

PRICEVILLE AND VICINITY

PRICEVILLE

Much sympathy is felt for Mr and Mrs John McMeekin, Jr. over the death of their fine beautiful child, born about 2 days before. It died on Saturday morning.

Mrs Alex Carson went to Toronto Saturday to be with her daughter Dorothy, who underwent a serious operation in Toronto Monday.

Born on March 5th, to Mr and Mrs J. McMeekin, a son and on Saturday the baby died and was buried Sunday in McNeill's cemetery.

Mrs K. McArthur returned after visiting the past two weeks in the village.

Mr and Mrs Wm Hay, S. Park, visited the first of week at A L Hincks.

Mr Thos Nichol had the misfortune to run a rusty nail in his hand while chasing the horses to the trough.

A number from here took in the sale at Gordon McDonald's Thursday, when good prices were realized.

her sister Minnie who was buried on Monday previous.

Mrs Edgar Patterson is a hustler, does things on a big scale: has six or seven hundred chickens set and is quite successful in finding a ready market.

The Y.P.S. purpose putting on a St. Patrick Social this week, the 14 of March.

Some 60 lantern views of the Old Sod will be given together with music, vocal and instrumental, jokes, plays and speeches and refreshments.

Mrs J. Storey Toronto, is at present on a visit with Mr and Mrs Jas Turner and family, S. Line.

Miss Margaret Stothart arrived home on Thursday last from San Francisco, occasioned by the death of years ago.

The weather is changeable, stormy sometimes and thawing. The roads are fairly good.

A Rev. Mr McLean preached in the Presbyterian Church yesterday.

The play given by Miss Beaton of No. 3 school was well attended, and all acted their parts well.

Some are busy drawing logs yet, and some busy taking out next year's supply of wood.

Glenelg Township Parliament are in session this Saturday, 8th March.

Fine day but cold wind, both thawing and freezing. Sleighing is fairly good yet.

Time is on the march and this March reminds us of the events of long ago.

The aged pioneers are reminded of the many birthdays some of them had in March and wonders how swiftly they return.

In the youthful days they thought their birthdays were awful slow in coming and now as they sit beside the fireplace, they cannot avoid reflecting on the many changes that have taken place on their journey through life.

Their journey only appears to them as a dream of the past night.

In their youthful days they enjoyed the sport of wading through the deep snow, gathering the sweet juice of the maples and then attending to the kettles.

As fuel was plentiful they kept the fire roaring and soon the contents began to color by the constant boiling and by the constant heat of the fire the contents began to thicken and by some late hour of the night was taken to the dwelling and the good old mothers converted the juicy matter to large cakes of sugar and a big dishful of sweet molasses.

A lot of hungry boys coming in from their day and part of night work were rewarded with a big bannock made at the fire place in a frying pan and soon these hungry boys with a dish of molasses enjoyed the homely meal better than the foods of to-day with all the varied foods of which they now partake.

But olden times and manners have passed away and as they sit watching the sun on this 8th March, going fast to its resting place, it reminds them that the shades of evening are drawing them fast with the setting sun.

It also reminds him that life is only a bubble seen on the ocean after a severe storm.

As the Psalmist has said that a pen in the hands of a swift writer, some of us doth swiftly write yet.

But we must pass on and give some of the present events.

Mrs McPherson and Miss McLean of Lambton St. entertained a number of Edge Hill residents one evening lately and all enjoyed themselves in a becoming manner at the comfortable home of the entertainers.

The residents of Edge Hill line are all good and obliging residents and those of us who are but residents a few years, can say that their lot has been cast in pleasant places.

We had the pleasure of the company of Mr Adam Anderson part of a night lately and the conversation to pass the time didn't go so far back as the original Adam but spoke on the lives of some of the great and high nobles of the land such as our late Beloved Queen, the Prince of Wales, who is thought in some cases will never ascend the throne, but wishes him success.

We spoke of the eloquence of Miss Macphail, whose addresses are all in the papers.

A number of both sexes enjoyed themselves at the home of Mr and Mrs Anderson. As the nights are getting shorter these evening meetings will have to be a thing of the past.

Some 60 or more years ago the winter evenings were spent by the late Adam C. Anston having a singing class taught in the school notation. He generally taught four or five nights a week.

The majority then went to learn while some came to hear. There were some fine voices. There were 3 young girls whose voices were worthy of remembering, the late Misses Dora McIntyre and Jessie Black and Mrs T McGirr, then Betty Binnie, who is yet hale and hearty and can keep up the music in the old fashioned choir better than some of her juniors.

We extend good wishes to her who will be a few days in the old choir. We all enjoyed attending whether storm or calm or deep snow and no sleigh driving.

We are sorry to learn of the death of one of the old pioneers of Edge Hill in the person of John Williams, who died in some part of the western country. He was a brother to Henry Williams of Edge Hill and was well and highly known in Glenelg council for a number of years.

We are also sorry to hear of two of Pricevilles highly respected residents—Messrs Dugald Macphail and Alex. McLeod passing away.

This Monday, the 10th March, is somewhat springlike. We congratulate our good neighbor, David Robinson, on celebrating his birthday on this 10th March and we wish him many returns.

Sunday was a beautiful day and attracted many church goers to be in their places of worship and those of us who were compelled to sit beside the stove, could reflect on the changes when in the prime of life sunshine or rain couldn't keep them at home and their seats never empty in the old churches.

We are accused sometimes of writing too much about olden times, as olden times have passed away and now everything new. But we give one instance of the hardships of the many

ONWARD

Mr and Mrs Jas Whyte and family visited the first of the week at Jos. Watson's, Proton.

Mr and Mrs Storey and daughter, Toronto, spent the week end at Jas. Turner's.

The Young People's Club held their meeting Friday at Jas Turner's, when about 30 were present.

Every one enjoyed themselves. When one young man went to get his horse it was gone, so he had to get the loan of one to take his lady friend home.

Mr and Mrs Jas Oliver and Miss Sadie, visited last week at Jno Meads.

Mr and Mrs W. McMillan, Mrs. Turner, Mrs Jas Oliver and Mr and Mrs Jos. Oliver were visitors at R. Parslow's the first of week.

Mr and Mrs Andrew Watson and son, visited at E. Dingwall's the first of the week.

Mr and Mrs John Meads spent a day with the latter's aunt, Mrs M. McCannell of near Swamp College.

Mr Donald McDougall spent a couple of days the last of the week with his sister, Mrs McCannell.

Mr and Mrs Donald McKinnon, Mr A. Currie, Mrs Jas Oliver and Mrs. Turner, visited last week at Mrs M. and Neil McCannell's, Swamp College.

Mr and Mrs L. Irving, Swinton Park, visited recently at W. Dingwall's.

Mr Walter Williamson spent a few days with Hepworth friends.

SWINTON PARK

With the coming of Spring everyone is busy in preparation for it.

Mrs Herbert Haw and family have moved to the old home on lot 15 con 15.

Mr Gordon Ferguson has moved to the Bert Haw farm at Swamp College. Mrs G. W. Parslow spent the week end in Toronto with daughter, Mrs W. J. McLeod and sister, Mrs. Parkes.

Mr and Mrs Eugene Ambrose of Toronto, are holidaying at the old home here, Mr and Mrs Geo. Haws.

Mr Haw is with their daughter Nellie, Mrs McMeekin of Priceville at present, she being in poor health.

Messrs Gordon McArthur and Wm. Kinsman have been taking out wood on a large scale from John Corbett's swamp and delivering it in Priceville lately.

Mrs Hardy, Sr. is visiting with her sister Mrs Blakestone in Stratford at present, also her niece Mrs Joyce.

Mr J. H. Richardson, Berkeley, was in the Park last week looking after his farm interests.

We have heard of a real estate deal—a rare event this year. Mr Neil Phillips has purchased from Mr Albert Haw, lot 1 con 15, Proton, and known as the gore.

Mrs W. Kennedy of Shelburne, who recently underwent an operation is improving.

HOPEVILLE

Mr and Mrs Jas Doig and children moved to their new home near Drayton on Saturday.

Miss Berta Webster, Toronto, is spending a few days at home. She expects to return the latter part of this week her mother, Mrs R. Webster accompanying her to the city for a visit.

Mr Theron Dingwall was home from Dundalk High School last week with threatened pneumonia.

Mrs Rbt. Crawford has been under the Drs care the past few days.

Mr Jno Harvey has been to Brampton to see his sister Miss Sadie Harvey, who has been quite ill of late.

ONE FEATHER NOT ENOUGH

Remember the old story of the Indian who heard about feather beds and thought he would try one? He took one feather, laid it on a plank, and slept on it all night. In the morning he awoke with a crick in his back and growled: "White man say feather bed heap soft. White man big fool."

Some retail merchants try advertising like that. They run an advertisement once or twice and because they do not see a big increase in business, say that advertising is not good for them.

One feather is alright but it takes more than one feather to make a feather bed.

The same principle applies to advertising. If intelligently planned and used, satisfaction and profitable returns are certain.

C. P. R. ENTERS BROADCAST FIELD

A series of radio broadcasts has been inaugurated by the Canadian Pacific Railway every Friday night from 10 to 11 over CKAC in Montreal and CKGW in Toronto with possibility of extension to other major Canadian cities in the near future. The basis of the programme has been organized under the baton of Rex Battle, whose work as the director of concert orchestras in Montreal and latterly at the Royal York, Toronto, has won him great popularity. A small opera company has been organized for the production of light ballad operas such as have featured the Canadian Pacific Music Festivals at Toronto, Winnipeg, Regina, Vancouver and Victoria, and these will be given under the direction of Alfred Heather, well-known character actor and impresario. Ballad operas in French produced at the Quebec Festival, together with French-Canadian folk songs, will be produced under the direction of Charles Marchand, popular folksinger. The larger illustration shows a sea-chantey scene from the ballad, "Bound for the Rio Grande," with inset of John Goss, who will star in the radio production. The other insets are of Rex Battle, leader of the orchestra, and Alfred Heather, character actor and producer of the ballad operas to be broadcast.
