While our humble scribe was in the city, we had the privilege of going through a boiler factory. We saw some small ones and some very large ones. One in particular drew our attention. To give you some idea of the size of it, we were told that a man was on the top of it riveting. At exactly 12 o'clock his hammer slipped out of his hand and when the whistle blew for 1 o'clock, it struck the bottom. So I began to wonder what the world they were going to do with the monster, and I made bold and asked the foreman what they were going to do with it. He said it is going to Swinton Park to boil those enormous big potatoes that have grown there this year!

Presented with Booklet of Gold by Family

On Saturday evening last, Mr. and Mrs John Thompson, 2nd con, Normanby, were pleasantly surprised at their home, when members of their family around them, on behalf of the remaining members of family abroad, presented their parents with two handsome leather folders (the work of returned soldiers of Christie St. Hospital, Toronto), each containing $25 in gold. The gift was as lovely as it was unique and accompanying was a beautiful embossed card for each parent, with most suitable verses inscribed.

The occasion was made to honor the culmination of fifty years of married life which falls to be exact, on 26th October next. Mr Thompson has been in poor health the past few weeks and the family happily thought it would lend some bright hours to present it now. Needless to say Mr and Mrs Thompson are deeply appreciative of this act, from their six children, who today, in turn, are grateful for the care and training given them in youth.

We want to make sure that you have heard about the Scotchman who gave his girl a watch case for Christmas and then the next Christmas gave her the works.

OBITUARY

JOHN MOORE

In Holstein, on Friday, Sept. 11, there passed away an old and respected citizen, Mr John Moore, at the age of 81 years. He has been in failing health for about four years.

Mr Moore came to this part with his parents and the rest of the family in 1861 from the county of Halifax and settled on 19th con, lot 12, of Egremont. In 1875, he was married to Emily Wilder and settled on lot 4 con 20, where they made themselves a happy and comfortable home.

In 1915, they retired and moved to Holstein. By reason of his many sterling qualities and kindly disposition, he had endeared himself to a wide circle of friends in Egremont, who join in extending their sincere sympathy to the sorrowing wife who is left to mourn the loss of a devoted husband.

He also leaves to mourn a brother-in-law, and sister, Mrs Wm Lawrence in Durham, and a large circle of nephews and nieces, not forgetting Mrs Jas Main in Seattle, who made her home with them when quite young.

The funeral took place on Sunday, 13th inst., interment in Amos cemetery. The bearers were Messrs Nicholas McDougall, Robt Sim, Geo Burrows, Earl Dingwall, Wm Brown and John Orchard. The flowers were beautiful and consisted of wreaths from Mrs Moore, Mr and Mrs John Hill, Mr and Mrs Jas Main, Seattle; sprays, Mrs Geo Moore, Durham; Mr and Mrs R. Sim, Mr and Mrs John Weir; Mrs Wenger, Toronto, also many sprays from friends, whose names we could not get.

Rev Mercer of Trinity United Ch. of which Mr Moore was a member, had charge of the service.

Armstrong — Edmonstone

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr and Mrs. Thos Edmonstone, Sarawak, on Sat., Sept. 12, at high noon, when their second daughter, Alice R., formerly a teacher at Yeovil, was united in marriage to Mr Thomas William Rowden Armstrong, eldest son of Mr and Mrs Strachan, of St Andrews' Presbyterian Church, O Sound, officiating. The rooms were tastefully decorated with flowers of autumn shades.

To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played on violin by Miss Edith Edmonstone, accompanied by Mrs Sutherland, sisters of bride, the bridal party were grouped before bank of greenery and bright blossoms. The bride looked charming in a gown of ivory georgette and lace over cream satin with white kid shoes and hosiery completing the costume. Her hair was adorned with a bandeau of orange blossoms and she carried a sheaf of yellow mums. The mothers of the bride and groom received the guests. Both were gowned in black crepe and wore pink roses.

After a buffet luncheon, Rev J. T. Strachan, acting as toastmaster, proposed the toast to the bride, to which the groom responded, followed by other speeches of congratulation and good wishes. The groom's gift to the bride was a reading lamp and to the violinist and pianist a dainty pendant.

Amid showers of congratulations, the happy couple left by motor for Guelph, Kingsville and Windsor, the bride travelling in a suit of brown travel tweed with matching hat and accessories. On their return they will reside on the groom's farm near Annapan.

Sept. 7th being a holiday, we were out of luck in getting our items off in time for last week's paper. However every day is Laboring Day with us and not Labor Day.

"Princess Helene" is a Princess Indeed

The new "Princess Helene" which has just entered the service of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company running between Saint John, N.B., and Digby, N.S. is worthy of her title in every respect. She is the last word in speed and comfort, and her accommodation, as is shown by the above pictures, compares favorably with liner-class ships. 1. A bedroom combining luxury and accommodation. 2. The observation room, with comfortable chairs and specially constructed windows to aid passengers in "seeing the sea". 3. The graceful "Princess Helene" cutting down the time between ports. 4. The dining saloon; just as roomy and up-to-date as any restaurant ashore. 5. The smokers' room; real comfort.
