Fred G. Karstedt, Priceville

The well drilled on the farm of Mr J. E. McGilvray by Mr Ed Pratt, was completed in record time, to a depth of 106 ft, 9 inches and now a handsome windmill is erected and provision made for a large cement tank, to hold supply for a calm.

Mr J. P. McGilvray, accompanied by sister-in-law, Miss Wilena Binnie, attended service at St Columba on Sunday.

A record substantial job has been made of the new dam here. The course of the river has been straight-ened and dug up by the steam shovel and thrown upon the embankment, filling in a hole, said to be 15 feet in depth, dug out by former torrents.

Provision is now made to prevent any further, damage to abutments. Foundation is laid for the new mill, which is being brought from Lauris-ton, known as Baird's mill. The Mc-Arthur boys are hustlers, showing the work at great expense. A large tur-bine wheel is already installed, giv-ing more power with less waste of water than formerly, so it is said and hoped.

Miss Berta Aldcorn, matron of Brampton hospital, paid a visit with two other nurses, to the home of her parents here Sunday. They were con-veyed here by a Mr Gowland, grand-son of the man by that name, who used to live here years ago.

SWINTON PARK

We in the Park and surrounding country, are about to enjoy a fowl supper and free entertainment, to be provided by the kind ladies, for the men of all colors, old and young, who worked so faithfully for the comple-tion of the new sheds of the church. On Sunday next, Rev Mr Mills of Dundalk, will conduct the services in Swinton, while Rev Mr Stewart will occupy the pulpit in Dundalk and Ventry, in the interests of the Bud-get.

We are enjoying this fine weather to the full. There was a rush for a time with the fall work, but is now being well advanced. So it is rest for the weary and many are enjoying little trips and visits with friends.

John Lane and family visited with Thornbury friends lately; the Hardy family of the Park were recent visi-tors with friends in and around Dur-ham; The McLeod's attended church at Ventry Sunday and met many old acquaintances; Mr and Mrs Charlie McDonald, Dromore, attended church at Swinton Park Sunday.
