JUNE

By Verna Loveday Harden
IF WINTER ever held the earth
Within his cruel, froaty hands,
The potency of summer's smile
Has loosed the bands.
If stream and wood had been asleep
Then June has wakened them to song.
For they are filled with music now
The whole day long.
If winter ever held my heart
It must have been long, long ago,
For now there is not any sign
Of cold or snow!

MacKENZIE KING AT BRANTFORD

What is termed the "key-note" speech for the campaign now on, and to close on July 28th, was made on behalf of the Liberal party on Monday night in Brantford by Premier MacKenzie King. It was heard clearly by many over the radio and read by thousands of people the day following.

It should be a convincing speech, we think, in a calm manner, rising sometimes to eloquence, he discussed the record of the Liberal party, pictured its present standing and predicted for it a brilliant future.

He touched on soldiers' pensions, promised the abolition of the remaining one per cent of sales tax and boasted that there was less industrial strife and more industrial peace during the present regime than ever before in Canada.

The Dunning budget was dealt with extensively. It was an effort to increase our trade with the British Empire, by means of preferences. The Budget was admired by both Canada and Britain.

In the preparation of the new tariff proposals, it was ever kept in mind the benefits of increased trade with Britain. Not only that, the Budget welcomes trade with any country as long as it is on a reciprocal basis and that is the idea lying under the countervailing duties. The Tories, said the Premier, think trade is a war, while the Liberals approach it in a peaceful mood and offer it to all, but it must be on equal terms.

"You cannot gain trade by ill-will against your customers." "Should the government be entrusted to men who speak of commerce in terms of war," asked the Premier and the response was a thunderous negative.

He touched on nearly everything in his two hour speech except the St. Lawrence waterways and he promised that that would not be overlooked. We think it was the best speech he ever made.

Mr King preceded into the vast hall by a killed pipper and followed by Hon. W. D. Exler, Hon. J. C. Elliott and Hon. James Malcolm, his three Western Ontario ministers, and Senator Little of London, Senators McGuire and Spence of Toronto. As the saying is as they entered the crowded hall, the cheering was like "to raise the roof."

We cannot condense the matter of three Globe pages. As the campaign goes on, the record of the Government will be handled from many platforms and those who have radios will be found listening to flights of oratory

BREAD LINE AT 'THE PAS'

The spectacle of a bread-line at 'The Pas' in Northern Manitoba, has served to call attention to a problem that is becoming acute in Canada. In the newest section of a new country if reports be true, men have been obliged to line-up in a parade and ask for food. With the tremendous possibilities in this country for development, there should be few idle men between early Spring and late fall. The trouble seems due to lack of any serious organized effort to arrange a fair distribution of work.

A GOOD SAMARITAN

If wood belonging to you was being carried away, without your permission, and you learned who was responsible for this pilfering, wouldn't it be natural to make it your business to see that the guilty party was given a lesson in honesty.
Sometimes circumstances, fortunately, cause one to follow another line of action. In the country, not far from Walkerton, some wood, piled alongside a road, was being used by an old man in need of it. A neighbor informed the owner of what was taking place, but the latter, instead of making it unpleasant for the elderly chap possibly reporting the affair to the authorities, hitched up his team and played the Good Samaritan by delivering a load of fuel at his place. That was a Christian act.—Walkerton Telescope.

Most people are Scotch enough to let other people be the big nose, when it comes to making a big donation to head a subscription list.

There are two places a husband can go to find out what's wrong with him—a doctor's office and home.—St. Catharines Standard. A strong third, says the Shelburne Economist, is becoming a candidate for public office.

DORNOCH

Mr and Mrs Robt Lawson, and son Will, visited the Dargave's Sunday. The measles are doing their best to touch every house in and around our burg. If it keeps on it will have all the children of the neighborhood. The Separate School has the worst of it and just now at exam time is an unfortunate time.

Mr Howard Davidson, Williamsford, and Miss Reta McIntosh spent Sunday evening with Mrs H J Picard and family.

Mr J.E. Picard who is sailing this summer, spent a night at his home here.

The Women's Institute was postponed, due to the prevalence of the measles in so many homes.

Mr and Mrs Brown, Durham, spent Sunday with the Smith family.

Mr Wm Smith is in Hamilton attending the General Assembly and returning by Toronto and other places for a short visit.

Mrs E. Dargave celebrated her 77th birthday on June 13. She is hale and hearty and hopes to see 10 years more. She is receiving many congratulations from Detroit, Hamilton, Toronto, Hillman Mich, Alpena and other points, wishing her many more happy birthdays.

Sorry to hear Master Murray Smith is very ill with measles. He also has a bad cold and we hope he will soon be around again.

Mr and Mrs Chin and family, Toronto, spent the week end with Mrs. H.J. Picard and family.

Bon Voyage and Presentations to Departing Trio

George himself could not have wished for a more loyal reception than that which was accorded these ladies on Monday.

In the afternoon at the Presbyterian Church, many ladies and a few special friends were present at a farewell tea to their two departing lady travellers. The basement was prettily with floral bloom and the social atmosphere was also blooming and everywhere prevalent. A long table was arrayed with delectables, at which Mrs T. M. McFadden and Mrs T. G. Lauder poured tea. Mrs (Dr) Farewell and daughter, Miss Helene of Walkerton, were present, the latter adding to the program with an eloquent number. Their friends were glad to see them once more.

Mrs Harding and Miss L. McComb contributed piano numbers. At the close of tea, Mrs (Rev.) Armstrong in a few words presented Miss Weir with a beautiful case of Yardley's toilet lotions and Mrs Lauder with fountain pen, pencil and postal stationery. The both recipients appreciated the thought and the gift it is needless to say. Miss Hunter was also remembered at this tea with a box of candy, to be opened on the boat.

AT KNOX UNITED

At Knox United Church same evening, the Ladies' Aid Society sponsored a congregational social to their departing member, Miss Margaret Hunter. As an opener, a hat trimming contest was staged with four gentlemen.— Messrs O. S. Hunter, D. C. Town, D. McIlvride and John McGirr faced with the responsibility of decorating a farm straw hat on the top of the heads of four ladies, to the best of their ability, with a given length of green crepe ribbon. The four ladies who were all docile and meek were Misses W. Blyth, Florence Kerr, M. Lennox and Mrs Town and through wonderful effects were created. Mr O. S. Hunter being awarded the palm by the audience for trimming Mrs Town's hat.

This was followed by an old-fashioned spelling contest, Stanley Ledingham and M. Lennox as captains of respective sides and Rev. W. H. Smith as announcer. Fourteen were lined up under each captain and eventually Miss Lennox's side won out in the gruelling (?) contest.

A short program was also rendered, in which piano numbers were heard from Mrs Town and Miss E. Derby: dramatic reading from Miss Farewell, who remained over with her mother; solos by Miss W. Blyth and Mrs (Rev) W. H. Smith, the latter choosing "Will ye no come back again" as a compliment to the honored guest of the evening, the audience joining in chorus at close.

Midway in program, Rev. W. H. Smith called Miss Hunter to the front and in one of his inimitable racy and witty speeches, expressed the good wishes and appreciation of her friends to her, along with a much bewrapped box. Unwilling yards of tissue paper, the box revealed at last an inner case containing a beautiful white gold Buleya wrist watch, the gift of her friends in the congregation. Miss Hunter found it difficult to respond, but made it clear that the gift touched her heart.

Short speeches following the presentation were made by Messrs O. S. Hunter, D. C. Town, Thos Allan, D. McIlvride and C. Ramage.

Mrs Lauder and Miss Weir were also at the function and presented with a departing box of candy each, to which both responded.

Light refreshments and social intercourse followed a pleasant evening to a close, the gathering singing Auld Syne in large circle followed by "For they are jolly good fellows."

Among the Churches

PRESBYTERIAN W. M. S.

The monthly meeting of the Presbyterian W.M.S. was held at the Mansie on Thursday afternoon, June 12. Mrs Armstrong, the President, in the chair. The meeting opened with hymn 482 and Mrs S Patterson led in prayer. Miss E Calder read the scripture lesson from Matt. 10. The Roll call was answered by verse on "Joy." Minutes of last meeting were read and business matters discussed. Mrs Gordon Geddes had the topic "Some Couriers of the King", mentioning some of our first missionaries. Mrs G. L. Sharpe had a paper on India, telling of many new developments and steady growth both material and spiritual. Mrs W Lauder sang a beautiful solo "Simply trusting every day," accompanied by Mrs Armstrong Sr. Mrs Jas Hepburn gave a splendid talk on her impressions of the Provincial Presbyterial recently held in Toronto. Hymn 595 was sung and the meeting closed with prayer.

KNOX W. M. S.

The regular meeting of the W. M. S. of Knox United Church was held in its schoolroom on June 12. In the absence of the President, Miss Margaret McGirr presided and singing of hymn 19 and the Lord's Prayer in unison opened the meeting. Several matters of business were discussed and after hymn 381, Mrs Allan gave the Bible reading. Prayers were offered by Mrs Allan and Mrs McIlraith and after the Dev. Leaflet "Persecutions then and now" was read by Mrs J. J. Smith, Mrs T. E. Brown gave the topic "The Glorious Company." Mrs Brown spoke of many of the early workers in the cause and their hardships and courage. The roll call was answered with a text on "Grace" and the meeting closed by singing 365 and prayer by Miss McGirr.

After a brief service at the Mather home conducted by Rev. W. H. Smith, the remains and many beautiful floral offerings were placed in the hearse which, with a number of cars led for Amos Church, Dromore, where interment took place. Here the Durham contingent was joined by a large number of old neighbors and friends, who knew her when she worshipped there. The church was almost filled with mourners, who listened to Rev. Mr Smith as he gave a comforting discourse. Then followed the interment beside her husband and only memory recalled the wife and mother who had nobly done her part.

Queen St. Church Auxiliary

The Ladies Auxiliary of Queen St. United Church had a very successful meeting on June 10, at the home of Misses Twamley. A large crowd was in attendance, Mrs Padfield, President occupying the chair. After the opening hymn, several items of business were discussed. It was decided to hold the annual picnic in July. Mrs Fiddes gave the devotional talk. The Watchtower Reports were given by Bernice Whitmore on Hospital work; Mary Metcalfe on Missions; Juanita Holmes on Community work. Hymn No 39 was sung. The Sec'y gave the minutes of the previous meeting and were adopted. Roll call followed.
