Armistice day sermon at 11 a.m. Sunday next in St Columba Church: At 7 p.m., John Bunyan, the man and the Book, the first of a series of sermons on that wonderful book 'The Pilgrim's Progress' by Rev. F. Sullivan. Everybody welcome.

The iron work of the new bridge on the 2nd con. N.D.R., after lying in state, or in status quo for a month, is now erected, 1 1/2 days being required for the job. The cement covering is supposed to be started this week.

The church's power is stopped: it is not doing its best, judging from the result of last election. If brewers and distillers were put up against Jesus today, some would cry 'Away with Him' as they did before Pilate. In the mad rush of life, it is well to stop, look and listen to the call of conscience and the searching question, 'What shall I do with Jesus?'—the text at Sunday's p.m. service.

At the morning service the sacrament of the Lord's Supper was solemnly and decorously observed when 83 members observed the sacred ordinance. Many absences were noticed through absence of previous Sunday and sickness.

Rev. Sullivan, preliminary to giving a series of sermons on 'The Pilgrim's Progress', purposes giving a resume of the author, John Bunyan, and the times in which he lived next Sunday evening. The meeting called for Tuesday to organize the Y.P.S. for the coming winter months, was held.

The Anniversary Services at the United Church Sunday were largely attended both morning and evening. Mr. Prosser preached inspiring sermons. The musical numbers given by the Asheton quartette were appealing and much enjoyed.

The United Church Mission Band held a Halloween social at Mrs Jas. Mitchell's last Friday and those present had a jolly time as it takes the young folks to enter into the spirit of the night with real zest. The very wet night kept a number under their own roof.

PRICEVILLE & GLENELG

Chill November's stormy blasts made fields and forests yare and their beauty has fallen. The tall and majestic maples and elms which are the pride of the forest, are now in mourning over the loss of their summer garment. We take a walk on the pathway through the woods and the rustling of the leaves under our feet testifies that barrenness.

The young scholars are yet protected by their big seniors by holding to their colors. The dreary winter is fast approaching and tender pioneers will keep as near as possible to the fireplace.

The town of Durham has been severely visited by the fiery element lately and personally we can give a short historical sketch of the proprietor of the McIntyre Block, the late Norman McIntyre. When young boys Norman and the writer sat on the seat in the old section No 2, Durham Road, Glenelg and what the one did not know in figures the other would tell. Often Mr McIntyre told us he copied off our slate what he didn't know and often we did the same thing from his slate. In showing the question, he asked, 'Did we get the answer?' 'Yes, all right.' No question was asked 'How did you get it.'

Mr McIntyre had three miles to come to school from the old homestead on the north line, while we had only about 20 rods. to go. Mr McIntyre accumulated his success by being in the timber business. When a young man he was often seen in a blinding snow storm on his way to visit his gang of men in different parts of the neighboring townships. We always found Mr McIntyre a real gentleman as were all our old school mates who have passed away.

Mr McIntyre went for three years to school together and one could not boast over the other by being more educated. This will bring to the memory of widow and family of Mr McIntyre the many changes that have intervened since that far away date, over 70 years ago and prosperity and adversity could be experienced by both of us.

This Monday, 4th Nov, has a winter like appearance, snow fallen for some time but melts away as fast as it falls.

Election over and the results were published. Congratulations to the young orator of South Grey on his success.

Halloween passed off quietly. A Halloween party was given by the Anderson boys at the Atkinson home which they have rented, on Halloween eve and all reported a good time.

Mrs McPherson of Lambton St. is spending some time in Toronto.

Sorry to hear that Rev Mr Sutherland of Priceville is not improving in health quickly, but hope for better results soon.

Mr and Mrs Wm McLeod of Top Cliff attended the Presbyterian Ch. at Durham last Sunday and were the guests of Mrs N. McCannel, Lambton St.

The many friends of Miss Margaret McLeod was pleased to see her out voting on 30th Oct. after a long spell of invalidism.

Hector and Kate McDonald and Herb Edge spent an afternoon visiting their friends, the Leth family at Dromore.

SWINTON PARK

The election is over and we are still here enjoying the wet and dry weather. We feared after all the temperance lectures we had from the men in the north, that it would be a very dry time. However it is nice that we of South Grey can hold up our heads, knowing that we have a representative capable of filling the position in the interests of the common people.

This Monday, 5th Nov. is our first snow of the season, but still the plow is going and a lot to be done yet. Though we have had a remarkably fine season, work has not progressed as it should, the ground being so dry.

J. H. Richardson has rented his farm here to a family by the name of McKay, hailing from Berkeley. Mr and Mrs McKay and five sons and daughters moved in last week. We bid them welcome to our neighborhood.

Miss Marjorie McLeod is on a motor trip to Poole, Mich. as present, going with Glenelg friends.

Mr Richard Hardy has come to Toronto where he intends to spend some time. Mr Howard Watson motored to the city lately and treated himself to a new closed car.

We are sorry to hear that Mr. James Hay is still in a very weak condition and much sympathy is felt for him, all hoping his health may soon improve.

We also have quite an epidemic of chicken pox among the school children. Very few at school these days. We hope that all get over it nicely and may soon be out to school.

There are some turnips to be harvested and we fear cold hands will be experienced.

Wilfrid Black is on the trap line these days and is getting some fur.
