Funeral of late Mrs R. Moore
The widespread regard for the late Mrs Russell Moore, Meaford, whose death was recorded in last week's issue, was evidenced at the funeral on Thursday last from the home of her parents here.

The floral offerings were most beautiful and included wreaths: husband and daughter; father, mother, brother Bill and sister Maymie; Mrs Martha Moore and sons Emerson and Bert; Ford garage, Meaford; Sprays—Mr and Mrs Jas. Cutchley, Mr. and Mrs Joe Cutchley, Mr and Mrs John Cutchley, Mr and Mrs John McNally, Mrs Kearns and son Floyd all of Durham; John, Mary and Katie Albert Rusak, Markdale; W. J. Middleton and family, Berkeley; Mr. and Mrs J. H. Middleton, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs Reta Hannah, Toronto; Lorne McNally, Detroit; 'Bill's Gums', Detroit; Kenny Morrison, Meaford.

Friends present from a distance at the funeral were: Wm Crutchley, Detroit; Maymie Crutchley, Toronto; Mrs Martha Moore, Fred Moore, Toronto; Emerson and Bert Moore of Detroit; Donald Moore, Harry Hawkins, Ethel Kirkpatrick, all of Meaford; Mr and Mrs Albert Rusak, Miss Maggie Middleton, of Markdale; Mr and Mrs W. J. Middleton, Mr and Mrs Murrell Winterburn, Mr and Mrs Elsie Quinn, all of Berkeley; Mrs. Allen Snyder, Owen Sound; Mr and Mrs J. H. Middleton, Toronto; Mr and Mrs J. H. McCullough, Dundalk.

LITTLE GIRL, 10, EATS SO MUCH MOTHER AMAZED
'My 10-year old daughter had no appetite. Then we gave her Vinol, and now she eats so much we are amazed.'—Mrs J. W. Joosten.

Vinol supplies the body important mineral elements of iron, calcium with cod liver pep tone. This is just what thin nervous children or adults need, and the QUICK results are surprising. The very FIRST bottle brings sound sleep and a BIG appetite. Vinol tastes delicious! McPadden's Drug Store.

ELECTION ACTIVITY

Since Premier King's announcement that an election would be held this summer, there has been a fluttering among the political doves from Ottawa to rural hamlets.

Conservative leader Bennett is trying to pick holes in the Dunning Budget, but not succeeding very well. Compliments from many parts of Canada and satisfaction in Britain makes the going hard.

Then Premier Ferguson announces that he and his government intend to throw their influence in favor of Mr Bennett and his party, not because of the budget, but because of an alleged utterance of the Premier, that "he would not give a 5 cent piece to a Tory government."

Mr King declares the words were never used by him at any time or in any place in the sense the Ontario Premier is placing upon them and he points to recent favors to Western provinces and to Maritime provinces to prove that he and his administration have been eminently fair in financial matters, even generous, in the treatment alike of one and all 'wholly regardless of political complexion of the particular Administration in office in any of the provinces.'

But there you are: if you indulge in throwing mud some of it will stick. Mr Bennett says the Budget is the issue, Mr Ferguson says the issue is Premier King. The voters of Canada will decide.

There seems to be a desire in Ottawa to quit legislation and get home to the work of campaigning in the constituencies, and the chances are that certain measures may slip through imperfect, or perhaps, omitted altogether. The fight is on.

STILL CARRYING ON
Some time ago a sensational New York preacher delivered a discourse on the subject "The Devil is dead" Dr Parkes Cadman, perhaps New York's most celebrated divine, on being asked while conducting an open forum what his opinion was, replied: "I have had no intimation of that gentleman's decease but if it has occurred someone has taken his place and is doing a roaring business as the old stand."

THE ROLL CALL
WILLIAM REAY
At the home of his sister, Mrs Jos. Edmund, Bentinck, the death took place Friday morning last, May 15th, of William Reay, at the age of 67 years.

Deceased was a native of Bentinck Township and lived all his life within its borders. He was a respected citizen and his friends as well as the five sisters and four brothers are going to miss his presence among them.

The funeral was held Monday from his sister's home to Hanover cemetery, Rev. H. S. Fiddes of Queen St United Church, Durham, conducting the service.

At Regina Hospital, on the 13th of May, there passed away a former well known and respected resident of Edge Hill, Mr Archie Ector, son of late Robert and Mrs Ector of Edge Hill.

He was born in 1862, he also married a Glenelg girl, Emma Ritchie in 1891. To them were born a family of nine children, eight of whom survive, viz: Fanny, Mrs Sellers, Findlater Sask; Arch. and Raymond at home; Will, at Elbow; Elsie and Ethel, teaching and Margaret and Bertha at home. One daughter Myrtle, Mrs D. R. Davies, died four years ago.

There also mourn with wife and family, one brother Robert of Edge Hill and six sisters: Mrs Thos. Turnbull; Elizabeth, Mrs Wm Weir and Miss Margaret Ector, of Durham vicinity; Sadie, Mrs Jno. Little, of Dundalk; Fanny, Mrs Moffat of Pinkerton and Milly, Mrs Petch of Edmonton.

Miss Macphail's Weekly Parliamentary Letter

The most curious Budget in my Parliamentary experience was carried on May 15th by a majority of 28. There were three votes. One on our sub-amendment, one on the Conservative amendment and the third vote on the Budget itself.

Mr Speaker said "It now being six o'clock I leave the chair." When the House resumed at 8.30 the Conservative member for West Algoma, whose constituency is largely interested in Canada, explained why he was going to vote for the Budget, Mr Adshad, Labour, East Calgary, arraigned the Government: because of his well-known friendship for the Liberal party, his charge was all the more telling in effect.

He spoke in sorrow, rather than anger. "In fact the leaven of protection seems to have permeating the Liberal party ever since 1911. My honourable friends opposite at one time hated the name of protection. They despised it as something that should not be espoused by their party, but after seeing it for a while they began to endure, then they and now we find them embracing it—much to amusement of my friends to the right."

It looks to me what Canada needs at the present time is leadership: the leadership of men who have principles at heart, who believe in these principles and who will carry them out in spite of whatever may happen.

The House was crowded. The galleries were full to the roof and every member was in his place on the floor. One got the sensation that the Government was standing before the bar of public opinion. It was living drama. The silence, the breaking of the House heard Mr Adshad was as eloquent as his utterance. The strain broke and doubts and fears, plans and hopes were expressed in the jeers and howls and interjections which the Maritimers on both sides of the House accompanied the fierce interchange between Ernst, the brilliant young Conservative from Queen's Lunenburg, and Duff (Anti-Konish-Guysborough) the doughty Liberal warrior from "down East."

Public opinion in Canada is growing away from party play and demanding attention to public business.

Oddly enough when the House is said to be voting on the Budget, it is in reality only voting to say, or not to say, "that the Speaker do now leave the Chair for the House to resolve itself into Committee of Ways and Means." It is precedent that makes a vote for this motion, which makes a vote for the principles contained in the Budget.

Mr Glen (Marquette) suggested in his speech that it would be much better to have the items of the Budget discussed and voted on one at a time and then have the vote of approval and disapproval of the whole Budget taken, as is the case in a Bill. Two Conservatives and one U.F.A. supported the Budget: the other members of the Opposition against, although the Budget contains some items of which we approved.

Mr Glen gave some very interesting figures on the importation of butter and the butter price levels from 1923 to 1929. He said in part: "I believe that the duty which has been placed on Australian and New Zealand butter represents a short-sighted policy as far as the interests of Western Canada are concerned. If the trade returns from 1923 to 1929 are any criterion, not only do those who favor this duty deprive themselves of the right to protest against tariff duties affecting their industry, but there will be no corresponding benefit to the producers of butter. The following table shows the average monthly price for No. 1 cream, which obtained in Toronto during the years 1923 to 1929 inclusive. The prices are given in cents per pound of butter fat and are as follows:

1923 1924 '25 '26 '27 '28 '29
Jan. 41 44 37 43 40 44
Feb. 41 45 33 43 44 42 44
March 48 41 33 45 45 43 46
April 43 25 33 45 47 43 46
May 31 31 35 35 43 40 40
June 32 32 34 35 35 37 37
July 31 34 35 34 35 36 38
Aug. 32 34 36 35 35 37 40
Sept. 36 36 37 34 38 40 41
Oct. 37 37 40 34 40 41 42
Nov. 38 37 42 35 40 41 42
Dec. 42 39 43 39 40 44 43

The imports of butter for the years 1923 to 1929 were as follows:
Year Pounds
1923 1,588,000
1924 903,000
1925 95,000
1926 5,812,000
1927 11,206,000
1928 16,797,000
1929 35,928,000

Mr Glen pointed out that in 1924 when the imports amounted to well over sixteen million pounds the monthly prices with the exception of November were greater than the corresponding prices for the months of 1925 when only 55,000 pounds were imported. And in 1929 when the importation amounted to almost 36,000,000 pounds, as against 16,000,000 in 1928, the prices ran higher in all but three months. In two of those three they were level and in only December 1928 was the price less than in the corresponding months of 1929. Mr Glen added: "Just so long as our exports of dairy products exceed our imports then the price received by producers for cream or anything else will depend upon the prices ruling on the markets of the world. It is natural for a producer to accept the statements made to him by interested parties and to believe that were it not for the importation of certain quantities of butter he would receive a better price for his commodity."

It is hard to understand how a man holding these views could support the Budget.

Ottawa has this week the rare opportunity of seeing "Journey's End", played by an excellent English company. I saw it on Friday night. This war play was written by R.C. Sheriff, and depicts life in an officer's dug out on the front line. It is a play with no women, without music, without hours of setting, yet for almost three hours it holds the audience fascinated. The reviewer in the Ottawa Journal says of it: "Nearly every evening that was experienced in the front line was depicted. The self-respect that made men carry on in face of almost inhuman fear, the breaking of that morale under tremendous strain, the occasional craving for drink the heart hunger for faces that might never more be seen, the thirst for honors, the joke that was split between the very jaws of death, and the weariness of the trench, the blood shed, the noise, the vermin and the horror of the hell more deep than Dante ever imagined—all these are depicted."

The stupidity and the cruelty of the people who allow wars to be and the glowing bravery of the men in the midst of the catastrophe were the thoughts that the play most deeply impressed on my mind. This play ought to do much to ensure the world against a further war.

DORNOCH
The annual meeting of the Dornoch W. Institute was held at the home of Mrs E. McIntosh, when 13 members were present. Mrs John Heft was appointed Sec'y Treas. in place of Mrs R. Mortley; Mrs E. McIntosh still holds the office of Pres. and Miss M. McIntosh the 1st Vice Pres. Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs Will Robertson on June 11th.

All members are requested to attend the meeting at Williamford May 22, when a speaker will address the gathering on "What this world can't give." All the institute ladies are expected to take lunch.

Mr Lorne McIntosh with his bride, Miss Ruth Lowe, Niagara Falls spent part of his honeymoon with his mother, Mrs E. McIntosh and other friends around Dornoch, returning Sunday afternoon.

Mr and Mrs Jno Lowe, Niagara Falls, also Mr R. Lowe, spent the week end with Mr and Mrs E. B. Dargavel and returned Sunday, accompanied by Miss Ruth McIntosh, who will spend a week with her brother and bride.

Mrs E. B. Dargavel motored to Hamilton Sunday to visit a sick aunt in the hospital there. She found her

HAMPDEN
'Thro' the continued rainy weather of last week, seeding has been prolonged in this part. Some are through but those who are on the lower land find the ground somewhat damp to work on.

Mr Tibbit, Berkeley and assistant, were busy shearing sheep last Thursday around the Corners. A few from this way attended the Anniversary Services held in Durham Presbyterian Church last Sabbath. Mr and Mrs Wm Marshall were the guests of Mr and Mrs M. W. Byers of Bonnie View Farm last Thursday evening.

Mr Bert Byers with sister Nettie, and Miss Nellie Anderson, attended an aluminum demonstration last Monday, at the home of Miss L. Doerlamm of Neustadt. A few of the housewives are buying their chickens this year in place of Biddy doing that part. Most of them are getting them from Ayton vicinity.

The contrast between the Mohammedan and Hindu religion and that of our Christian people is best stated in this manner: other religions say "Clean up and come" while the Christian religion says "Come, and clean up." Even some of the Hindus are saying, "If Christianity can make the change that is evident on the lives of converts, what can He do for us?"

The future is bright with hope.

PRICEVILLE

A Lantern Lecture will be given by Rev. James Reide of Hillsboro "Scotland", at the McKinnon Priceville, on Thursday, May commencing at 8 p.m. See his admission.

A public meeting was held at schoolhouse on Wednesday last, when lantern views were given by Dr Marshall, dentist of Priceville, with descriptions and remedies required in the prevention of treatment of obstreperous children. During the day he had made a specimen of all the scholars in the school and found the following results—an alarming situation: 1. Der the ache with such results as to result of the ache? 2. No. of children examining 3. No. of children with defective teeth. Percentage 92% per cent. No. with defects in temporary teeth. No. with defects in permanent teeth. No. requiring attention 100 per cent.

ROCKY SAUGEEN
Rocky Saugen U. F. W. O.
The monthly meeting of the U.F. W.O. Rocky Saugen Club met at the home of Mrs Jas Ewen, Aberdeen. It was a lovely Spring day but owing to the busy time there was not as good an attendance as usual. "O Canada" opened the meeting, followed by the creed in unison. The Pres., Mrs Arthur Edge, was in the chair and conducted the meeting in her usual capable way. The conveners, Mrs J. W. McKechnie, Mrs R. Lawson and Mrs Murray Ritchie, had charge of the questions sent out from head office on "Marketing," "Citizenship," and "Legislation." They were well discussed by the members. It was decided that the conveners get up papers themselves on these questions for the June meeting at Mrs Duguid Clark's. It was also decided here to accept the offer to have the school of "Marketing," under the supervision of Mr H. Hannam held in the Rocky School in June. Mrs T. Turnbull was appointed delegate to attend the annual Co. Convention to be held in Priceville in June.

Those who were not finished before the wet spell are having quite a time, as we have had rain almost every day for over a week. Miss Georgie Miller spent the week end with her aunt, Mrs Jack Boyd of Glenroaden.

Mr and Mrs Doug. Clark and family, spent a day this week with Mr and Mrs L. Shildroth and family, Chesley. Mr Hawkins, Arthur, is spending a few days with his daughter Mrs Boo Mortley.

Sincere sympathy is extended to Mrs Thos. Turnbull and other family members, in the death of their brother, Mr Arch. Ector, Sask.
