Spirit of Sturdy Scotchman Passes out Tuesday

DONALD SIMPSON
As a tired child passing into a deep sleep, might the death of Donald Simpson be characterized, which took place Tuesday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. T. M. McFadden in town. Since coming to Durham six years ago to make his home here, deceased has identified himself little with the life of the town and for the past four years has received an invalid's attention. During this long period, he has had the constant and loving attention of his daughter and sister-in-law, Miss Annie Davis, who has also made her home with her niece. Deceased, in the past has suffered slight paralytic strokes and while never affecting his speech or limbs, entered some of the brain cells, which at times ran high temperatures, burning up his vitality. The late Mr. Simpson was as loyal a Scot as ever emigrated from Scotland, being born in Calthness, near John o' Groat, the most northerly point. In early manhood he accompanied his sister to Canada, who was to be married here and his liking for the new country was such that he stayed with it. Eventually his parents and other brothers and sisters also "came over" and the early home was in Stouffville vicinity, where a sister yet resides.

The subject of our sketch in early years married Miss Carrie Davis and the home foundations built upon love and honor and explicit trust in a Divine Providence, proved to be one of the happiest. Of the marriage were born three children, one son dying in youth; Murray of California and Mrs. Moore McFadden of town.

Deceased followed the mercantile career in Dunnville and Pickering, later retiring to Hamilton where the wife and mother passed away six years ago January last.

Mr. Simpson was born and cradled in the Presbyterian faith and for many years served as church elder in Pickering and Dunnville, being ordained for this work at 27 years of age. On the re-organization of the Presbyterian church here, he was one of the Session. He was a great reader of Scottish history and lore and nothing pleased him more than to relate early days and activities in the "old land."

Mr. Simpson in the days of youth was a prominent lodge man, belonging to the Oddfellow lodge at Dunnville and the Doris Masonic lodge at Pickering. Some time ago a letter was received from the Dunnville Oddfellow lodge, accompanied by a jewel, as a recognition of valuable services rendered that lodge by deceased.

Thus has gone from among us one of God's patriarchs who has "fought the good fight and kept the faith." The funeral service will be held on Thursday night at the home of his son-in-law, T. M. McFadden and on Friday a. m., the funeral cortege will proceed to Dunnville where remains will lie beside his wife.

With the immediate family there will also mourn two sisters, Mrs. Mary of Stouffville, Mrs. Hill from near Chatham and one brother Alex. of Port Dover.

Bought former Hughes Home
Mr. Albert Middleton has purchased the Hughes residence on the Durham Hill, opposite the Public Library and the family is removing there to-day, Wednesday, from their present home east of the rink. Mr. and Mrs. Middleton have secured a very comfortable, conveniently located home.

Old and Historic Tree down
One of the stately poplar trees in front of the grounds of Miss Margaret Hunter's property on Durham Road, a prey to the severe wind of Tuesday night. Fortunately it fell the very best angle it could, for a little further north west would have wrecked the verandah and if falling south ward, would have been a road encumbrance as well as fatally injuring anyone passing under at time. These poplar trees have seen much history in the life of the town and were they gifted with speech could relate many a tale.

Allan Park U. F. W. O.
The monthly meeting of the Allan Park - U. F. W. O. was held at the home of Mrs. Geo. Mighton, with a large number of members and visitors present. The meeting opened with singing and repeating of the creed. Mrs. G. Turnbull, president, was in the chair; Mrs. Porter gave an interesting paper on "Fifty Years Ago." "A Vacation to Toronto" was given by Gladys Mighton and some very helpful points were brought out in a paper by Miss Mary Hopkins on "What to expect of co-operation." An interesting poem was read by Mrs. Fred Terry. The roll call for next month was to be a cake recipe or quilt pattern. A social evening was decided upon to be held at the home of Mrs. Geo. Reay, and which was well represented on Oct. 18th. The National Anthem closed the meeting after which a dainty luncheon was served by the hostess and a social half hour spent. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. Fred Terry on Nov. 1st. As this is the annual meeting, all members and those wishing to join us are cordially invited to attend.

Hear Oliver next Tuesday Last Meeting in Durham

On Tuesday night next, 29th inst., the last political gun will be fired in Durham Town Hall, when F. R. Oliver will close his campaign here at 8 p. m. With him addressing the audience on the issues of the day will be Miss Agnes Macphail, M. P. The Hall will be sure to be taxed, so be there early.

Vote for Oliver

This is the last issue of the Review before the voting, on October 30th. Both candidates are busy. Mr. Oliver has systematically covered this big riding of South Grey or will do so by next Tuesday night, and the enthusiasm being shown for him, coupled with the wonderful demonstration of Nomination afternoon, leads to one conclusion that he will again be elected, many think by a large majority. Nor is this saying anything against Mr. Perdue, who has a good reputation, but he supports the Ferguson Gov't, which has a bad reputation for breaking promises, notably in the case of the L. C. A., the influence of which instead of leading into the ray paths of safety and sobriety is leading in the opposite direction. Figures all point to danger for the young, danger on the highways, danger to the home. Safety at present lies in voting for Oliver, who has a record in his first term to be proud of and who will enhance that record in the future. Vote for Oliver.

Conservative Speakers laud Liquor Control Act

Hon. W. H. Price and Mrs. Loughheed big Conservative Artillery here on Monday Night.—Hall Almost Full

The Town Hall was almost filled on Monday night for the Durham meeting of Nelson Perdue, Conservative candidate. As special artillery, Attorney-General W. H. Price and Mrs. J. Loughheed of Toronto, were brought here and all the speakers spent much of the evening in praise of the Liquor Control Act, which they recognize, though not admitting it, as the great issue of the campaign.

Mr. Perdue was the opening speaker. He was a temperance man, saw less drunkenness under Gov't. Control than under O. T. A., didn't believe in dictating to his neighbor what he should do. Our churches and temperance societies should by education and moral suasion create temperance sentiment. Oliver had done nothing for South Grey. "What could a man do standing out in the cold by himself?" He could do more than ever Mr. Oliver could.

Price also took a ring at the popular local member. He said that in quoting Gov't expenditure, Mr. Oliver classed 1923 as a Ferguson year, whereas the Drury Gov't was in power 84 mos. of that year and spent $9 million. Oliver he said at 1922 as last Drury year, when they spent $4 million.

The reason for this premature election was that Gov't was now ready for a big development program: 1—of New Ontario, provide better markets for Old Ontario; 2—of rural by-roads; 3—of rural by-roads. They wanted the country's mandate now before proceeding.

The 4 beer clause was brought in to help enforce O. T. A. It was not a success, but present Act is the best liquor act of any province: It has cleaned up the big bootlegger and that little blind pigging is left is not of a serious nature. He would say to Mr. Oliver "Why does Prohibition Union attack the strongest Act in whole Dominion in Ontario?" Just to beat the Ferguson Gov't. "No one's more could make greater progress in controlling liquor than we have through liquor stores." He quoted figures to show deaths from alcoholic poisoning were decreasing since O. T. A. days and increasing in United States, which under prohibition was the worst country in the world. The Liquor Act is now well enforced here, with aid of Provincial Police, without spotters spying a road.

Mr. Loughheed of Toronto went into ecstasies over Premier Ferguson. "The biggest-hearted Premier Ontario ever had, the greatest ever in history, etc. etc. His government was a wonderful record of progress. God forbid that the O. T. A. is ever put back on statutes," she said; its ten year trial was utter failure: it caused disaster for all laws. Best thing we ever did was to drop the O. T. A. for L. C. A. She took a slam at the Prohibition Union claiming it was never active at a Dominion election. Howard Ferguson is trying to get temperance a better way, and statistics prove liquor is now being controlled.

Of Ontario's $392,000,000 debt, she said $333,000,000 was capital investment, producing revenue, and of the other $60,000,000, $29,000,000 was a legacy from Drury Gov't.

It is conceded by South Grey electors that it won't be a question of F. R. Oliver's majority, but by how much.

Nearly 1000 Attended Rink Nomination Meeting

Crowds too large to allow of being held in Town Hall. Preponderance of Enthusiasm for Oliver.

South Grey nominations were held by Returning Officer H. G. Brigham, in the Town Hall Saturday, when Farquhar R. Oliver, U.F.O. of Artemesia Township, and J. Nelson Perdue, Conservative of Holland Township, were the only nominees. At the close of the hour, Clerk Brunt read off the list of polls and the D.R.O.'s. Messengers or to banish the bootlegger, as many more outside unable to gain admittance, so adjournment was made to the skating rink to give everyone an opportunity to hear the two candidates together.

Returning Officer Brigham was voted to the chair and it was agreed that each candidate should speak 50 minutes, with Mr. Oliver ten minutes for reply.

In opening, F. R. Oliver said he had nothing personal against his opponent and had every respect for him, but the Government and the principles he stood for would be the subject of his attack. This holding of an early untimely election should receive condemnation of all electors. Not one of Ferguson's three promises when he introduced L.C.A., had been fulfilled—to cut down liquor consumption, to reduce evils of intemperance or to banish the bootlegger. 36,000 more liquor permits had been sold the first 11 months of this year and Ferguson was afraid to make this year's sales to date public, so making it the increase. The small bootlegger in giving Control Com. a good deal of concern. The big bootlegger has not been wiped out either and he denied stating he had been done away with, as some Markdale accidents were spreading. Continuing his severe arraignment of the total failure of the L.C.A., from a viewpoint of increasing sobriety, Mr. Oliver charged the Ferguson Gov't had never lifted a little finger to combat the evil of intemperance. If not for liquor profits the Gov't would have had a deficit of over eight millions last year. Under L.C.A. a marked increase in drunks and auto accidents is shown. Ontario cannot afford to spend fifty millions a year in drink and this year likely 60 or 70 millions. He stoutly denied that he had supported or condoned in any way, the Government Control Act in the House.

The Prvt. debt has mounted from $303,391,291 in 1923 when Ferguson gov't took office to $394,113,528 in 1928. Last year 24 million was added to debt and 3 million paid off. With total assets of only $422,000,000, Ontario is in a bad way.

Historic I. O. D. E. Pageant Taking Shape

The romantic and tragic history of "Mary Queen of Scots" who in generations past set her feet on a triple throne, will be portrayed in Town Hall two nights in November, under I. O. D. E. auspices. Those who saw the Confederation Pageant in the Rink two years ago arranged by Mrs. (Dr.) Farewell of Walkerton, will want very badly to see this pageant, which is fully equal, if not superior to that of two years ago. Nothing just like it has been ever in Durham. Watch for dates.
