At one half time, the score stood two all, but on change of ends Priceville scored two more. Score finally 4-2. Mr Eldon Runciman, Toronto, refereed game impartially. Some good future players were in evidence. With a little practice in combination work, still better results could be obtained. The tables were literally supplied with the good things for the inner man, in abundance. The play by Holstein talent under the management of Mr Bert Brebner, that master actor, was all that could be desired. We, after diligent enquiries, have not heard anything but the greatest praise for the play and the performers. Well given and clear of any objectionable features, with good nunciation and well spoken out. They would be well received again with "Eyes of Love" or any other play they may put on. Instrumental music was put on between the acts by Miss Ada Whyte on piano and Alice Reiley on piano and Mrs Garfield Whyte on violin. Miss Isabel C. Wale. the King.' Rev. Many are the expressions of sorrow at the passing of Donald McMillan, of Scotchtown, a fine, kindly and inder the well deserved sobriquet by many, of 'Pretty Donald.' The wid ow, six daughters and one son Patrick have the sympathy of the whole neighborhood.

The funeral was largely attended by friends and neighbors for miles around. The services taken by Rev. Father McHugh were solemnly and know them. A good kind friend Rev Father, (whose name we did not secure) assisted the services and spoke helpfully and earnestly. The funeral director was W. G. Watson and his assistant, Mr Frank Relley, Priceville, with their fine lowering device, handling the beautiful steel air-tight shell and handsome casket enclosed with the utmost safety. The pall bearers were Messrs Murt McMillan, Frank Mc-Millan, Geo. Black, Angus McMillan,

P. J. Haley, John Schofield. We desire to make a correction made by some other writer last week, Miss Agnes Bartlett (instead Martha) the only one taking
