NEW C.P.R. BRAKESMAN SORELY BEREAVED BY DEATH

(Walkerton Herald Times)
Mr John Wilcox, Toronto, arrived in town on Saturday as successor to W. J. Lynch, former brakeman on the C.P.R. freight out of here. The new trainman, however has been unable to go out on the regular run. Mr Wilcox, unfortunately, has been a much bereaved man during the past year. In April of last year, he suffered the loss by death of his father in Toronto. The following August a brother passed away at Owen Sound. It was while motoring in June from Toronto, in company with his devoted wife to visit this afflicted brother that his machine was crashed into at Holland Centre, near O. Sound, by the Blyth car of Varney, travelling in the opposite direction. Mrs Wilcox was seriously injured in the collision and although the attending physician limited her existence to ninety days following the mishap, the fact that she lingered, shows how accurately the physician had foretold her approaching end as it were. The bereavements, however, did not end there, for only a fortnight ago, the mother of Mr Wilcox joined in death the other members of her household and rounds out a series of sad events that but few are called upon to experience, and which have filled to overflowing the cup of sorrow of our new townsman.

The Walkerton Herald Times says Walkerton has but one blacksmith now. Once the town had 12. Every town has about the same history. Yet to-day every town has about 12 gas stations.

'CHATSWORTH SAGE' GIVEN LAST WEATHER PREDICTION

Grey County lost one of its best known men in the death last week of James B. Doves, known to Ontarians as 'The Chatsworth Sage.' When his Spring and fall predictions of weather conditions were made, critics were inclined to belittle the efforts of this 'sage.' But just the same, it was surprising, his predictions were clipped, scissored, copied and commented upon throughout Ontario. While they were not infallible, they nevertheless served as a guide-post as to future weather conditions. People governed themselves accordingly.

A man of this calibre in forecasting the weather on the earth's surface, is as unusual as he is valuable, and apart from his public life he received over his prognostications, must have derived great pleasure out of his scientific research work. No man enters that field if there is not pleasure in it for himself. It is a study that would be a benefit to each and all of us and give a more definite idea of this old world,—for it is fearfully and wonderfully made.

TORONTO UNIVERSITY'S NEW PRESIDENT

Educational circles in Ontario, and particularly of Toronto, have been commenting on the appointment of Canon H. J. Cody, of St Paul's Anglican Church, Toronto, as the new President of Toronto University, succeeding Sir Robert Falconer. That it has proved a popular appointment in many circles there is no doubt, as Canon Cody has been an outstanding man of his day in educational as well as clerical circles. He was Minister of Education in the Ontario Gov't, under the regime of Sir Wm Hearst in 1918, but on the downfall of his Government in 1919, to be succeeded by Hon. E. C. Drury, the U. F. O. leader, he resigned. Mr Drury brought pressure to bear on him to remain at his post, but to no avail. It was unfortunate that he did not do so, for the feeling of the time was that political interests were to him of most import. By his resignation after so short a period of service as Minister of Education, he suffered the loss of considerable good will from many of Ontario's citizens. It was felt that if his services were given for the good of his country, political bias would not have entered into the matter.

The University of Toronto has long outgrown its swaddling clothes and is one of the banner universities of Canada. To be appointed President of such an institution is an honor that few attain to. As an outstanding exponent of all that is highest in our citizenship, Canon Cody should worthily hold down the Presidential chair.

RAILWAY CROSSING ACCIDENTS

We hear a great deal about close shaves at railway crossings but how often do the public stop to think what these near accidents mean to the engineer and fireman on the train. The other day two speeding motorists were killed at a railway crossing near Midway, and the Walkerton Telescope brings out some surprising facts in connection with the incident. One would think that the driver and fireman of the train had had sufficient shock for some time to come. But according to the Telescope's information, no fewer than four other cars alarmed them by the manner in which they operated in close proximity to the railway right-of-way. So often is the engineer kept in suspense as to the intention of the motorist—whether the motorist is aware of the approach of the train or whether he intends to stop the motor at a safe distance from the danger line. One of the worst types is the person who fails to give any indication that he intends to slow down until he is dangerously close to the crossing. Even more insane is the driver who takes the chance of rushing across in front of a train. Even if motorists are willing to take a chance on the safety of themselves and others with them, they should "have a heart" for the nerves of those operating trains.

THEN AS NOW

Newspaper readers who have come to the conclusion that such phrases as "the depression," "Buyer's strikes," etc. were coined during the present economic slump, will be surprised to learn that the newspaper files of the Fall of 1923 show these familiar phrases were used at that time to convey to the public mind conditions as they existed. Then, as now, causes of the depression seemed to be a mys-

Durham Defeats Strongest Rivals by large Scores

During the past week, Durham's box lacrosse team has been going strong, winning here from Walkerton by 17 to 3 last Friday and by 13 to 5 from Hanover on Tuesday. As Wilmington, the other entry, is considered the weakest team of the four, Durham has bright prospects of being the Saugeen League champions. If they keep up the good work.

In Friday's game against Walkerton, Alex Graham, one of Durham's veterans, got into action and displayed his old-time shot and stick-handling. Walkerton held Durham well the first period; when the locals led 2-1 only, but afterwards were outclassed. Two of the visitors best men, they claim, were absent. Howard and Bert McDonald handled the game and no penalties were given.

The largest crowd of the season saw Hanover lose here Tuesday 5 to 13. It was a well played game, Durham leading 5-2 at half time. In the third, Durham ran wild, scoring 8 to 0, and in last period Hanover blanked Durham 3-0. As Earl McEachnie regular goalie, has taken a position with the Hydro, Durham used Frank Lake in the nets. He did well and will make a good successor. Jack Lang, Hanover, and Bob Saunders, were the officials.

Hanover—Booth, goal; Muter and S. Wendorf, defence; Wendorf, rover; Wendorf, centre; Lamont and Wedner, home.

Durham—Lake, goal; H. McDonald and Wilson, defence; Becker, rover; Murdoch, centre; E. McDonald and Graham, home; Rowe, Snider and Snell and Dean, subs.

The heavy frosts of the last few mornings are making the farmers move along with the fall work and the potatoes are hustled out of the ground, while the weather is suitable. Nothing in Black Cat Story
Some folks claim it is had luck to see a black cat, and worse if it crosses your path. After this, when Andrew Sporski, of New York, sees a black pussy, he'll just let it go that way.

Andrew was driving along the streets of New York the other day, when a black cat hove in view. Remembering all the accepted superstitions, he swerved the car to keep Kitty from crossing in front.

The car swerved too far and now Sporski is in the hospital—while the cat is still merrily crossing paths.
