Mrs Alex. Carson gave four recipes for cake icing followed by a reading "50 Years ago" by Mrs Geo Campbell. Mrs J. K. McLeod gave a reading on "Reading Sunday in the Home". A flower contest was put on by Mrs Lyness, prize going to Mrs W A Beaton. Mrs Lyness treated all present to home made candy. Lunch was served at the close. The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss May Stewart, when Mrs W A Beaton will give a Health Talk and Mrs D. Macphail will arrange for a knitting contest.

A most pleasing affair was held at St Columba on Friday evening, when moving pictures were thrown on the screen very realistically by Mr Dench of the Agr'l Dept. at Markdale and his assistant. The story was of a young boy adopted into a family and who wished to enter the ministry in keeping with the promise to his mother, but against the angry demonstrations of his benefactor. His experiences with the toughs at the first charge and his final mastery over them after a duking of one of them, which was meant for him, was shown in the increase of the crowds going to church. Many laudable episodes occurred throughout, though the whole story was touching with a happy ending. A hearty vote on motion of Mr McGillivray, was tendered at the close. Refreshments were served.

Miss Bertha James after a week's attendance upon her sister Edith in Toronto, arrived home Saturday. The latter is making satisfactory progress so far, to the pleasure of her many friends. It is a matter of thankfulness to report to the gradual recovery of Mrs. F. McKinnon from her recent severe illness. Mrs D. G. McLean in attendance upon her daughter Olive (Mrs Richardson) in Toronto, returned home last week, leaving all well.

An enjoyable musical evening was held at the home of Mr and Mrs Col in McLean on Wednesday last, when music galore was had upon "two fiddles and a violin", a tenor banjo, by Messrs Alick and Innis McLean and Allie McInnes and Mr McLean on piccolo, with his fair daughter at the piano, all musicians. By way of variety, duets and quartettes, mixed and otherwise were had, to your correspondent's delight. The daughter's voice is reminiscent of that of her Aunt Emma, some 20 years ago. They along with others, returned to their schools at the week end.

Rev. Mr Johnston, Woodford and S.lecte, preached acceptably Sunday to a large and interested audience, with a view to a call on Rev F. Sullivan's retirement from St Columba. His text in the morning was "Our Father" which he discussed in a clear enunciated voice. A fine attendance graced the evening service as well.

Mr D. L. McArthur with his fine truck took a load of potatoes to Toronto yesterday and brought home 5 head of cattle to Mr Stothart. Today, Tuesday, he has a full load of hogs delivering to the abattoirs and is bringing back 5 more head to the same party.

The increased use of fertilizer is much in evidence here, but not usually recommended with manure still in the barnyard. Get it out first. The dam has been repaired sufficiently to admit of sawing.

Many of Mrs Parslow's numerous acquaintances were sorry to hear of her death. This will be a reminder to her old teacher, Donald McDonald, who gave her the first lesson in S. Park School and if he was as active as then we would voice he would have attended her funeral.

Many of Rev Mr Sullivan's parishioners regret to hear of him leaving as pastor of St Columba Church, Priceville. We hear the communion at the Presbyterian church, Priceville, was well attended last Sunday.

Pleased to hear that those ailing around Priceville are getting better. The many friends and well wishers of Miss Margaret McLean were pleased to see her at communion in Knox church last Sunday after a long ailment which did not effect her health but disabled her otherwise. The communion held in Knox church in Durham last Sunday was largely attended.

The dance in the Factory warehouses may be changed by using the words of the Psalmist, "Praise Him in the dance" by the result being for the good purpose of sheltering the ailing ones in the Durham hospital.

Pleased to read of Mr John Hunter's account of his long trip to that far away part of the universe. John is yet possessed of some of his youthful activities when he stood the test or travelling over so much beautiful scenery and performing his part well in the purpose that prompted him to undertake the journey. John will remember when a big boy as clerk in his uncle, J. H. Hunter's store and always gave good honest measure to all when dealing in the large business done then by the good proprietor, gone many years ago. Will be pleased to read more of the experiences of his trip in future issues of the Review.

Mr David Robinson, Edge Hill, was laid up for a week from the effects of a cold but is all right again. Pleased to hear Mrs F. McKinnon of Priceville is getting better. Also Mrs John Calder of Egremont is getting along well and hopes she will be yet her former self.

The many lady teachers back felt Easter week very short and hard to be on hand again Monday sharp at 9 o'clock. Assessor Weppler of Glenelg has completed his work after a tedious experience of the many obstacles he met on the journey, tramping snow waist deep and slush and mud ankle deep. Thirteen years of it gave us to know the difficulties to be contended with while on the job and the kind act of the old settlers are not forgotten by us.

Monday, 28th April, 1930 This has every appearance of a fine day and farmers are preparing for to sow the seed. Another funeral this afternoon, that of Mrs Thos Davis, one of the old residents of Edge Hill vicinity. We send condolence to Mr Davis and family.

Mr and Mrs Jas Brown and family, visited their friends, the McDonalds at Edge Hill an afternoon lately. Mrs Hector McEachern of the S.L. Glenelg, visited for a few days at the old home at Bentinck, the McCormick's. The roads are in fine condition to travel now and the good old horse gets a rest as the car is busy going all day and part of the night. As the Chinaman said "Noting pushing, noting pullee."
