SWINTON PARK

The snow does snow and the wind blows, we in the Park are looking forward to the fine days that are ahead, when all will be able to enjoy the beauties of our land. We have strange things happening at present. Two gentlemen are conducting religious meetings in the schoolhouse each evening. We have acquired from several of those present, but no one has been able to give us the name of these men or where they come from or what organization they belong to. All say they are nice men, the meetings are fittingly conducted. The gentlemen are to pay for the wood and light used. Without any remuneration this seems too much of a good thing in this community where we have been so long accustomed to pay for such services. However, time will tell whether good has been the result or not. We think some one has erred in the matter.

Mr John Lane has returned after spending a week in Toronto with friends. Mr and Mrs Hugh Copeland from near Dundalk, spent the last week with their daughter, Mrs Jas. Hardy. Mrs W J McMillan and children, also Mr and Mrs Ed. Heard and children, were recent visitors with Mr and Mrs Jno. Aldcorn. Mr Fred Knox intends going to the city next week for the gathering of his old battalion and renewing old acquaintances. Mr and Mrs Hugh McLean entertained their many friends Friday evening last by giving a dance in their home. Mr and Mrs Alex Richardson are doing so this Tuesday evening there by renewing the pioneer custom and having a good time with their neighbors.

We were pleased to see in last week's Review that our old neighbor, John McQueen is still reading the Globe. We also have read the Globe since the early days and my opinion is though the Globe has grown with age, we do not think age has improved its matter much. I have a faint remembrance of a continued story read from the Globe—I think in the 60's of last century. If my memory serves me right the title was "Remember old Limpy" a tale of pioneer days which was in the locality of Markham. Would some one tell me if I am right or am I only dreaming?

PRICEVILLE & GLENELG

An old bachelor who was teased by some young smarties, asked him when he was going to get married. He said to wait till they saw what February would bring about. But February came and went and so did the poor old bachelor without the expected change. And now we are experiencing what February is bringing about and on this 8th day, the beautiful rays of the sun makes the old and helpless veteran enjoy the pleasant warmth as he sits at his window. It reminds him of the days of his youth,—whether it be sunshine or clouds it would be all the same to him. Whether the weather be foul or fair it was all the same to him. Now he gives a backward view and the many years and Februaries that have intervened in the days of his long pilgrimage. They are now to him as a tale that is told or as a dream of the past night, when probably he is only half sleeping from the intricacies of his ailments. As one who lived in the past, we will give the manner in which the necessities of food and raiment were prepared in that far away date. Without any preliminary remarks, we will bring to the youth of to-day the experience of their grandmothers and in some instances their great grandmothers. At the first of winter a crowd of good old faithful women were asked to come to an old fashioned falling bee by some mothers, who was blessed with an old fashioned cabin and by some half dozen boys awaiting the result of the good old mother's labors. Some dozen sat around and paid no attention to their discomfort while soaked with soap suds up to their waist. Some good old mother at the end sang a song and the rest kept time to the music. Then another good mother took up another song and all enjoyed the visit as much as if a program had been prepared for them.

The mother who was the owner of the contents of the work was busily engaged while the work was going on in preparing the supper for the workers to an old fashioned chimney in an old frying pan making big banquets well seasoned with pork gravy and after the work was done, all sat to an old fashioned table and enjoyed the menu prepared by the good proprietress. Although tea was a luxury at $1 a pound, they all enjoyed a good cup with milk from the only cow on the farm. All getting seated quietly at the table, a good old mother asked the blessing thanking the Good Master for His kindness to them in being able to perform the duties of life. The cloth in due time was made into suits and the ladies thankfully rewarded for their work. Now all the good old mothers were Highland and no English used by any of them. Mrs Robert McDonald killed a bear with a fire shovel in the Spring after coming out of his winter quarters. So the good women of old were not afraid to attack a bear or any other wild animal. We see the Globe has been in the McQueen family for 70 years and now we can tell Mr McQueen that the Globe has been in the McDonald family for 75 years and still coming regularly. It was a weekly paper then, printed on Friday and took the whole week to reach the readers. See the good old editor, George Brown, setting type on an old fashioned chair with his No. 12 beads as a firm support to stand upon. On the 14th Feb. 1851, the writer with his father and mother and family, arrived at the Durham Road, in Glenelg when the snow was 3 1/2 feet deep on the level. The Editor of the Review was only creeping on the floor then while the writer enjoyed wading in the heaps of snow piled on the newly made pathway, never dreaming that he would see the year 1930.

We congratulate our friend, George Binnie on celebrating his 80th birthday on St. Valentine's Day, and his many friends wish him many returns. This Monday, Feb 10, is quite stormy and holds up February's reputation. We had a long letter from Rev. Mr Matheson lately. They sorely lament the death of their dutiful son but glad to know that their loss was his gain. Mr Matheson was to resume his pulpit work last Sunday after a vacation of some length. The strain will come hard on him owing to his recent bereavement. The many friends of Mr and Mrs Matheson and daughter, Mrs Grant, send them condolence in their sorrow. We also received a letter from Rev. Mr Sutherland of Priceville. He says he is holding his own but not much improvement. He says his mother died on New Year's Day in Sutherlandshire, Scotland at the age of 72 years. The Hall congregation of the Presbyterian church, Priceville, are to have the induction of their new minister, Rev Mr Stewart on 20th of February. We congratulate all the churches in Durham on their good year in 1929.

The Hall always reports a large number of deaths, a few births and marriages, all to be accepted whether fair or stormy. It was said of a minister who was performing a marriage on a stormy day that he cut it short in the following manner: "Under this roof in stormy weather, I join this man and this woman together. Let none but He who rules the thunder, Ever put this man and woman asunder." Whether real or not there were some good expressions in the ceremony. HOPEVILLE Miss Jean McTaggart visited her grandmothers, Mrs Shand and Mrs McTaggart last week. Mr Murray McEachnie, Oshawa, came home Thursday to stay until his hand is in condition to work again. Mr Geo. Stand had a radio installed in his home last week. A few residents have been under the weather with flu lately, but are improving. The Feb'y meeting of Women's Institute was held on the 12th, at the home of Mrs E. Heckridge. Program consists of a paper by Mrs John Smith: geography match and community singing. Last Thursday a large representative gathering of neighbors met at the home of Mr and Mrs J. Doig and presented them with a gasoline lamp and lantern etc they move to their new farm near Drayton. Reeve Jack read the address expressing regret at the removal and wishing them good luck to which Mrs Doig suitably replied. The evening was spent in games and dancing. Glenelg Council The second session for 1930 was held in Tp. Hall, Saturday, Feb. 7th, members of Council all present. The minutes of January meeting were read and adopted. Auditors, Messrs J P McMillan and W. A. Robinson presented their report to Council, which upon consideration, was accepted, showing total expenditures for 1929 to be $47378.83 and balance, cash on hand Dec 31st, 1929, to be $3927.03. IN DAYS OF YORE

25 YEARS AGO From Review file, Feb. 9, 1905 The com. of the Jessie McLachlan Concert in Priceville, on Friday of this week, announce that all tickets are sold and there will be no standing room. The annual meeting of the South Grey Ag'l Society was held last week and elected officers as follows: Hon. Pres., Jas Edge; President, Geo Binnie; 1st Vice Pres., C. Firth; 2nd Vice Pres., W D Mills; Sec'y Treas., Arch. Davidson. Directors: Benitck —W. Scarf, W Willis; Glenelg—Dan Edge, D. Greenwood; Normanby—T. Gadd, R. Morice; Egremont—W. J. Adams, Jas Allan, Jr.; Durham—H. McDonald. Messrs C. A. Sheppard and John Parker are this week picking up the threads of business of their late relative Henry Parker. North Egremont: Mr John Henry has recently purchased a wind engine for pumping purposes from Agent J. G Johnston, manufactured in Kendallville. Mr Henry being a breeder of a superior class of cattle of the Hereford breed found it almost absolutely necessary to supply his large stock with the needful. A large number of pigs from this end of Egremont Tp. were shipped from Holstein last Thursday by Jno. Brown, who paid 5 1/2c per lb, being 15c per cwt higher than other buyers. Varney: Mr McCabe, our new blacksmith, has moved here and is ready for work. "Hon. J. P. Whitney." Such is now the appellation of the leader of the Ontario Government, the formal swearing in having taken place, Hon. G. W. Ross and his colleagues having resigned.

15 YEARS AGO From Review file, Feb 11, 1915 The recent elevation of our townsman, Hon Dr Jamieson, to the distinguished position of Speaker of the Legislature, calls for local recognition and a public reception is being arranged for the evening of Friday, 19th Feb., in the Town Hall. Sunday next has been set apart by the Presbyterian Church as a day to commemorate the completion of 100 years of peace between Canada and the United States. Rev Mr Whaley at the morning service will take this as his theme. Messrs Allan McFarlane and Geo. Shier, fur buyers, last week purchased the hide of a timber wolf from Mr Rich. Whittaker, Artemesia, which the latter shot in a near by woods. It had somehow strayed down to W. Artemesia and had been molesting sheep. North Egremont: Mr John Hastie, Raby River, has been visiting his many cousins and friends after an absence of 19 years. He has grown to be a broad shouldered, strapping young man and an intelligent conversationalist. Bruce Council awarded $30,000 to the Patriotic Funds—a generous gift: They drank more—they bore the expense of an operation on the turnkey of the jail, being an official. Generous Bruce.
