STRATFORD AND LISTOWEL CITIZENS DUPED BADLY

Perhaps the saddest story one can read is that of those who have carefully saved from their meagre income with the view of putting in "for a rainy day," and then in a flash learn that they are left desolate and these meagre savings gone from them.

BACKGROUND NEEDED

True, son; but before deciding to get along without an education, as Ford did, make sure you are a Ford.

city and this has been cleaned of bonds valued at $17,490. As the exposures are still going on.

Prosecution of charges of conspiracy and intent to defraud, against J. Cecil Hamilton, H. W. Hubbs and L. N. Burlington of Listowel, have also been made for embezzling with funds entrusted to their care by citizens of that town and have taken close to half a million dollars out of the community.

Then on the stock market, Harry Lyons, son of an ex-member of the Prov'l cabinet, is demanding a delivery of 221 units of Nickle Hill mining stock short on the market and now that it is soaring, and it hard to raise their obligations. These brokers may be perfectly reliable men but the fact is they sold something which they did not have, in the hope of an other transaction that the purchasers might desire to sell some one else and as the Sun Times says, without demanding the delivery of the certificates.

These brokers received the check of their lives when they found themselves asked for the stock and were unable to come through with it. These are only three instances where innocent and honest people are being duped by those who handle financial transactions, supposed to be in good faith, for them. It comes down to the point "Who is one to trust? The public are entitled to protection and anything that will not stand probing or the light of day, is not a safety deposit box for one's savings. The spirit of "wealth at any price" appears to be the slogan for many to-day. A youth may be sentenced to reformatory for a simple theft, but in many cases it is the slick money grabber, whose theft runs into the thousands, who goes scot free. There is no such thing as respectable theft and it should be punished on the same basis and scale as the underhand brat.

IN MEMORIAM

MacLachlan—in ever loving memory of my dear mother, Mrs. Alice Lachlan, who passed away Jan 1929, in Durham Hospital.

She had no time to say farewell. She said good bye to none. The heavenly gates were opened. And aslant voice said "come". Her life of unselfish devotion. To me and to all in need. Stands as a glorious example. To follow in thought, word and deed. Always so good, unselfish and few on this earth her equal. One of the best that God could send. A true loving mother right to the end. She had a nature all could love. Her memory will never fade.

—Ever remembered by Jean, Woodbridge.

In loving memory of Mrs. Alice Lachlan, who passed away Jan 1929, in Durham Hospital. Mr and Mrs A. McEachern, Wm. Woodbridge.

The man who marries a beauty always wants her to shine afterward. Durham has them too. Taxes are a burden and same time a necessity, say the erton Times, to keep our public utilities and schools at standard of proficiency. Taxes to be paid on property, with vacant, and also on incomes, are lucky enough to have sufficient to pay taxes on but owner, or a good many of the cape the payment of their erton boasts of at least 15 good, bad and indifferent, thoroughbreds, others just half, or much better, of the them. Why not make a class the unpaid for canines or cats taxes.
