some clouds putting in an appearance from the eastern horizon. He hurriedly called aloud to his hired man to hurry up and get that field sowed before the rain fell. But the rain didn't come and the man who waited patiently, trusting in the Author of wet and dry weather got along as well as he who hardly waited to chew the last bite at the dinner table.

Seed time ended with potatoes planted, corn sowed and turnips drilled. So he waited patiently through June, doing this and other matters that needed attention before having time on 1st of July. He takes a view at his meadow fields and sees that the field of alfalfa ready for the mower. So he hurriedly gets his mowing machine in order and attends to that part of his duties as a prosperous farmer. The hay crop is good and it takes him to 1st Aug. to finish that part of his farming duties.

He takes another stroll to the back end of his farm and finds a field of barley ready for the binder and as his harvest machine is probably out of order, it takes him a day to put it in shape for the large harvest awaiting.

Harvest over there are other necessary works to attend to. It is truly said that one man soweth and another reapeth.

The business man is pleased to be kept busy attending to his numerous customers. The school teachers felt the two month vacation went over in a hurry and had to ring the bell again on Sept. 1st. The Editors are hurrying up to have their papers out by the middle of the week and some times find its correspondent's budgets badly written and put in order and have to be corrected, etc.

So another year's duties are about ended and all concerned are looking for a repetition of the same the coming year 1930. But who can tell what adversities may intervene and prosperous expectations reverse? We are pleased to hear that Rev. Mr Sutherland and family have arrived at Priceville and intend to have their home there. The many friends of Mr Sutherland in Priceville and vicinity wish him a speedy recovery from his illness.

Two funerals in Durham and vicinity last Friday, Mr McClocklin, late of com. 4, Glen. and Mr Alex McLean, Bentinck, both well known to many readers of Review.

The School Fair held at No 3, Edge Hill, was quite a success as young and old enjoyed the program under the beautiful rays of a fine September sun.

Our young M.P.P., who is to address Edge Hill ratepayers on Oct. 4th in the school house, will have a good speech ready. So come and hear the young orator and others address the meeting.

We received a letter from Mrs Colman McLean and daughter of Priceville. They left early last summer to visit their five brothers in various parts of the West. Some of them she has not seen for 40 years. Mrs McLean is the recipient of a good life partner who obeys the vows given him at the marriage altar by Rev Mr Matheson, to share with his life partner in prosperity and adversity.

We have finished 52 years as correspondent to the Review and we ask the Editor to join us if it were possible to experience part of old Mrs. Thue's age. We might look for 50 years in the future but in the natural course of life it is impossible for the youngest of us to experience many years in the future. May they say we have fought a good fight at the completion of our term of life.

JOHN IRWIN SHOT IN MISTAKE BY NEIGHBOR NEAR NELSON, B.C.

Former Priceville Resident Passes out at 84 years of age.—Was Pulling Weeds in Garden in Gloom of Evening, and mistaken for bear.

(Sent by Priceville-Glenelg corr.)

Since I posted my clipping and card from a friend, Mrs Walker, Toronto, on the death of an old Priceville young man, Mr John Erwin, a long resident of Priceville, who was one of C. C. James' helpers in his tannery. Mr Erwin was mistaken in the gloom for a bear, as he was stooping over in the garden pulling weeds by a neighbor's son, about six miles out from Castlegar, British Columbia.

Mr Erwin will be remembered by some of Priceville's older residents, as a faithful member of the old Presbyterian Church, where he held the office of elder while a resident and Sup't of the Sunday School. Mr Erwin and the writer sat side by side for years in the old fashioned precursor's box, leading the singing, time, etc. about, in the old fashioned manner without the aid of organ.

His life partner who was a Priceville girl, was Miss Annie Ferguson, daughter of the late Alex Ferguson, an old resident gone many years ago. She had many relatives in Priceville her mother being McLaughlin. Mr Erwin and family moved to London, some 40 or more years ago and moved to the West over 20 years ago. His many old friends in Priceville and vicinity will regret to hear of this fine old resident's instant death. Probably the editor will remember him when on duty in Priceville. So the writer's old comrades in Priceville and vicinity are passing away one by one.

Inspiring Services at Glenelg Centre Anniversary

The Glenelg Centre Baptists enjoyed a season of spiritual uplift from the messages of Rev. T. E. Richards, M. A., Hanover, on the occasion of their Anniversary. In the morning, his theme was 'Knowing Christ' and in the evening 'The love of Christ', Good congregations attended church services, Durham Baptist Church cancelling their services for the day.

On Monday evening occurred the Anniversary Supper. The main feature of the program was a cartoon lecture on "Capital Eyes" by the pastor, Rev. J. T. Priest, B. A., who held his audience for an hour with humor, pathos and inspirational appeal, rapidly sketching pictures while he talked. Those who ably assisted in the program were Durham and Glenelg choirs, duet by Mrs Wilfrid Thompson and Miss Eva Renold, Durham; readings by Miss W. Binnie, Glenelg, and Mrs Priest; an address by Reeve Allan Bell of Durham. The singing of the Doxology brought to a close a happy and profitable evening.

After the ceremony, they motored to the home of the bride's parents, where a wedding dinner awaited them. Only immediate members of both families were present.

The community extends best wishes to the young couple who are taking up home-making on the groom's farm on the 5th corn.

From Review file, Sept. 29, 1904. The teachers leave this morning for Markdale for their Annual Convention. And of course it rained.
