Among foodstuffs taken from the sea, the Indians on the coast of British Columbia put seaweed as worth adding to the menu of an epicurean, and in earlier days it was used among them as money also. On the Atlantic Coast of Canada some use has been made of seaweed, in combination with fish offal, in producing fish meal which is a valuable stock food.

What is regarded as one of the principal unorganized industries of Canada is the work in connection with the cultivation, harvesting and sale of blueberries. No modern methods have been yet applied. It totals bundreds of thousands of pounds in velume of production and there are about 600,000 lbs in cold storage at the present time. Blueberry pie is a dessert that even Epicurus himself would have smacked his lips over.

Fish caught in the fresh water lakes of Northern Saskatchewan are now shipped by aeroplane to markets in Eastern Canada and the United States. About 3,000 pounds of whitefish and trout are carried from the northern lakes to Prince A'bert in two daily trips. It is planned to increase the service so 13 - 2 000 pounds can be transported daily to the rallhead.

Many children rest better if they are given a lunch before going bed. Of course the food must at this time be light and easily digested. The mistake is often made of giving the child some left-over from the evening meal-perhaps a sandwich of meat or a piece of cake. These will disturb rest instead of insuring it. The ideal dish for this extra meal is corn flakes with either hot or cold milk. It is easily digested, nourishing and every child loves it. is so simple for the mother to prepare because it is no trouble at all to take the milk from the refrigerator and the cereal from its wax-tite package. Even if the child does not ask for this additional meal, it is often beneficial to give it to him, especially If he is underweight. The combination of milk and cereals is high in calories and will help add weight to his body. He will never have to be coaxed to eat this food, and soon corn flakes will be known as the bedtime cereal and fit accompaniment to the "rocking chair lullaby."

Here and There

Approximately 29,000 people liv ing in Canada are shareholders in the Canadian Pacific Railway, their number having been increased by over ten thousand during the past year. Many of these are employees of the company, while a large percentage of them are small investors who have bought a few shares with an idea of safety and profitably employing their surplus capital.

On January 15, 1931, the city of Le'hbridge, Alberta, was made a point of call on the air mail route operating between Winnipeg and Calgary. Lethbridge is a point of considerable potential importance as the probable point from which the air line to the Pacific Coast will commence. Official surveys by technical officers of the Canadian Government Civil Aviation Branch have definitely indicated the route from Lethbridge as the most feasible passage of the Rocky Moun-
