

Season's Greetings:

To my Patrons and Friends:

A Glad and Bright New Year to you:
 May Good Luck be your Guiding Star in everything you do:
 Along the highway of your life may the stumbling blocks be few;
 The dark spots banished by the light of Friendships tried and true.

GREEN GROVE

On Friday afternoon last the annual Xmas Tree and entertainment was held in the schoolhouse and the day was stormy there was a good turnout of children and parents. Mr. John McGirr acted as chairman. The program put on by the children consisted of chimes, recitations, songs, pantomimes and dialogues. Short addresses were given by Mrs. Wm Patterson, Wm Thompson, Wm Jacques and John McGirr. On behalf of the trustees, Mr. Wm Lawrence moved a vote of thanks to Miss Anderson for the splendid program given. After "God save the King" Santa Claus arrived and unloaded the treats. Mrs. Jas Brown acting as Santa Claus. Miss Anderson received a fancy program, a box of handkerchiefs for the children. Everyone went home at once, thoroughly enjoying themselves.

Miss Mina Hargrave, of Toronto spent over the holiday with her mother Mrs. Wm Hargrave.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm Atchison and family and Mr. and Mrs. Jno Lawrence, spent Xmas with Mr. Harold Lawrence of Egremont.

Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Hamilton ate Xmas dinner with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Firth.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm Patterson spent Xmas with his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kellar.

Mr. and Mrs. John McGirr and Alice spent Xmas with friends in town.

We wish the Review and staff a most prosperous New Year.

Mr. Reg Arnett, Orangeville and Miss Annie, Toronto, spent Xmas with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wes Arnett.

Miss Leta Dalley, Toronto, spent over the holiday with her aunt, Mrs. Wm Hargrave.

Misses Jessie and Mary Bell, Toronto, spent over the holiday with her mother and brothers.

 Mrs Wm Hincks spent a few days visiting Markdale friends.

Mr Burrell, Hanover, has purchased Mr Neil Cameron's bush and has a number of men cutting timber. The mail carriers are having very bad roads and disagreeable weather, while making their rounds. And these days have been laden with parcels.

Miss Wilha Patterson is engaged to teach school at Goring after the Xmas vacation. She has been teaching up north.

Mrs Henry Patterson is in Dundalk with her daughter-in-law, Mrs Coverdale Patterson, who is seriously ill.

Rev. Mr Pritchard preached Sunday in the Hall.

Miss Mary McCuaig and brother, spent a few days visiting their sister Wilha, at Walkerton.

Miss Jessie Nichol, Toronto Normal School, is spending her vacation at her home.

Miss Della McPhail, Toronto, is visiting at her uncle's, John McMeekin's.

Mr Innis McLean came home from Toronto last Monday, where he had been seized with another attack of appendicitis. He has it checked again and glad to know he is feeling better.

Misses Mabel Watters and Hilda McEachnie, Orangeville, are spending the Xmas season at their homes.

(Other items in budget have been cancelled owing to duplication of another budget, which was already in type.)

PRICEVILLE & GLENELG

We have passed the severest December for a number of years. Snow drifts and zero weather prevail. This Saturday 21st Dec. is the shortest day in the year. We may look for a mild January. Concerts had to be postponed for some future time.

School meeting on Thursday of this week; Xmas on Wednesday next. Before going any further we extend our good wishes to the Editor and staff and hope they may pleasantly enjoy the festivities of the season.

We had no mail at Edge Hill for three days but thanks to Cecil Moffat, who brought our mail while he was in Durham Friday.

We congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Alex McDonald on their recent union. Both are from the old Township of Glenelg where they attended in youth.

Before Xmas on Wednesday next, H H full days the old school at Top Cliff (Miss Lizzie McCuaig) who occupied a higher position in school matters, educating the youth, thought it best to abandon her many years training of education, consequently she accepted the call of one pupil to be her faithful partner in the long expected journey into the future by each pleasantly sharing their joys and sorrows together.

As both are far away from their former old homes, their memory goes back to the many changes in the once large families, but now left lonely by the passing away of their parents.

Before this will appear in the press we will have that eventful day, Xmas and many a home will be blessed by having members of the family partaking of the festivities prepared by the good faithful mother to entertain sons and daughters who haven't adorned their old home by their presence for a long time. Sad changes also have taken place in many a home. The aged father or mother who welcomed cheerfully members of the family the last Xmas, have passed away and now as was said of one of our old, that only the garments they wore are to be found in the old room which the good parents occupied for many years. On the old fashioned table lay the old family Bible and can be said by members of the family "My father read this holy book to sister brother dear, how calm was my mother's look after the evening prayer, etc."

It is a fact that the young generations have in many cases forgotten from the custom of their forefathers in the simple language by morning and evening reading a portion of the good old Book, committing and asking the care of the Good Shepherd to be with them during the silent hours of the night and in the morning asking the care over them during the duties of the day and when the journey of life is ended that all the trials and troubles in life be forgotten on entering the home prepared in the house of many mansions.

The sad death of Kenneth Matheson, son of Rev. and Mrs Matheson of Gould, Quebec, came to us on Thursday night last week after a couple weeks' illness, resulting from an operation for appendicitis. Kenneth was born in Priceville and was about 22 years of age, a bright boy and a favorite with his chums. Lately he went to Detroit and died in the hospital there. His sorrowful mother was with him when he died. The sad blow was severe but as a Christian mother she could express the words of the Lord: "The Lord gave and the Lord hath again His own: blessed be His name. Mr and Mrs Matheson are present with their daughter in New Toronto." Owing to the severe storm Friday, both Mr and Mrs M. were debarred from accompanying the remains to McNeill's cemetery in Priceville, where the remains were laid beside his brother Donald who died many years ago. We understand Mr Matheson is not feeling well. His many old members in Priceville congregation where he labored faithfully for 21 years, extend to Mr and Mrs Matheson and daughter condolence in the sad loss of a dutiful son. The writer, who is one of Mr Matheson's oldest members in his former congregation, extend to him and Mrs Matheson his condolence with the many "who join in the old hymn: "Take comfort Christians, when your son in Jesus falls asleep." Mrs. M's brother and son-in-law and Mr Dan McInnes, an old member of Mr Matheson's congregation, accompanied the remains to Priceville.

IN MEMORIAM

Sacred to the memory of Miss Christina McDonald, who passed away Christmas night, Dec. 25, 1928, after a long illness borne with Christian patience.

A faithful sister now has left us. Weeping in this vale of tears. But tis God that hath bereft us Of a sister faithful here. But in Heaven we hope to meet thee, Where no farewell tears are shed, And with joy we hope to greet thee, Where no parting words are said.

Sadly missed by her aged brothers, John and Donald.
