Queen St. Church A.O.T.S. Class

- The A.O.T.S. Class of Queen Street Sunday School, held its November meeting in the school room of the church, Thursday evening, Mrs. Slack presiding. There was a good attendance. After the opening hymn, Mr. Fiddes offered prayer and the scripture lesson was taken by Miss Juanita Holmes. The annual meeting will be held in December when the election of officers will take place. There was a selection by the class orchestra, which was much enjoyed; Mr. Glass took up current events in a very interesting way; Miss Philpenn gave a humorous reading entitled 'A Novel Christmas Present.' The topic was taken by Miss Eva Lawrence. She chose as her subject 'The Life of Christ' and gave a concise and a decidedly good outline of leading events in Christ's life. The meeting closed with a hymn and benediction.

WHERE IS LIBERALISM IN SOUTH GREY?

Elsewhere in the Review this week, one will read of an organization of a young Liberal Club in South Bruce, destined to take up the yoke of the senior members of the party who have borne the work and heat of the day in past campaigns. Which leads us to ponder 'Who will carry the Liberal Party to victory in South Grey?' Judging by the half-hearted interest in the Liberal platform and policies in South East Grey at present, a Liberal will have as much chance of securing this seat as the Biblical camel has of going through the eye of a needle. What the party needs is young and virile blood behind it and representative of the Riding. The official organizer of the party should spend a few weeks in South East Grey and by a campaign of education, infuse the Liberal mind with the principles from whence it sprung and its platform and possibilities. The southern part of Grey is sadly lacking in Liberal leadership and the sooner the executive realize the need of an educative campaign or something that will stir Liberal blood and principles, the better for the party at large. There is no reason why a Junior Liberal Club or organization should not 'go' in South East Grey and see if something cannot be done to put Liberalism on the map in this district, more than it is at present.

Miss Macphail Dined and Feted by 'Uncle Sam'

Detroit is largely a one industry city—automobiles and still more automobiles, form its principal export. In hard times people do not change their car, nor is it a time when he, who never owned a motor purchases one. All this results in great unemployment. Everyone was talking hard times and I saw long queues of men at the employment agency and relief stations. Unemployment is an unhappy feature in all American cities this winter. It is estimated that in Philadelphia alone 125,000 bread winners will need assistance. In New York, the unemployed selling apples at 5c apiece is seen on almost every corner. In the great metropolis particularly the white collared worker is swelling the ranks of the jobless. People with fine academic training, for the first time find themselves destitute.

A TRIBUTE TO THE FARMER

Is it not a tribute to the thrift and industry of the farming community in Canada, that no thought was taken by the government of giving them any aid, when the $20,000,000 were being distributed. They thought they could get along without aid, though we believe that in some of the western provinces, the pinch of hard times is almost unbearable. The farmers will have to help pay this sum though, while some of it will ultimately land in the grocery shop, as there is no denying the fact that the liquor stores in every town and city are doing the big business. Is it anything to be proud of?

HISTORY OF GREY CO. READY

The history of Grey County is to be published. County Council has authorized the publication. We understand most of the material is ready for the printer and that it is very complete. The historical records of the authentic details of pioneer life put on record. These latter are getting more difficult to secure as the years are but few of the original settlers documents of the early days and local historians must depend upon the memory of the old people or dig out the stories handed down from generation to generation.

The early settlement of Western Ontario in the 'Queen's bush' in which Grey was included, is an epic in civilization. These early people, mostly from the British Isles with some United Empire Loyalists from the countries 'down below,' built up the richest portion of Canada and overcame difficulties, that marked them as heroes. It is to be hoped that the history of Grey gives an adequate picture of these pioneers, their trials and successes. From dense forest to the present land of beautiful farms, thriving cities, towns and villages, was the work of but two generations. This and succeeding generations should have the accomplishments and faith of their forebears in permanent story before them.

There are many good county histories already published and other good books of early settlements. The story of the Upper Canada Co. and its settlement of what is a big portion of the present counties of Wellington, Perth, Waterloo and Huron, has been well told. The story of the Talbot settlement in Elgin is in book form. There are splendid histories of Bruce and Perth. A splendid little volume about pioneer life in Bruce Co., was written by Mr. Kennedy. The history of Grey is as outstanding as any of them. The issue of this new volume will be waited with great interest.—Meaford Mirror.

HONEST ENOUGH TO BE BOLD

(Kincardine Review Reporter)
We are willing to admit that the editor of the Durham Chronicle is brave enough to be bold. Ample proof of this was given in a recent issue of his paper. A week or two ago we mentioned in these columns in a brief paragraph that there had been a decrease in liquor sales in Ontario during the past year, but this was one drop in buying that would not be attributed to hard times, the tightness of money, unemployment, or the government control policy. Funny, isn't it? The Durham paper tells us that they always said if the people would only give government control a fair trial, it would work out right, meaning that by flooding the country with liquor the people would soon stop drinking it. Last year there was a decrease in liquor sales and, according to the Chronicle, the control system is now beginning to work just as they expected.

ROCKY SAUGEN

We are having real winter weather with abundance of snow and cold and snappy. A number of friends enjoyed a social time at the home of Mr and Mrs. John Molson Friday. Mr and Mrs Albert Thompson and family, who have resided with Mr. and Mrs. Angus McArthur for some time, have moved to their home in Durham. Mr D. L. Watson, Toronto, was a visitor Sunday at the home of his uncle, Mr David Watson. Teacher and pupils are busy practicing for their Christmas entertainments, which is to be held on afternoon of Friday, 19th inst. Mr and Mrs Robt Lawson and Mrs. Neil McLean, delegates from the local Clubs, leave Saturday for Toronto to be in attendance at the Convention, which is to be held there next week. Mr and Mrs Jas Miller were visitors with Williamsford friends the first of the week.

WELBECK SOUTH

Well, as the snow is here, most of us have tied up our cars and let their drivers loose. O boy, it seems slow. Mrs Duncan McQuarrie, Misses Isabel and Mary, also Mr Peter McQuarrie and Lorne Goldsmith, spent an evening with the Fletcher family. Miss Catherine McLean spent Friday night with her cousin, Miss Isabel McQuarrie. Mr Donald McCormick is spending a few days in Toronto. Mr Carlyle McDonald has started drawing wood to Durham. The Goldsmith Bros. have brought the engine home. They must like the smell of gas. Mr Archie McArthur is working in the bush. Miss Annie McEachern spent the week end with the McCormick family. Mr Lauchie McKechnie and his mother, were visitors in this community lately. Mr Revel Boyce is spending a few days with his mother and brothers. Mr J. S. Davey has got started in the bush.

MULOCK

The regular meeting of the B. Y. P. U. was held Tuesday of last week, and judging from the attendance at this meeting, the promises to be well near future. The opening exercises were conducted in the usual way with singing and prayer. The scripture lesson was given on the gramophone—the 23rd Psalm. The minutes of last meeting were read and adopted. A cantata, Luke 15, was well given by Messrs Arch McLean, Geo Torry, Elton Adams and Clifford Adlam, Mary Hopkins and Gladys Alexander. At the close, Geo. Brown, Pres. gave a couple of interesting contests. It was heartily endorsed that a letter be sent from the BYPU to Dan Nunn of Elmwood. The closing hymn was a gramophone selection. The next meeting will be held Dec. 2nd. We take this medium of congratulating Benthick Council on being returned by acclamation for the coming year.

TOWN MANAGER

Pembroke Standard
The town of Kentville, Nova Scotia has engaged a town manager, who is to use an every day phrase 'boss of the whole works.' He is engaged by the town council, given carte blanche authority to do as he thinks best, and being hired by the Town Council he is responsible to that body. He is paid a good salary and is obliged to show results. The town councillors of Kentville like the system as it relieves them of endless routine and the citizens like it as they can get something done without having to run after the councillors to do it. If a system like this is a success in other places it might well be worth trying in Pembroke. Would it save the town any money? In every corporation involving one-half or one quarter the amount of money handled by this town, there is a general manager who is a capable executive and the very reasons why he is engaged would be a good reason why one should be engaged here.

HAMPDEN

Winter is here and here to stay, if the amount of snow that has been wafled down from above every day is any indication of what is to follow. It is pretty hard to realize that we are nearly isolated for a time, after enjoying the extraordinary mild weather during November until the last few days, when even 'Lizze' refused to face the depth of snow that had accumulated in so short a time and the 'Old Reliable' was called into action once more to take us to town. It was with regret that we learned that Mrs Conrad Seim, a much respected and esteemed lady of this vicinity, had passed to her reward in the early hours of Thursday morning last. Death was not altogether unexpected as deceased had been in failing health the past few weeks but up to that time had been about her duties as usual. The funeral on Saturday was one of the largest held in the community for some time, despite the inclemency of the weather and relatives and friends attended in vast crowds. Sympathy is extended to the sorrowing husband and the family of three sons and three daughters, viz: Albert, Wm and Clarence; Mrs Bert Rahn, Mrs Will Ruland and Mrs Ted Kraft, all residing in Hanover and around the old home. We were pleased to hear that Miss Evelyn McLean was able to return home after a week at Durham Hospital. Mrs Henderson, Sr. is this week with her daughter, Mrs A. Fulton. There was no service here on Sunday last owing to the uncertain condition of the roads.

'Hey! Meester! Meester!!!' shouted a very excited Hollander as he rushed up to Bill McIntyre, District lineman for the Bell Telephone Company who had halted his car on the highway near... in response to the man's frantic handwaving. As the man continued gesticulating alternately towards the Red Cross sticker on the windshield and the road ahead Bill gathered that an accident had occurred and that the man seeing the Red Cross sign, man to jump in Bill headed down the road to the house indicated. Here he found a plucky little lad, not a tear or a whimper, with his upper lip torn open and a deep gash in his right cheek. Thanks to Bill's knowledge of first aid and his deep gash in his right cheek. Bill McIntyre, after all, is only one example. The practical knowledge of first aid which is now the qualification of 90% of the big army of Bell telephone plant employees, is proving an invaluable public safeguard.
